Healing Corrections The Future Of Imprisonment:

Healing Corrections Chris Innes, 2015-05-22 Unlike critics who see the organizational cultures of prisons jails and community correction agencies as a problem that needs to be fixed with simple sounding reforms Chris Innes argues instead that these types of organizational cultures are adaptive and a source of strength that can be used to genuinely transform them He shows how operational priorities including safety and security become much more difficult to sustain when organizational cultures become fragmented into disconnected subcultures To transform an organizational culture he argues this fragmentation must be healed by changing the patterns of communication that make up the day to day reality of an organization's culture Innes advocates an innovative approach based on the skills and practices of dialogue He describes in detail how Dialogic Practice can be used to transform organizational cultures through an implementation process that begins with the leadership and cascades through the organization as an expanding circle as staff are trained and become engaged in the process Innes draws upon the research and policy literature in several fields the contemporary national debate on the role of the justice system in American society and his own experience during the last forty years in correctional research and policy and in working directly with correctional agencies This innovative approach to transforming organizational cultures will interest correctional decision makers administrators researchers and graduate students in criminal justice advocates and others who manage mission driven human services organizations

Parole Futures Harry Annison, Nicola Carr, Thomas Guiney, 2025-07-10 Does parole have a future If it does can we begin to imagine a different path Is progressive penal reform possible or has the time come to consider more radical alternatives in a context where there is little if any consensus on the underlying aims and techniques of contemporary prison release What does this all mean for the prisoners families victims and publics upon whose confidence the parole system ultimately depends This book brings together a world leading panel of 27 experts who draw upon insights from law sociology criminology and political science to explore these pressing questions At a time when many parole systems are experiencing considerable strain the aims of this collection are twofold first to encourage systematic and critical reflection on the rationalities institutions and practices of parole Second to think big and pose ambitious what if questions about the possible futures of parole and prison release Offering novel insights from Asia Australia Europe North America and South America this collection builds the case for and then showcases a way of doing parole research that is global in outlook interdisciplinary in approach and unapologetically normative in character

Prisons 2000 Peter Francis, Roger Matthews, 1996-07-13 A collection of original articles from a number of the world's leading authorities on imprisonment The aim of the book is to review the current state of imprisonment around the world and to look at possible future developments The underlying theme of the book is that imprisonment is undergoing a significant change in a number of different countries and that there are important lessons which can be learned from the analysis of these changes At the same time this book is perceived as a state of the art collection which provides an informed and comprehensive analysis of the major aspects of imprisonment Consequently the book should be of interest to a wide ranging international audience of academic researchers and policy makers as well as students Harsh Punishment Sandy Cook,Susanne Davies,1999-12-22 A pioneering collection of personal accounts from criminal justice scholars practitioners and activists and from current and former prisoners themselves Feminist Theories of Crime Merry Morash,2017-07-05 This collection re imagines the field of criminology with insights gleaned from feminist theory Works included here illustrate that gender is a key organizing principle of social life This means that men and women have gender that patriarchy as well as gender must be theorized and that other systems of oppression such as race and class must also be studied to fully understand the crime problem and the criminal justice system Finally the articles collected here exemplify the feminist concern for thinking consciously about how and why we do our research with the crucial goal of producing knowledge that will promote social justice The Ethic of Traditional Communities and the Spirit of Healing Justice Jarem Sawatsky,2009-01-15 What is healing justice Who practices it What does it look like In this groundbreaking international comparative study on healing justice Jarem Sawatsky examines traditional communities including Hollow Water an Aboriginal and M tis community in Canada renowned for their holistic healing work in the face of 80 per cent sexual abuse rates the Iona Community a dispersed Christian ecumenical community in Scotland known for their work