Many Middle Passages Forced Migration And The Making Of The Modern World:

Many Middle Passages Emma Christopher, Cassandra Pybus, Marcus Rediker, 2007-09-03 Extends the concept of the Middle Passage to encompass the expropriation of people across other maritime and inland routes No previous book has highlighted the diversity and centrality of middle passages voluntary and involuntary to modern global history Kenneth Morgan author of Slavery and the British Empire This volume extends the now well established project of Atlantic World Studies beyond its geographic and chronological frames to a genuinely global analysis of labour migration It is a work of major importance that sparkles with new discoveries and insights Rick Halpern co editor of Empire and Others British Encounters with Indigenous Peoples 1600 1850

The Other West Marcello Carmagnani, 2011-03-23 The Other West provides a provocative new interpretation of Latin American history and the region's place in the changing global political economy from the discovery of America into the twenty first century Marcello Carmagnani's award winning and multidisciplinary analysis sheds new light on historical processes and explains how this vast expanse of territory stretching from the American Southwest to the tip of the Southern Cone became Europeanized in the colonial period and how the European and American civilizations transformed one another as they grew together Carmagnani departs from traditional historical thought by situating his narrative in the context of world history brilliantly showing how the Iberian populations and cultures both European and American merged and evolved

Haj to Utopia Maia Ramnath, 2011-12 Maia Ramnath's Haj to Utopia is an odyssey through the world of early twentieth century political radicalism with a focus on the freedom dreams of those of Indian ancestry who found themselves on the West Coast of the United States She traces with pointillist care the unruly imaginations fired up by empire's unimaginative rule To be read and re read Vijay Prashad author of The Darker Nations A People's History of the Third World Maia Ramnath's Haj to Utopia is a thought provoking study of the Ghadar project for revolutionary change Going beyond the frame of a nationalist armed struggle for the overthrow of British rule in India the author deftly explores and contextualizes the links between Ghadar and a medley of revolutionary groups and the exotic mix of radical ideas and activities It provides valuable insight into the peculiar conjunction of nationalist pan Islamist and Marxian discourses which made Ghadar a unique revolutionary adventure Harish K Puri author Ghadar Movement Ideology Organisation and Strategy Maia Ramnath's book on the Ghadar Movement is an impressive accomplishment it is at once an in depth monograph surpassing all previous work on the subject and a model of how world history should be written She places the Ghadar in the perspective of pre nationalist anti imperialist struggles connecting it with other contemporary revolutionary movements around the world It is empirically rich Ramnath explores all extant empirical sources and illuminates them with exacting theoretical insights Dilip Basu University of California Santa Cruz Maia Ramnath's meticulous scholarship enables her to effortlessly avoid the old clichés of nationalist historiography and the new clichés of global and cosmopolitan history The Haj to Utopia is respectful of detail and context and has a fine feeling for the diverse social histories and intellectual movements in which its characters find themselves Benjamin Zachariah author of Playing the Nation Game the Ambiguities of Nationalism in India Monsoon Voyagers Prof. Fahad Ahmad Bishara,2025-10-14 Monsoon Voyagers follows the voyage of a single dhow the Crooked along with its captain and crew from Kuwait to port cities around the Persian Gulf and Western Indian Ocean from 1924 to 1925 Through his account of the voyage Fahad Ahmad Bishara unpacks a much broader history of circulation and exchange across the Arabian Sea in the time of empire From their offices in India Arabia and East Africa Gulf merchants used the technologies of colonial capitalism banks steamships railroads telegraphs and more to remake their own regional bazaar economy In the process they remade the Gulf itself Drawing on the Crooked's first person logbooks along with letters notes and business accounts from a range of port cities Monsoon Voyagers narrates the still untold connected histories of the Gulf and Indian Ocean The Gulf's past it suggests played out across the sea as much as it did the land The Bloody Flag Niklas Frykman,2020-09-01 Mutiny tore like wildfire through the wooden warships of the age of revolution While commoners across Europe laid siege to the nobility and enslaved workers put the torch to plantation islands out on the oceans naval seamen by the tens of thousands turned their guns on the quarterdeck and overthrew the absolute rule of captains By the early 1800s anywhere between one third and one half of all naval seamen serving in the North Atlantic had participated in at least one mutiny many of them in several and some even on ships in different navies In The Bloody Flag historian Niklas Frykman explores in vivid prose how a decade of violent conflict onboard gave birth to a distinct form of radical politics that brought together the egalitarian culture of North Atlantic maritime communities with the revolutionary era's constitutional republicanism The attempt to build a radical maritime republic failed but the red flag that flew from the masts of mutinous ships survived to become the most enduring global symbol of class struggle economic justice and republican liberty to this day Maps of Time David Christian,2011-09 Introducing a novel perspective on the study of history David Christian views the interaction of the natural world with the more recent arrivals in flora fauna including human beings Empire of Convicts Anand A. Yang,2021-01-19 Empire of Convicts focuses on male and female Indians incarcerated in Southeast Asia for criminal and political offenses committed in colonial South Asia From the seventeenth century onward penal transportation was a key strategy of British imperial rule exemplified by deportations first to the Americas and later to Australia Case studies from the insular prisons of Bengkulu Penang and Singapore illuminate another carceral regime in the Indian Ocean World that brought South Asia and Southeast Asia together through a global system of forced migration and coerced labor A major contribution to histories of crime and punishment prisons law labor transportation migration colonialism and the Indian Ocean World Empire of Convicts narrates the experiences of Indian bandwars convicts and shows how they exercised agency in difficult situations fashioning their own worlds and even becoming their own warders Anand A Yang brings long journeys across kala pani black waters to life in a deeply researched and engrossing account that moves fluidly between local and global contexts Margins of the Market

