collection of essays that blend the personal and the social from the celebrated literary critic and novelist In these twenty five essays Darryl Pinckney has given us a view of our recent racial history that blends the social and the personal and wonders how we arrived at our current moment Pinckney reminds us that white supremacy isn't back it never went away It is this impulse to see historically that is at the core of Busted in New York and Other Essays which traces the lineage of black intellectual history from Booker T Washington through the Harlem Renaissance to the Black Panther Party and the turbulent sixties to today's Afro pessimists and celebrated and neglected thinkers in between These are capacious essays whose topics range from the grassroots of protest in Ferguson Missouri to the eighteenth century Guadeloupian composer Joseph Bologne from an unsparing portrait of Louis Farrakhan to the enduring legacy of James Baldwin the unexpected story of black people experiencing Russia Barry Jenkins's Moonlight and the painter Kara Walker The essays themselves are a kind of record many of them written in real time as Pinckney witnesses the Million Man March feels and experiences the highs and lows of Obama's first presidential campaign explores the literary black diaspora and reflects on the surprising and severe lesson he learned firsthand about the changing urban fabric of New York As Zadie Smith writes in her introduction to the book How lucky we are to have Darryl Pinckney who without rancor without insult has all these years been taking down our various songs examining them with love and care and bringing them back from the past like a Sankofa bird for our present examination These days Sankofas like Darryl are rare Treasure him Kerry James Marshall ,2018 The Art of Return James Meyer,2019-09-11 More than any other decade the sixties capture our collective cultural imagination And while many Americans can immediately imagine the sound of Martin Luther King Jr declaring I have a dream or envision hippies placing flowers in gun barrels the revolutionary sixties resonates around the world China s communist government inaugurated a new cultural era African nations won independence from colonial rule and students across Europe took to the streets calling for an end to capitalism imperialism and the Vietnam War In this innovative work James Meyer turns to art criticism theory memoir and fiction to examine the fascination with the long sixties and contemporary expressions of these cultural memories across the globe Meyer draws on a diverse range of cultural objects that reimagine this revolutionary era stretching from the 1950s to the 1970s including reenactments of civil rights antiwar and feminist marches paintings sculptures photographs novels and films Many of these works were created by artists and writers born during the long Sixties who were driven to understand a monumental era that they missed These cases show us that the past becomes significant only in relation to our present and our remembered history never perfectly replicates time past This Meyer argues is precisely what makes our contemporary attachment to the past so important it provides us a critical opportunity to examine our own relationship to history memory and nostalgia The Routledge Companion to African American Art History Eddie Chambers,2019-11-12 This Companion authoritatively points to the main areas of enquiry within the subject of African American art history The first section examines how African American art has been constructed over the course of a century of published scholarship The second section studies how African American art is and has been taught and researched in academia The third part focuses on how African American art has been reflected in art galleries and museums The final section opens up understandings of what we mean when we speak of African American art This book will be of interest to graduate students researchers and professors and may be used in American art African American art visual culture and culture classes Skin Color and Whiteness in Contemporary Art Helen Westgeest,2025-04-29 This study demonstrates the significance of using contemporary art in scholarly debates about cultural aspects of skin in particular whiteness as a phenomenon that is both overly visible and invisible There is a need for a study of these artists strategies which consist of drawing attention to whiteness by means of making whiteness strange through alternative visibilities By increasing skin awareness the selected socio critical artworks also pertain to fostering visual literacy as another important contemporary concern Chapters mainly focus on recent artworks that address ongoing skin related debates in countries in Europe and North America rooted in histories of ideology of white supremacy Moreover these artworks critically reflect on the alleged superiority of the history of Western European painting including a focus on the representation of pale skin as model of beauty The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history race and ethnicity studies and cultural studies

Garden State Daniel Birnbaum, Horst Bredekamp, William Forsythe, Douglas Gordon, Sanford Kwinter, Louise Neri, Philippe Pirotte, Tobias Rehberger, Mark Wigley, 2016-10-01 GARDEN STATE Cinematic Space and Choreographic Time is the third issue of the SAC JOURNAL and explores the garden as a utopia wherein time and space may be thought of in architectural terms yet not easily deciphered against architecture's traditions and practices The garden herein is a changeable and vulnerable condition embodying the ephemerality of life which in turn contrasts with the customary expectations of architecture's longevity However Garden State also engages with the contemporary arts specifically video cinema and ballet and with it time and space open up with new fragile dimensions A choreographic framework emerges which is at once more precise yet loose more responsive yet open than that space architecture normally engenders Choreographed movement differs from that prescribed by the calculable paths so often invoked in the spatial syntax of latter day architecture The garden emerges as a state in all its social glory a realm that we already occupy but perhaps never can own Contributors to this issue include Daniel Birnbaum Horst Bredekamp William Forsythe Hu Fang Douglas Gordon Damjan Jovanovic Sanford Kwinter Philippe Pirotte Louise Neri Tobias Rehberger Julia Voss Mark Wigley and Johan Bettum Also included are the three finalist projects for 2014 SAC AIV Master Thesis Prize

Slow Painting Helen Westgeest, 2020-10-29 The abundance of images in our everyday lives and the speed at which they are consumed seems to have left us unable to critique them To rectify this situation artists such as Daniel Richter Jaune Quick to See Smith and Artur Zmijewski have demonstrated that painting is brilliantly equipped to produce slow images that enable encourage and reward reflection In this book Helen Westgeest attempts to understand how various forms of slow painting can be used as tools to interrogate the visual mediations we encounter daily Painting was expected to disappear in the digital age but through interactive painting performances and painting like manipulated photographs and videos Westgeest shows how photography video and new media art have themselves developed the visual strategies that painting had already mastered Moreover the fleeting nature of digital mass media appears to have unlocked a desire for more physically stable and enduring pictures like paintings Slow Painting charts how in a world where the constant quest for speed can leave us exhausted the appeal of this slower medium has only grown