towards peace healing and social justice rebuilding of community and the renewal of worship and Plum Village a Vietnamese initiated Buddhist community in southern France and home to Nobel Peace Prize nominated author Thich Nhat Hanh These case studies record a search for the kind of social structural and spiritual relationships necessary to sustain a healing view of justice Through comparing cases Sawatsky identifies the common patterns themes and imagination which these communities share These commonalities among those that practice healing justice are then examined for their implications for wider society particularly for restorative justice and criminal justice This innovative book is accessible to those new to the topic while at the same time being beneficial to experienced researchers and will appeal internationally to practitioners students and anyone interested in restorative justice law peace building and religious studies Handbook on Prisons and Jails Danielle Rudes,Gaylene Armstrong,Kimberly Kras,TaLisa Carter,2023-09-26 The Handbook on Prisons and Jails brings together some of the brightest scholars and thinkers in the field to offer a wide range of perspectives for understanding the experiences of persons incarcerated or working volunteering within carceral institutions The assembled chapters consider what is known in the area while identifying emerging areas for theoretical empirical and policy work The volume includes contributions on numerous topics and areas related to penal control containment living and or working in carceral institutions and addresses methodological considerations for doing research with individuals incarcerated in jail or prison This collection is essential reading for scholars and students seeking an up to date guide to contemporary issues facing corrections and sentencing It also provides practitioners with valuable resources for developing socially informed policies and practices An Ideal Prison? Kelly Hannah-Moffat, Margaret Shaw, 2021-01-10T00:00:00Z Ten years after the publication of Creating Choices a remarkable report on women's imprisonment in Canada this book sets out to reflect on attempts to reform prison In a series of critical essays the contributors stimulate reflection and discussion They explore the effects of punishment and penalty on women's lives the impact of feminist reforms on the lives of women in prison and the systemic barriers which limit change in the context of both provincial and federal prisons Each of the authors has a personal and sometimes intimate knowledge of the recent history of women's prisons in Canada Taking Creating Choices as a starting point these essays question the role of prisons in our society the importance of taking account of gender and its intersection with race and class and the problems of both weak feminist models and the co-optation of feminist ideals and Aboriginal spirituality by correctional systems Imprisonment Roger Matthews, 1999 The International library of Criminology Criminal Justice and Penology is an important publishing initiative that brings together the most significant contemporary published journal essays in current criminology criminal justice and penology When Texas Prison Scams Religion Michael G. Maness, 2023-05-22 When Texas Prison Scams Religion exposes corruption in the Texas Department of Criminal Justice especially in the abuse of religion In many ways this book is a literature review of 1 800 plus works that defends freedom of conscience in prison while exposing the unconstitutionality of the seminary program that buys faith with favor from prisoners The state veritably ordains the prisoner a Field Minister that represents the offices of the Governor TDCJ Director and wardens throughout the prison Therein TDCJ lies about neutrality in a program all about Christian missions and lies again in falsely certifying elementary Bible students as counselors Why is the director sponsoring psychopaths counseling psychopaths In fact TDCJ pays 314 million a year to UTMB for psychiatric care and receives not a single report of the care given and worse for UTMB generates no reports itself The underbelly TDCJ's executive culture of cover up is exposed TDCJ has hired the lowest qualified of the applicant pool many times in the last 25 years and regularly destroys statistics on violence TDCJ Dir Collier led the prison to model Louisiana Warden Burl Cain the most scandal ridden in penal history according to a host of published news stories for 20 years Therein Collier led TDCJ to favor the smallest segment of religious society within Evangelical Dominionism Texas has no business endorsing the truth of any religion over another We close with a proposal that utilizes the 400 000 000 hours of officer contact over ten years as a definitive influence in contrast to a commissioner that spends less than 10 minutes on each decision Maness has been lobbying Austin for 15 years to definitively access staff for his 100 000 Mothers 1% Certainty Parole Texas Constitutional Amendment which would revolutionize prison culture and save Texans millions of the dollars Kim Workman: Journey Towards Justice Kim Workman, 2018 Life is nothing