

An aerial photograph of an archaeological excavation of an ancient Greek bathhouse. The central feature is a large, circular stone basin, likely a hot spring or a large bath, surrounded by a low stone wall. To the left of this central basin is a smaller, rectangular stone structure, possibly a cold bath or a changing room. The ruins are made of light-colored stone and are surrounded by a network of stone walls and pathways. The ground is uneven and covered with dirt and some debris.

Public Baths and Bathing Habits in Late Antiquity Sadi Maréchal, 2020-01-20 In this book Sadi Maréchal examines the survival transformation and eventual decline of Roman public baths and bathing habits in Italy North Africa and Palestine during Late Antiquity Through the analysis of archaeological remains ancient literature inscriptions and papyri the continued importance of bathhouses as social hubs within the urban fabric is demonstrated thus radically altering common misconceptions of their decline through the rise of Christianity and elite seclusion Persistent ideas about health and hygiene as well as perpetuating ideas of civic self esteem drove people to build restore and praise these focal points of daily life when other classical buildings were left to crumble

Approaching the Ancient Artifact Amalia Avramidou, Denise Demetriou, 2014-08-25 This volume consists of forty contributions written by an internationally renowned selection of scholars The authors adopt an interdisciplinary methodology examining both literary and archaeological sources and a comparative perspective that transgresses national chronological and cultural boundaries in order to investigate the nature of the links between text and image This multifaceted approach to the study of ancient artifacts enables the authors to treat art and artistic production as activities that do not merely mirror social or cultural relationships but rather and more significantly as activities that create social and cultural relationships The essays in this book are motivated by their authors belief that there is no simple direct link between art and myths art and text or art and ritual and that art should not be delegated to the role of a by product of a literate culture Instead the contextual and symbolic analyses of artifacts and representations offered in this volume elucidate how art actively shaped myth how it changed texts how it transformed ritual and how it altered the course of local regional and Mediterranean histories

The Hammam through Time and Space Julie Peteet, 2024-05-15 Julie Peteet offers a fascinating tour through the rich cultural history of hammams or baths in the Mediterranean and Middle East These sacred structures date back to the Bronze and Iron Ages and have evolved through the Hellenistic Roman Byzantine and Islamic periods In this original work Peteet provides the first comprehensive examination of hammams through their architecture labor pool clientele meanings notions of the body and hygiene and economy Exploring the hammam as both a tangible architectural structure and an intangible social practice Peteet sheds light on how the bath has functioned as a central hub of religious ceremonies and a space that transcends any specific religious affiliation Although hammams have experienced a decline due to modernization new domestic technologies and rejection of the Ottoman Islamic past their current reinvigorated form illuminates neoliberal conceptions of heritage and leisure industries Hammams have become spaces for cleansing and fashioning a gendered and aesthetically appropriate body as defined by a global wellness syndrome Peteet's captivating narrative traces the hammam's historical significance and contemporary role as both a sacred and profane cultural phenomenon

Cosa and the Colonial Landscape of Republican Italy (Third and Second Centuries BCE) Andrea De Giorgi, 2019-11-20 This important new volume examines archaeological evidence of Roman colonization of the Middle Republican period Themes of land use ethnic accommodation and displacement colonial identity and administrative schemes are also highlighted In delving deeply into the uniqueness of select colonial contexts these essays invite a novel discussion on the phenomenon of colonialism in the political landscape of Rome s early expansion Roman urbanism of the Middle Republican period brought to the Italian peninsula fundamental changes an important example of which highlighted by a wealth of studies is the ebullience of a dense network of colonies as well as a mix of senatorial tactics and individual initiatives that underpinned their foundation Whether Latin Roman or Maritimae colonies created a new mesh of communities and imposed a new topography more subtly they signified the mechanisms of the rising hegemony This book brings to the fore the diversity agendas and overall impact of a settlement device that changed the Italian landscape and introduced a new idea of Roman town

Times of Transition Sylvie Honigman,Christophe Nihan,Oded Lipschits,2021-03-15 This multidisciplinary study takes a fresh look at Judean history and biblical literature in the late fourth and third centuries BCE In a major reappraisal of this era the contributions to this volume depict it as one in which critical changes took place Until recently the period from Alexander s conquest in 332 BCE to the early years of Seleucid domination following Antiochus III s conquest in 198 BCE was reputed to be poorly documented in material evidence and textual production buttressing the view that the era from late Persian to Hasmonean times was one of seamless continuity Biblical scholars believed that no literary activity belonged to the Hellenistic age and archaeologists were unable to refine their understanding because of a lack of secure chronological markers However recent studies are revealing this period as one of major social changes and intense literary activity Historians have shed new light on the nature of the Hellenistic empires and the relationship between the central power and local entities in ancient imperial settings and the redating of several biblical texts to the third century BCE challenges the traditional periodization of Judean history Bringing together Hellenistic history the archaeology of Judea and biblical studies this volume appraises the early Hellenistic period anew as a time of great transition and change and situates Judea within its broader regional and transregional imperial contexts

