The Org Ray Fisman, Tim Sullivan, 2015-02-22 We create organizations because we need to get a job done something we couldn't do alone and join them because we're inspired by their missions and our paycheck But once we're inside these organizations rarely feel inspirational So where did it all go wrong In The Org Ray Fisman and Tim Sullivan explain the tradeoffs that every organization faces arguing that this everyday dysfunction is actually inherent to the very nature of orgs The Org diagnoses the root causes of that malfunction beginning with the economic logic of why organizations exist in the first place then working its way up through the org's structure from the lowly cubicle to the CEO's office You'll learn The purpose of meetings and why they will never go away Why even members of al Qaeda are required to submit travel and expense reports What managers are good for How the army and other orgs balance marching in lockstep with fostering innovation Why the hospital administration not the heart surgeon is more likely to save your life Why CEOs often spend more than 80 percent of their time in meetings and why that's exactly where they should be and why they get paid so much

Fast Food, Fast Track Jennifer Parker Talwar, 2018-03-05 Praise for Fast Food Fast Track A fine ethnography with both theoretical and advocative significance representing the best qualitative sociology Choice Explores the intimate realities and behind the scenes exchanges of a multiethnic work force serving the typical American meal Through a lively narrative and insightful stories Jennifer Parker Talwar gives a full sense of what it's like to live in both a global economy and a local culture Sharon Zukin author of The Cultures of Cities No longer just pocket money for American teens wages paid by multinational fast food chains are going to a new generation of order takers burger flippers and basket fryers newly arrived immigrants hailing from China the Caribbean Latin America and India a colorful sea of faces has taken its place behind one of the most ubiquitous American business institutions the fast food counter They have become a vital link between the growing service sector in our cities ethnic enclaves and the multi billion dollar global fast food industry For four years sociologist Jennifer Parker Talwar went behind the counter herself and listened to immigrant fast food workers in New York City's ethnic communities They talked about balancing their low paying jobs and monotonous daily reality with keeping the faith that these very jobs could be the first step on the path to the American Dream In this original and compelling work of ethnography Talwar shows that contrary to those arguing that the fast food industry only represents an increasing homogenization of the American workforce fast food chains in immigrant communities must and do adapt to their surroundings
