Shakespeare Scholars in Conversation Michael P. Jensen,2019-07-29 Twenty four of today s most prominent Shakespeare scholars discuss the best known works in Shakespeare studies along with some nearly forgotten classics that deserve fresh appraisal

An extensive bibliography provides a reading list of the most important works in the field A filmography then lists the most important Shakespeare films along with the films that influenced Shakespeare filmmakers Interviewees include Sir Stanley Wells Sir Jonathan Bate Sir Brian Vickers Ann Thompson Virginia Mason Vaughan George T Wright Lukas Erne MacDonald P Jackson Peter Holland James Shapiro Katherine Duncan Jones and Barbara Hodgdon Maya Christian Murals of Early Modern Yucatán Amara Solari,Linda K. Williams,2024 This multidisciplinary project studies religious murals that were painted by Christianized Maya artists in the first centuries after the conquest of Mexico Solari and Williams study the paintings all of which are based in the Yucatán Peninsula from an art history perspective along with the printed sources referencing the murals At the same time they examine the chemical signatures left by the murals pigments and the techniques used in their production through state of the art imaging technologies By using these methodologies the authors seek to explain the many ways in which cultural and material exchange took place between the Spanish and Maya peoples At first glance murals depicting Spanish ideals of Western Christianity would appear to be an obvious and frequent tool of oppression in the Yucatán as they were elsewhere in the Americas but they were also a form of agency for Indigenous people as a means to shape these narratives with their own subtle imagery and ideas drawn from Mayan cosmologies and cultural traditions These painters used European pictorial techniques such as perspective while also using local materials to create vivid pigments and colors never before seen in murals in Europe The authors seek to trace how the initial and continued use of these material sources to create these images led to a much more localized form of Catholicism that continues to be practiced by Mayan speakers today

The Ethics of Neoliberalism Peter Bloom,2017-06-26 The 21st century is the age of neo liberalism a time when the free market is spreading to all areas of economic political and social life Yet how is this changing our individual and collective ethics Is capitalism also becoming our new morality From the growing popular demand for corporate social responsibility to personal desire for work life balance it would appear that non market ideals are not only surviving but also thriving Why then does it seem that capitalism remains as strong as ever The Ethics of Neoliberalism boldly proposes that neoliberalism strategically co opts traditional ethics to ideologically and structurally strengthen capitalism It produces the ethical capitalist subject who is personally responsible for making their society workplace and even their lives more ethical in the face of an immoral but seemingly permanent free market Rather than altering our morality neoliberalism individualizes ethics making us personally responsible for dealing with and resolving its moral failings In doing so individuals end up perpetuating the very market system that they morally oppose and feel powerless to ultimately change This analysis reveals the complex and paradoxical way capitalism is currently shaping us as ethical subjects People are increasingly asked to ethically save capitalism both collectively and personally This can range from the moral responsibility to politically accept austerity following the financial crisis to the willingness of employees to sacrifice their time and energy to make their neoliberal organizations more humane to the efforts by individuals to contribute to their family and communities despite the pressures of a frantic global business environment Neoliberalism thus uses our ethics against us relying on our good nature and sense of personal responsibility to reduce its human cost in practice Ironically

Transformation Processes in Europe and Beyond Florian Weber, Olaf Kühne, Julia Dittel, 2024-07-05 Europe and the world in all their diversity and complexity have always been and continue to be in a state of change Recent geo political environmental social and economic developments demonstrate a world in constant flux These ever changing framework conditions require corresponding transformations in many different structures This anthology takes these observations as a starting point to illuminate theoretical perspectives methodological approaches and empirical insights related to recent transformation processes in Europe and beyond with a special focus in this respect on the USA In view of their comprehensive nature transformation processes cannot be analysed from a single perspective a uniform approach or theory would fail to address their complexity and contingency In this sense horizontal geographies serves as our theoretical framework The concept refers to comprehensive synthesizing regional analyses which collect structure and reflect on knowledge with diverse spatial social and cultural contexts The interdisciplinary and international authorship does justice to the idea of horizontal multi perspective geographies and considers a wide range of transformation processes in Europe and beyond
