Manufacturing Consent Edward S. Herman, Noam Chomsky, 2002-01-15 A compelling indictment of the news media's role in covering up errors and deceptions The New York Times Book Review due to the underlying economics of publishing from famed scholars Edward S. Herman and Noam Chomsky With a new introduction In this pathbreaking work Edward S. Herman and Noam Chomsky show that contrary to the usual image of the news media as cantankerous obstinate and ubiquitous in their search for truth and defense of justice in their actual practice they defend the economic social and political agendas of the privileged groups that dominate domestic society the state and the global order Based on a series of case studies including the media's dichotomous treatment of worthy versus unworthy victims legitimizing and meaningless Third World elections and devastating critiques of media coverage of the U.S. wars against Indochina Herman and Chomsky draw on decades of criticism and research to propose a Propaganda Model to explain the media's behavior and performance Their new introduction updates the Propaganda Model and the earlier case studies and it discusses several other applications These include the manner in which the media covered the passage of the North American Free Trade Agreement and subsequent Mexican financial meltdown of 1994-1995 the media's handling of the protests against the World Trade Organization World Bank and International Monetary Fund in 1999 and 2000 and the media's treatment of the chemical industry and its regulation What emerges from this work is a powerful assessment of how propagandistic the U.S. mass media are how they systematically fail to live up to their self image as providers of the kind of information that people need to make sense of the world and how we can understand their function in a radically new way

Manufacturing Consent Michael Burawoy, 2024-05-31 Since the 1930s industrial sociologists have tried to answer the question Why do workers not work harder Michael Burawoy spent ten months as a machine operator in a Chicago factory trying to answer different but equally important questions Why do workers work as hard as they do Why do workers routinely consent to their own exploitation Manufacturing Consent the result of Burawoy s research combines rich ethnographical description with an original Marxist theory of the capitalist labor process Manufacturing Consent is unique among studies of this kind because Burawoy has been able to analyze his own experiences in relation to those of Donald Roy who studied the same factory thirty years earlier Burawoy traces the technical political and ideological changes in factory life to the transformations of the market relations of the plant it is now part of a multinational corporation and to broader movements since World War II in industrial relations Manufacturing Consent Edward S. Understanding Media Propaganda in the 21st Century Simon Foley, 2021-09-02 First published in 1988 Herman and Chomsky's Manufacturing Consent remains the go to book for those interested in understanding why the mainstream media act as vehicles for power elite propaganda The analytical heart of Manufacturing Consent lies in what it calls The Propaganda Model According to this model there are five filters which all newsworthy stories have to pass through before reaching the public sphere However a lot has changed in the subsequent thirty something years Consequently a key question that needs to be addressed is whether Manufacturing Consent is still fit for purpose The conceit underpinning Understanding Media Propaganda in the 21st Century Manufacturing Consent Revisited and Revised is that the election of Trump in 2016 constitutes the proverbial year zero for fourth estate journalism As a result of the journalistic cultural revolution that ensued it argues that the Propaganda Model needs to be overhauled if it is to retain its epistemological bona fides To this end this book is a radical in the true critical sense of the word intervention into the propaganda fake news debate For students in the broadest sense of the term of media studies journalism communication studies and sociology it provides both a compelling critique of Herman and Chomsky's Propaganda Model while at the same time proffering a new explanatory model to understand why MSM output typically replicates the stenographer for power playbook

SUMMARY

- Manufacturing Consent: The Political Economy Of The Mass Media By Edward S. Herman And Noam Chomsky Shortcut Edition, 2021-06-05 Our summary is short simple and pragmatic It allows you to have the essential ideas of a big book in less than 30 minutes As you read this summary you will learn that the media condition us and that propaganda most often replaces information You will also learn that in our democracies consent to political decisions is largely manufactured or conditioned by the media that implacable censorship exists contrary to what the dominant discourse suggests that this censorship is much more subtle than a simple frontal and open ban since it functions largely in the mode of self censorship that for the media there are good and bad victims each receiving different treatment that political elections in developing countries are also subject to manipulation in media reporting that outright disinformation sometimes replaces information Power and money and they alone select the information in our democracies that is deemed suitable for disclosure to the good people It is through the media the main ones belonging to very large groups whose financial strength impresses that this real propaganda is carried out Their role is to send messages and symbols to the population In doing so the media inculcate in the mass of citizens the beliefs and behaviors that are deemed socially acceptable and desirable by the ruling elites In this way for individuals integration into the wider society with its overriding economic imperatives becomes possible Buy now the summary of this book for the modest price of a cup of coffee
