NeoArchitecture series. CJ Lim Studio 8 explores the avant-garde world of CJ Lim. Fiercely British but ever mindful of his Asian roots, CJ Lim's architecture explores the fusion of Eastern values and Western popular cultures, resulting in an eccentric and fun approach. The Optic of the State Jens Andermann, 2007-09-02. The Optic of the State traces the production of nationalist imaginaries through the public visual representation of modern state formation in Brazil and Argentina. As Jens Andermann reveals, the foundational visions of national heritage, territory, and social and ethnic composition were conceived and implemented but also disputed and contested in a complex interplay between government, cultural, and scientific institutions and actors as a means of propagating political agendas and power throughout the emerging states. The purpose of these imaginaries was to vindicate the political upheavals of the recent past and secure the viability of the newly independent states through a sense of historic destiny and inevitable evolution. The careful presentation of artifacts and spectacles was also aimed abroad in order to win the favor of European imperial powers and thereby acquire a competitive place in the nascent global economy of the late nineteenth century. The Optic of the State offers a fascinating critique of the visual aspects of national mythology. It exposes how scientific and cultural institutions inscribed the state form in time and space, thus presenting historical processes as natural givens. Tradeswomen, 1993. Interaction Design

Jamie Steane, Joyce Yee, 2018-01-25. Interaction Design explores common pitfalls, effective workflows, and innovative development techniques in contemporary interaction design by tracking projects from initial idea to the critical and commercial reception of the finished project. The book is divided into six chapters, each focusing on different aspects of the interaction design industry. Exploring design projects from around the world, the authors include examples of the processes and creative decisions behind apps, games, and websites; responsive branding; complex large-scale services; interactive museum installations; targeted promotions; digital products which influence real-world situations. Each case study includes behind-the-scenes development, design work, interviews with key creatives, and workshop projects to help you start implementing the techniques and working practices discussed in your own interaction design projects. From immersive tourist experiences to apps which make day-to-day life easier, the detailed coverage of the design process shows how strategists, creatives, and technologists are working with interactive technologies to create the engaging projects of the future.

"The Urban Department Store in America, 1850-1930" Louisa Iarocci, 2017-07-05 In the late nineteenth century the urban department store arose as a built artifact and as a social institution in the United States While the physical building type is the foundation of this comprehensive architectural study Louisa Iarocci reaches beyond the analysis of the bricks and mortar to reconsider how the spaces of selling were culturally produced spaces as well as the product of interrelated economic social technological and aesthetic forces The agenda of the book is three fold to address the lack of a comprehensive architectural study of the nineteenth century department store in the United States to expand the analysis of the commercial city as a built and represented entity and to continue recent scholarly efforts that seek to understand commercial space as a historically specific and a conceptually perceived construct The Urban Department Store in America 1850-1930 acts as a corrective to a current imbalance in the historiography of this retailing institution that tends to privilege its role as an autonomous modern building type Instead Iarocci documents the development of the department store as an urban institution that grew out of the built space of the city and the lived spaces of its occupants
