The Spirit and the Common Good Daniela C. Augustine, 2019-09-12 A fresh vision of the common good through pneumatological lenses Daniela C Augustine a brilliant emerging scholar offers a theological ethic for the common good Augustine develops a public theology from a theological vision of creation as the household of the Triune God bearing the image of God in a mutual sharing of divine love and justice and as a sacrament of the divine presence The Spirit and the Common Good expounds upon the application of this vision not only within the life of the church but also to the realm of politics economics and care for creation The church serves a priestly and prophetic function for society indeed for all of creation This renewed vision becomes the foundation for constructing a theological ethic of planetary flourishing in and through commitment to a sustainable communal praxis of a shared future with the other and the different While emphatically theological in its approach The Spirit and the Common Good engages readers with insights from political philosophy sociology of religion economics and ecology as well as forgiveness reconciliation and peacebuilding studies

In Kierkegaard's Garden with the Poppy Blooms Chris Boesel, 2021-07-27 Chris Boesel invites readers into a Kierkegaardian style literary conceit creating two pseudonymous voices one philosophical and deconstructive one theological and confessional in order to stage an encounter between two commentaries on Kierkegaard's Fear and Trembling On one level the contest between the two commentaries demonstrates the extent to which an encounter between deconstruction and Kierkegaard has not taken place in the one place everyone thinks it has in Derrida's reading of Fear and Trembling in The Gift of Death On a deeper level Boesel argues that Derrida's misreading of Fear and Trembling is both source and symptom of a wider problem an apophatic blind spot in deconstructive engagements with Christian theology in philosophy of religion and postmodern theology This blind spot erases the theological and ethical possibilities of what Boesel calls a Kierkegaardian confessional faith possibilities rooted in a deconstructive deconstructibility that produces its own deconstructive like effects As a corrective to this blind spot the encounter between deconstruction and Kierkegaard staged here shows how these effects do the very things heralded by self-proclaimed apophatic remedies of confessional faith disrupt human mastery over God and neighbor while calling for concrete commitments to justice for the widow orphan and stranger

Morally and Otherwise Right Lives, Education and Upbringing Kym Farrand, 2016-04-01 Morally and Otherwise Right Lives Education and Upbringing proposes a new theory concerning values This is argued to be a rationally justified evidence based theory It has one universally applicable general value under which come many specific values e g non sexism The book discusses practical applications of these values to life generally especially to morality education and other upbringing In doing so and because this education covers all areas the book also discusses politics society law peace studies health care ethics economics philosophy gender issues sexuality sexism racism environmental issues animal rights natural and social science psychology religion art music literature media and much more Applications include advocating extensive freedoms and types of democracy fairness justice equality rights responsibilities flourishing happiness and unselfish universal benevolence Emotions are argued to be important Alternative theories are criticised They are argued to lack evidence The book discusses problems with evidence one conclusion being that the theory needs to be self critical and sometimes skeptical concerning its details

Intersections of Sport and Society in Creative Writing Lee McGowan, Kasey Symons, 2023-11-18 This edited collection is positioned at the nexus of sports society and creative writing In its explorations of the intersections of sports writing analysis of literary contributions and examinations of craft it offers rare consideration of a rich diversity of form in narratives that occur in and as creative practice Included in the collection are dynamic academic investigations into football writing and poetry focused on community sporting activities in Afghanistan to those addressing the intersections of writing and boxing in the reflexive reclamation of the post trauma self the absence of women in the rodeo and who and what is represented in our sports shelves This book breaks new ground in approaches to sport s role in creative writing and what creative writing can provide in furthering our understanding of sport in society The works in this edited book draw on a diverse range of methods to interrogate the processes concepts and liminal spaces through an intersectional array of voices offering analysis and insight into the application of creative writing knowledge and practice in relation to sport and its impact on wider discipline discussion and research It is relevant to students and scholars studying and researching creative writing sports writing sports studies cultural studies and sports media studies

