

Figure 1 is a schematic diagram showing the relationship between the different components of the system. The diagram illustrates the flow of information from the user to the system, and the resulting output. The user interacts with the system through a series of steps, which are represented by the numbered boxes. The system then processes this information and produces a final output, which is shown in the last box. The diagram also includes a feedback loop, which allows the user to adjust the system based on the results.
