Stollar,2023-11-14 Empower the children in your faith community Children are marginalized in our churches dismissed into Sunday school or silenced for lengthy sermons aimed at adults R L Stollar has spent his career advocating for the rights of children and he thinks it s time to stop talking down to children and start listening to them In The Kingdom of Children Stollar proposes a liberation theology of the child Stollar begins with a theoretical framework that centers children in our theology and ecclesial life Reframing biblical stories to center children we can see how the binding of Isaac reflects the spiritual effects of child abuse or how children like Miriam can serve as leaders in their communities Using scriptural examples as well as real studies of children s spiritual lives Stollar asserts that children can be priests prophets and theologians in our communities Each chapter concludes with activities and discussion points for introducing the book s concepts to children The Kingdom of Children is a must read for youth ministers parents and anyone who works with children By embracing the liberation of children we can avoid stunting their spiritual growth and passing on trauma And when we lift up children truly value and learn from them we build up the kingdom of God here in our communities

Muslim and Christian Women in Dialogue Kathleen McGarvey,2009 Observations about dialogue and about the theology of religions are common enough these days but they are rarely grounded in the analysis of a particular reality and are therefore of little help to practitioners This book on the other hand gives an exhaustive documentation of the background and the actual situation of Muslim Christian relations in Northern Nigeria before proceeding to proposals for understanding the contribution of women s discourse in the development of dialogue and to a feminist theology of religions Drawing from her empirical findings in Northern Nigeria as well as some feminist insights the author suggests an approach to other religions grounded in people s lived experience and a shared commitment to justice peace and transformed human relations Recognizing the limitations of some pluralist theories she suggests a feminist ethical approach to religious pluralism The practicality and feasibility of such an approach are shown as she elaborates on its possible application in the concrete context of Northern Nigeria Reweaving the Relational Mat Joan Filemoni-Tofaeono, Lydia Johnson, 2016-06-16 Reweaving the Relational Mat is an integrative response to the problem of violence against women which grounds theological and sociological analysis in the praxis of Oceanian Christian women's experiences of violence It focuses on the collusion of the church in the problem of violence against women by critiquing the ways in which its theology and practices have contributed to power over ways of relating Employing the Oceanian metaphor of weaving the mat the analysis unravels the patriarchal relational mat paving the way for a constructive reweaving of a Christocentric egalitarian relational mat The study begins by unravelling the correlation between violence and the ideology of patriarchy It then highlights the various strands of violence against women and examines the complex mosaic of socio-cultural sources and manifestations of violence against women in Oceania This leads to an analysis of the interwoven strands of religion and violence focusing particularly on the church's captivity to patriarchy The ensuing explication of problematic theological and biblical interpretations and church practices ends with a critique of male clergy power particularly as it functions in the Oceanian context This leads to an examination of the relationship between flawed theological education and violence against women Case studies of violence against women in the Oceanian theological education setting are analysed The subsequent reweaving of the relational mat issues forth in specific challenges to church leaders theological educators and church women Good News for Animals? Charles R. Russell, 1979-01-01 How should men and women and God relate to one another Letty Russell's answer

Lowery,2017-04-25 Questions of identity continue to intrigue theologians in Africa and African intellectuals often note communal emphases in African thought This raises the question How do ecclesiologies in Africa engage with identity concerns and how do they envision the Christian identity Stephanie Lowery argues in this book that theologians in Africa provide theological and biblical arguments regarding Christian identity that are relevant to individual Christians and ecclesiologies in all contexts She also proposes the social identity approach as a tool that can both further articulate and advance these discussions Of God and Pelicans Jay Byrd McDaniel,1989-01-01 Jay McDaniel s book discusses the understanding of God s relationship to all living things the foundations and guidelines for a life centered ethic the understanding of Christian spirituality and feminism It is a powerful statement on justice peace and respect for the integrity of all creation iPresente! Timothy Matovina,Gerald E.
