Jovanović,2023-02-17 This book extends new lines of inquiry on intra and interlingual translation building on Jakobson s classification of translational relations to take into account the full complexity of language and the role of social dimensions in fostering linguistic unity and identity Jovanovi argues that intra and interlingual translation do not form a stable relationship but in fact are both contingent on how languages and their borders are defined Chapters unpack the causes and effects of this instability through the lens of Serbo Croatian literature where the impact of sociopolitical pressure on language over time can be keenly observed Drawing on work from translation studies sociolinguistics close reading distant reading and discourse analysis Jovanovi charts how linguistic fluidity where linguistic borders are challenged at both the macro and the micro level as a result of sociopolitical change in turns shapes literary and cultural circulation In its examination of the intersection of the linguistic and social in translational relations in the Serbo Croatian context the book can offer wider insights into better understanding the literary and translational landscape of analogous sociolinguistic and geographic milieus This volume will be of interest to scholars in literary translation translation theory sociology of translation comparative literature and multilingualism      Key Terms in Discourse Analysis Paul Baker, Sibonile Ellece, 2011-02-17

Pang, 2019-07-12 In 2016 the Centre for Biblical Linguistics Translation and Exegesis CBLTE a research center located at McMaster Divinity College hosted the annual Bingham Colloquium Scholars from around North America were invited to participate in a collegial and collaborative dialogue on what is currently happening or could happen at the intersection of linguistics and biblical studies particularly in regards to the linguistic study of biblical languages their translation and the way that linguistic methods can contribute to the interpretation of the biblical texts This volume of essays publishes many of the presentations that took place at the Colloquium Decentering Translation Studies Judy Wakabayashi, Rita Kothari, 2009-11-12 This book foregrounds practices and discourses of translation in several non Western traditions Translation Studies currently reflects the historiography and concerns of Anglo American and European scholars overlooking the full richness of translational activities and diverse discourses The essays in this book which generally have a historical slant help push back the geographical and conceptual boundaries of the discipline They illustrate how distinctive historical social and philosophical contexts have shaped the ways in which translational acts are defined performed viewed encouraged or suppressed in different linguistic communities The volume has a particular focus on the multiple contexts of translation in India but also encompasses translation in Korea Japan and South Africa as well as representations of Sufism in different contexts