A Jew in the Roman Bathhouse Yaron Eliav, 2025-08-05 A provocative account of Jewish encounters with the public baths of ancient Rome Public bathhouses embodied the Roman way of life from food and fashion to sculpture and sports The most popular institution of the ancient Mediterranean world the baths drew people of all backgrounds They were places suffused with nudity sex and magic A Jew in the Roman Bathhouse reveals how Jews navigated this space with ease and confidence engaging with Roman bath culture rather than avoiding it In this landmark interdisciplinary work of cultural history Yaron Eliav uses the Roman bathhouse as a social laboratory to reexamine how Jews interacted with Graeco Roman culture He reconstructs their thoughts feelings and beliefs about the baths and the activities that took place there documenting their pleasures as well as their anxieties and concerns Archaeologists have excavated hundreds of bathhouse facilities across the Mediterranean Graeco Roman writers mention the bathhouse frequently and rabbinic literature contains hundreds of references to the baths Eliav draws on the archaeological and literary record to offer fresh perspectives on the Jews of antiquity developing a new model for the ways smaller and often weaker groups interact with large dominant cultures A compelling and richly evocative work of scholarship A Jew in the Roman Bathhouse challenges us to rethink the relationship between Judaism and Graeco Roman society shedding new light on how cross cultural engagement shaped Western civilization Nikephoros - Zeitschrift für Sport und Kultur im Altertum Paul Christesen, Wolfgang Decker, James G. Greek Baths and Bathing Culture Sandra K. Lucore, Monika Trümper, 2013 This volume is the outcome of the first conference to take place on the topic of Greek baths and bathing culture a central but hitherto neglected area in the field of ancient studies Fifteen papers by an international group of archaeologists art historians and ancient historians discuss Greek bathing culture from a socio historical and cultural anthropological perspective resulting in a comprehensive reassessment that elucidates the sophistication of both the architecture and the culture of bathing throughout the Greek world Individual papers examine bathing in the context of science medicine and the cultural discourses coded in images on vases while the majority focus on the archaeological evidence itself as the crucial component in this reassessment that removes Greek baths from the traditional category of primitive predecessors to Roman baths From Greece and Egypt in the east to Sicily southern Italy and France in the west new information from recent excavations is brought to bear on a wide range of related issues including urban contexts regional variations in experimental design and construction innovations in technology and the social meaning of the rise of bathing culture in the Hellenistic period This better understanding of Greek baths adds a crucial element to the much debated question of the relationship between Greek and Roman bathing culture This book also provides the first comprehensive catalog of all known Greek public baths balaneia including descriptions plans and bibliographies as a major reference tool for future comparative research on ancient bathing culture and beyond catalog and papers combined make this a rich study of a topic of newly recognized significance in the ancient world

Collective Baths in Egypt 2 Bérangère Redon, 2017 English summary Over the past decade the Antique and Medieval Baths of Egypt programme of the IFAO and the Balneorient group have conducted multidisciplinary studies of the collective baths and bathing culture of Egyptian societies from the 4th century BC until the Ottoman period Following an initial volume published in 2009 that served as an introduction to the project the present publication gathers a collection of in depth case studies of very recently excavated baths as well as thematic studies examining bath construction and decoration techniques and the issue of the fuel used to heat bath buildings This volume also contains comprehensive analyses of four significant periods of bathing practice in Egypt namely the Ptolemaic Roman Late Roman Byzantine and modern period In addition the book ends with four catalogues describing and illustrating all the collective baths discovered in Egypt to date 103 buildings This collaborative work brings to completion more than a decade of fieldwork on baths and bathing in Egypt French description Pendant une dizaine d'années le programme Bains antiques et médiévaux d'Égypte de l'Ifao et le groupe de recherche Balneorient ont mené une série d'études multidisciplinaires portant sur le bain collectif et la culture balnéaire des sociétés égyptiennes entre le IV^e s. av. J.-C. et l'époque ottomane Après un premier volume publié en 2009 qui a permis de dresser un premier état des lieux le présent livre réunit des études de cas portant sur des bains très récemment mis au jour et des articles thématiques explorant la question des techniques de construction et de décoration des bains et celle du combustible utilisé pour chauffer les édifices balnéaires Il comprend aussi quatre articles de synthèse sur quatre périodes majeures de la pratique du bain collectif en Égypte époque ptolémaïque Haut Empire période romano-byzantine et enfin époque moderne Ils sont accompagnés de quatre catalogues décrivant et illustrant tous les bains collectifs d'Égypte découverts à ce jour 103 présentés à la fin du volume Ce travail de collaboration représente l'achèvement de plus d'une décennie de travaux de terrain sur les bains et les pratiques balnéaires en Égypte

The Bath in Greece in Classical Antiquity Maria-Evdokia Wassenhoven, 2012 The present study evolved out of an attempt to explore the mechanisms involved in the transformation of a social practice and its spatial context from one cultural technological and architectural system to another in a given geographical area in classical antiquity The practice chosen was that of the bath the two main and overlapping cultural traditions were the Greek and the Roman and the two technological traditions are termed in the present study before and after the hypocaust The geographical area covered in the study is that of modern Greece with a more detailed analysis of the Peloponnese Chapter 1 presents the description and classification of the different bathing traditions which appeared in the Greek territory before the 6th century BC when the first relevant evidence becomes present in the archaeological record The evolution of bath architecture in Italy the main characteristics of the Roman bathing tradition the spatial configuration of the bath in the Roman culture and finally the different kinds of typological classifications used by scholars are described in Chapter 2 In Chapter 3 the two basic bathing traditions which appear in Greece in classical antiquity are analyzed following the classification scheme which was described in the introductory chapter The final chapter looks at the key issues of the Hellenization of the Roman bathing tradition the Romanization of the bathing traditions of the Greek world and the long term evolution of the bath in antiquity are readdressed in the light of the present research
