Where Have All the Textbooks Gone? Tony Read, 2015-07-22 This World Bank report is a rich compilation of information on teaching learning materials TLM in Africa based on the extensive and multi faceted experience of the author s work in the education sector in Africa The study examines a wide range of issues around TLM provision including curriculum literacy and numeracy language of instruction policy procurement and distribution challenges TLM development and production and their availability management and usage in schools It also looks at the role of information and communication technology ICT based TLMs and their availability The study recognizes that improved TLM system management is a critical component in achieving affordable and sustainable TLM provision for all students This study which draws from more than 40 Anglophone Francophone Lusophone and Arabic speaking countries will be particularly useful for policymakers development partners and other stakeholders attempting to understand the wide range of issues surrounding the complexity of textbook provision in Sub Saharan Africa Area Handbook for Kenya Irving Kaplan, 1976 Abolishing School Fees in Africa , 2009 Progress in literacy and learning especially through universal primary education has done more to advance human conditions than perhaps any other policy Our generation has the possibility of becoming the first generation ever to offer all children access to good quality basic education But it will only happen if we have the political commitment at the country as well as at the international level to give priority to achieve this first in human history And it will only happen if also those who cannot afford to pay school fees can benefit from a complete cycle of good quality primary education Investment in good quality fee free primary education should be a cornerstone in any government s poverty reduction strategy Kenya, a Country Study , 1982 World Yearbook of Education 1992 David Coulby, Crispin Jones, Duncan Harris, 2013-09-05 Published in the year 2005 World Yearbook of Education is a valuable contribution to the field of Major Works Kenya National Assembly Official Record (Hansard) , 1995-05-02 The official records of the proceedings of the Legislative Council of the Colony and Protectorate of Kenya the House of Representatives of the Government of Kenya and the National Assembly of the Republic of Kenya Positioning Diversity in Kenyan Schools Malve von, 2022-06-01 Education is considered key for societies to achieve greater social cohesion and equality Yet schools as the main providers of formal education have increasingly come into question concerning their role in manifesting and perpetuating social categorisations inequalities and discrimination instead of decreasing existing fragmentations and challenging power relations and hierarchies As a diverse society Kenya is faced with power struggles and rivalries between different groups for instance along ethnic lines often constructed deep in colonial history This affects teaching and learning in school and the result is that Kenya is faced with vast disparities in terms of educational access and success rendering some social groups marginalised and others favoured Positioning Diversity at Kenyan Schools explores the ways in which teachers in Kenyan primary and secondary schools experience and deal with social categorisations and diversity in terms of ethnicity gender wealth culture religion etc in their professional practice and in the current education system Using critical pedagogy and diversity theory as a lens for positioning diversity in Kenyan schools the questions that this book sets out to answer are In what ways do the teachers and schools practices lead to transformation in terms of more social equality and less discrimination In what ways do the practices manifest existing group categorisations hierarchies and discrimination How can schools and teaching practices in postcolonial Kenya become more inclusive and foster social cohesion and equality

Benefiting from Basic Education, School Quality and Functional Literacy in Kenya T. O. Eisemon,2014-06-28 Studies of the retention of literacy and numeracy by adults who have only obtained primary schooling have given little encouragement to the belief that the cognitive effects of schooling are enduring for many school leavers How these findings can be reconciled with the claims made for the importance of schooling as an instrument of social and economic change is the subject of investigation in this volume The cognitive outcomes of literacy acquisition and secular schools in coastal Kenya are the focus of this ethnographic study which stresses the relevance of an international understanding of the particular problems and dilemmas that face the educational systems of individual countries

Irvine, 2013-11-11 Against the background of NATO's Istanbul conference of 1971 Cronbach and Drenth 1972 the Kingston conference shows that great progress has been made by the community of cross cultural psychologists The progress is as much in the psychology of the investigators as in the investigations being reported In 1971 the investigators were mostly strangers to each other Behind their reports lay radically different field experiences disparate research traditions and mutually contradictory social ideals Istanbul was not a Tower of Babel but participants did speak past each other Now a community exists thanks to the meetings of NATO and the International Association for Cross Cultural Psychology to flourishing journals and the Triandis et al 1980 Handbook The members tend to know each other can anticipate how their formulations will fall on the ears of others and accept superficially divergent approaches as making up a collective enterprise Ten years ago there was open conflict between those who confronted exotic peoples with traditional tests and applied traditional interpretations to the responses and the relativists who insisted that tasks test taking and interpretation cannot be standardized in the ways that matter Today's investigators are conscious of the need to revalidate tasks carried into alien settings they often prefer to redesign the mode of presentation and to attune the subject to test taking They face the difficulties squarely and recognize that even the best means of coping are only partially successful

Computers in Third-World Schools David Hawkrige, John Jaworski, Harry McMahon, 2016-07-27 The reasons why governments of developing countries should put computer technology in their schools are highly controversial but no less than the actual use being made of these comparatively expensive machines and their software This book looks at experience in African Asian and Arabic speaking countries that already have computers in some of their schools It is based mainly on research in China Jordan Kenya Mauritius Sri Lanka and Tunisia The authors debate policy and practice in the light of experience to date They identify the rationales commonly deployed by Ministries of Education and international agencies but argue themselves for a long term view of the potential of computers to liberalise education and through such education to reduce dependency and inequity World Survey of Education, 1966