more than a collection of stories but within those stories there are threads of meaning that over a seventy year journey make sense of one human life Kim Workman grew up in the Wairarapa son of a Pkeh mother and Mori father His whakapapa comes from Ng ti Kahungunu and Rangit ne P p wai Marae near Greytown is the place to which he always returns Jazz musician policeman public servant prison manager prominent campaigner for restorative justice Kim's life is full of passion and spirit research and writing action and commitment His childhood was shaped by life in a country town by family and Māori community somewhat by school and rather more by playing jazz Working as a police officer in the 1960s prompted his engagement with justice reform and brought into sharp relief the racism that he has challenged throughout his working life His career in prison management strengthened his commitment to prisoners welfare Kim's visionary work in justice reform began when he became director of Prison Fellowship New Zealand and ultimately found expression in the Rethinking Crime and Punishment project and in supporting the activist group JustSpeak His thinking draws on both his Christian faith and his Māori heritage he was instrumental in establishing one of the first faith based prison units and his understanding of restorative justice draws strongly on Māori customary practice Journey Towards Justice is an eloquent account of a life that is at once ordinary and exceptional told with warmth and honesty There are dark moments and hilarious ones achievements and failures Above all there is love compassion vision and a profound determination to bring justice to all

The Imprisonment of African American Women Catherine Fisher Collins,1997-01-01 The plight of imprisoned African American women is detailed in this study It is apparent that the nation's prison systems are ill equipped to meet the basic needs of the ever growing female population and that government has done very little to address the underlying causes of crime Child care medical conditions the historical plight of incarcerated African American women alternatives to prisons and future trends are also covered The primary research is supported by the author's survey of prison populations Handbook on Inequalities in Sentencing and Corrections among Marginalized Populations Eileen M. Ahlin,Ojmarrh Mitchell,Cassandra A. Atkin-Plunk,2022-10-11 The Handbook on Inequalities in Sentencing and Corrections among Marginalized Populations offers state of the art volumes on seminal and topical issues that span the fields of sentencing and corrections The volume is a comprehensive and fresh approach to examining sentencing and community and institutional corrections The book includes empirical and theoretical essays and recent developments on the pressing concerns of persons of traditionally non privileged statuses including racial and ethnic minorities indigenous populations gender immigrant status LGBTQ transgender disability aging veterans and other marginalized statuses The handbook considers a wide range of perspectives for understanding the experiences of persons who identify as a member of a traditionally marginalized group This volume aims to help scholars and graduate students by providing an up to date guide to contemporary issues facing corrections and sentencing It will also assist practitioners with resources for developing socially informed policies and practices This collection of essays contributes to the knowledge base by summarizing what is known in each area and identifying emerging areas for theoretical empirical and policy work This is Volume 7 of The ASC Division on Corrections and Sentencing Handbook Series The handbooks provide in depth coverage of seminal and topical issues around sentencing and corrections for scholars students practitioners and policymakers Music-Making in U.S. Prisons Mary L. Cohen,Stuart P. Duncan,2022-11-08 The U S incarceration machine imprisons more people than in any other country Music Making in U S Prisons looks at the role music making can play in achieving goals of accountability and healing that challenge the widespread assumption that prisons and punishment keep societies safe The book s synthesis of historical research contemporary practices and pedagogies of music making inside prisons reveals that prior to the 1970s tough on crime era choirs instrumental ensembles and radio shows bridged lives inside and outside prisons Mass incarceration had a significant negative impact on music programs Despite this setback current programs testify to the potency of music education to support personal and social growth for people experiencing incarceration and deepen social awareness of the humanity found behind prison walls Cohen and Duncan argue that music making creates opportunities to humanize the complexity of crime sustain meaningful relationships between incarcerated individuals and their families and build social awareness of the prison industrial complex The authors combine scholarship and personal experience to guide music educators music aficionados and social activists to create restorative social practices through music making
