Improving Maternal and Reproductive Health in South Asia Sameh El-Saharty,Sadia Chowdhury,Naoko Ohno,Intissar Sarker,2016-11-29 South Asia Region SAR has decreased maternal mortality ratio MMR by 65 percent between 1990 and 2013 which was the greatest progress among all world regions Such achievement implores the question What made SAR

stand out against what is predicted by standard socioeconomic outcomes Improving Maternal and Reproductive Health in South Asia Drivers and Enablers identifies the interventions and factors that contributed to reducing MMR and improving maternal and reproductive health MRH outcomes in SAR In this study the analytical framework assumes that improving MRH outcomes is influenced by a multitude of forces from within and outside the health system and considers factors at the household and community levels as well as interventions in other sectors and factors in the enabling environment The analysis is based on a structured literature review of the interventions in SAR countries relevant international experience and review of the best available evidence from systematic reviews The focus of the analysis is mainly on assessing the effectiveness of interventions The findings from this study indicate that the most effective interventions that prevent maternal mortality are those that address the intra partum stage the point where most maternal deaths occur and include improving skilled birth attendance coverage increasing institutional delivery rates and scaling up access to emergency obstetric care There is also adequate evidence that investing in family planning to increase contraceptive use also played a key role during the inter partum phase by preventing unwanted pregnancies and thus averting the risk of maternal mortality in SAR countries Outside the programmatic interventions the levels of household income women s education and completion of secondary education of girls were also strongly correlated with improved MRH outcomes Also there is strong evidence that health financing schemes both demand and supply side and conditional cash transfer programs were effective in increasing the uptake of MRH services The study points out to many other interventions with different degrees of effectiveness The study also identified four major reasons for why SAR achieved this progress in MMR reduction The best practices and evidence of what works synthesized in this study provide an important way forward for low and middle income countries toward achieving the health related Sustainable Development Goals Normative Health Economics S. Mak,2006-12-06 This book modifies the existing economic theory of health analysis by integrating the issues and principles of moral philosophy in an extended framework It also develops some operational mathematical models to show how this framework can be applied to health economics and policy evaluation A Practical Approach to Pharmaceutical Policy

Andreas Seiter,2010-06-17 This book offers policy makers a hands on approach tested in the World Bank s field work in many countries for developing policies that improve access to safe effective medicines in health systems of low and middle income economies Challenging Health Economics Gavin Mooney,2009-01-22 This book mounts a critique of current health economics arguing it has been too dominated by the economics of health care and has largely ignored the impact of poverty inequality and lack of education on health The author proposes a form of collective decision making through communitarianism as a basis for a new paradigm Implementation of Casemix System as Prospective Provider Payment Method in Social Health Insurance: a Case Study of Aceh Provincial Health Insurance Prof Dr Syed

Mohamed Aljunid,Dr Irwan Saputra,2022-11-20 The Government of Aceh Province in Indonesia has established the Social Health Insurance SHI called Jaminan Kesehatan Aceh JKA in 2006 that provide health coverage to all 4.6 million population of the province. Fee for service was initially used as the provider payment method in the programme until 2013. In 2014, in line with the National Health Insurance of Indonesia Jaminan Kesehatan Nasional JKN INA CBG Indonesia Case Based Group casemix system was adopted by JKA to replace the Fee for Service method. This book presents outcome of the evaluation done using a combination of qualitative and quantitative methods on the implementation of JKA programme. The quantitative study was conducted to assess income of three selected hospitals Type B, C and D reimbursed using INA CBG groups covering more than 17,000 cases. Quantitative data analysis revealed that overall the hospitals received 32.4% higher income when reimbursed with casemix system INA CBG as compared to fee for service. Type D hospital is the biggest gainer with 81.0% increase in income. In conclusion, the use of Casemix INA CBG as a prospective payment method has benefitted the hospitals a lot. It is hoped that additional resources gained through this programme will allow the hospitals to provide optimum care to the population.

Encyclopedia of Health Services Research Ross M. Mullner, 2009-05-15. Today as never before healthcare has the ability to enhance the quality and duration of life. At the same time healthcare has become so costly that it can easily bankrupt governments and impoverish individuals and families. Health services research is a highly multidisciplinary field including such areas as health administration, health economics, medical sociology, medicine, political science, public health and public policy. The Encyclopedia of Health Services Research is the first single reference source to capture the diversity and complexity of the field. With more than 400 entries, these two volumes investigate the relationship between the factors of cost, quality and access to healthcare and their impact upon medical outcomes such as death, disability, disease, discomfort and dissatisfaction with care. Key Features: Examines the growing healthcare crisis facing the United States; Encompasses the structure, process and outcomes of healthcare; Aims to improve the equity, efficiency, effectiveness and safety of healthcare by influencing and developing public policies; Describes healthcare systems and issues from around the globe. Key Themes: Access to Care, Accreditation, Associations, Foundations and Research Organizations, Biographies of Current and Past Leaders, Cost of Care, Economics, Finance and Payment Mechanisms, Disease, Disability, Health and Health Behavior, Government and International Healthcare Organizations, Health Insurance, Health Professionals and Healthcare Organizations, Health Services Research, Laws, Regulations and Ethics, Measurement Data Sources and Coding and Research Methods, Outcomes of Care, Policy Issues, Healthcare Reform and International Comparisons, Public Health, Quality and Safety of Care, Special and Vulnerable Groups. The Encyclopedia is designed to be an introduction to the various topics of health services research for an audience including undergraduate students, graduate students and general readers seeking non technical descriptions of the field and its practices. It is also useful for healthcare practitioners wishing to stay abreast of the changes and updates in the field.