Luther after Derrida Marisa Strizzi, 2023-04-15 This book creatively engages Martin Luther s theology and Jacques Derrida s deconstruction in a systematic theological enterprise Guided by the general question of how to think about theology in postmodern times within a given tradition Marisa Strizzi meticulously follows deconstruction at work focusing on distinctive theological elaborations She argues that Luther s theology has a significant deconstructive drive and through the thorough reading of texts illustrates the ways in which such theology is interactive with the thought of Derrida Intersections echoes and mirrors allow a happy exchange in which the vital theological topics of Luther meet key deconstructive motifs Thus the cross the Deus absconditus scriptura fides gratia and Christo encounter khora critique the gift faith the messianic and autoimmune sovereignty Strizzi solidly sustains that the deconstructive reading of theological traditions proves to be a critical constructive way of honoring them

Practical Guide to Security Engineering and Information Assurance Debra S. Herrmann, 2001-10-18 Today the vast majority of the world's information resides in is derived from and is exchanged among multiple automated systems Critical decisions are made and critical action is taken based on information from these systems Therefore the information must be accurate correct and timely and be manipulated stored retrieved and exchanged s The Post/Colonial Museum Anna Brus, Michi Knecht, Martin Zillinger, 2022-03-15 The African museum landscape is changing A new generation of scholars and curators is setting international standards for the reappraisal and revision of colonial collections the conception of curatorial spaces and the integration of new groups of actors In the face of the ghostly survival of colonial epistemologies in archives displays and architectures it is a matter of breaking up institutional encrustations and infrastructures inventing new museum practices and bringing archives to life Scholars and museum experts predominantly working in Africa and South America discuss the post colonial history of museums their political economic entanglements the significance of diasporic objects as well as the prospects for restitution and its consequences The contributions to this issue of ZfK are all presented in English Based on the works of Waverly Duck and Anne Rawls the debate section is devoted to forms of everyday racism and the way interaction orders of race are institutionalized On Practicing Diversity Maddy Janssens, Chris Steyaert, 2025-05-15 How can diversity be practiced without reinforcing the very inequalities it aims to dismantle In this book Maddy Janssens and Chris Steyaert address this pressing question by critically examining the assumptions behind current diversity initiatives and turning to critical practice theory and queer theory for novel insights Through imaginative concepts inspiring illustrations and an integrative case study within the dance world the authors articulate the conditions of possibility for a fresh impactful alternative This book advocates for a shift from individual efforts to collective practices proposing a politics of organizational worldmaking oriented at multiplicity a practicing of diversity that aspires to transformative change into livable and just work lives Healing Movements Megan S. Raschig, 2024-06-04 How women and men involved in a grassroots abolitionist project of cultural healing counter the carceral state and build otherwise in a Chicana community in California Jacques Lacan and Feminist Epistemology Kirsten Campbell, 2004-07-31 This book outlines a compelling new agenda for feminist theories of identity and social relations Using Lacanian psychoanalysis with feminist epistemology the author sets out a groundbreaking psychoanalytic social theory Campbell's work offers answers to the important contemporary question of how feminism can change the formation of gendered subjectivities and social relations Drawing on the work of third wave feminists the book shows how feminism can provide new political models of knowing and disrupt foundational ideas of sexual identity Kirsten Campbell engages the reader with an original interpretation of Lacanian psychoanalysis and offers a compelling argument for a fresh commitment to the politics of feminism Jacques Lacan and Feminist Epistemology will be essential reading for anyone with interests in gender studies cultural studies psychoanalytic studies or social and political theory

Law in Civil Society Richard Dien Winfield, 1995 Law in Civil Society advances a new and comprehensive theory of how legal institutions should be reformed to uphold the property family and economic rights of individuals in civil society In so doing it offers a powerful challenge to the dominant legal theories and practices espoused by liberalism positivism natural law and critical legal thought Winfield argues against the prevailing assumptions of legal philosophers who dogmatically embrace formal or historical conceptions of law True law he contends must be constructed within the context of the different spheres of rights and ultimately can only exist within a civil society committed to self determination and community Working from these fundamental premises he analyzes in detail a rich array of important legal issues fair access to legal representation the rationale for jury trials appropriate distinctions between civil and criminal legal procedures the controversies pitting common law versus codification and adversarial versus inquisitorial systems of trial and the relationship between civil society and the state Much inspired by Hegel's Philosophy of Right Winfield's study offers the most convincing critique yet of that renowned philosopher's work and in the process provides a more complete and coherent conception of law than Hegel himself articulated Provocative and highly instructive the book should attract scholars teachers and students in legal and political philosophy and anyone else with an abiding interest in the foundations of Western law