Johan Mathew,2016-05-10 What is the relationship between trafficking and free trade Is trafficking the perfection or the perversion of free trade Trafficking occurs thousands of times each day at borders throughout the world yet we have come to perceive it as something quite extraordinary How did this happen and what role does trafficking play in capitalism To answer these questions Johan Mathew traces the hidden networks that operated across the Arabian Sea in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Following the entangled history of trafficking and capitalism he explores how the Arabian Sea reveals the gaps that haunt political borders and undermine economic models Ultimately he shows how capitalism was forged at the margins of the free market where governments intervened and traffickers turned a profit From the Indian Ocean to the Mediterranean Sebouh David Aslanian,2011-05-04 Sebouh David Aslanian draws upon an unrivaled body of original documentation collected in seven languages from twenty five archives to reconstruct in great detail the logic and working of a global commercial network He poses a series of fundamental questions concerning the Julfan network and critically assesses both the received literature and the very documentation on which he grounds his revisionist study making this a valuable contribution to comparative economic history Edward Alpers author of East Africa and the Indian Ocean From the Indian Ocean to the Mediterranean is without question an exceptionally interesting well researched and original study The work is the product of lengthy and determined exploratory archival research whose global reach reflects the far flung trading network of Aslanian s subject Compared to previous work on the Julfa Armenians or the trade of the Safavid Empire in general it is on an altogether higher level of theoretical sophistication Edmund Herzig editor of Iran and the World in the Safavid Age The City and the Wilderness Arash Khazeni,2020-11-17 The City and the Wilderness recounts the journeys and microhistories of Indo Persian travelers across the Indian Ocean and their encounters with the Burmese Kingdom and its littoral at the turn of the nineteenth century As Mughal sovereignty waned under British colonial rule Indo Persian travelers and intermediaries linked to the East India Company explored and surveyed the Burmese Empire inscribing it as a forest landscape and Buddhist kingdom at the crossroads of South and Southeast Asia Based on colonial Persian travel books and narratives in which Indo Persian knowledge and perceptions of the wondrous edges of the Indian Ocean merged with Orientalist pursuits The City and the Wilderness uncovers fading histories of inter Asian crossings and exchanges at the ends of the Mughal world The Quest for the Lost Nation Sebastian Conrad,2010 Extraordinarily compelling The Quest for the Lost Nation is a model for comparative history and should serve as an incentive for a new generation to do more of this kind of work Michael Geyer University of Chicago Zanzibar Was a Country Nathaniel Mathews,2024-04-09 Zanzibar Was a Country explores the transregional impact of the Zanzibar Revolution of 1964 through the historical memory of its exiles Thousands of former citizens of Zanzibar and their offspring live in Oman and are a significant contemporary example of an Arab community that maintains a living connection to Africa in diaspora These Zanzibaris as they are often known in Oman speak Swahili sustain community originally formed in Africa and continue to remember Zanzibar s history as an independent country Drawing on their life histories their historiography of Zanzibar and the archival traces of their migrations Nathaniel Mathews demonstrates how these exiles were important to nation building and economic development in Oman A Global History of Gold Rushes Benjamin Mountford, Stephen Tuffnell, 2018-10-16 Nothing set the world in motion like gold Between the discovery of California placer gold in 1848 and the rush to Alaska fifty years later the search for the precious yellow metal accelerated worldwide circulations of people goods capital and technologies A Global History of Gold Rushes brings together historians of the United States Africa Australasia and the Pacific World to tell the rich story of these nineteenth century gold rushes from a global perspective Gold was central to the growth of capitalism it whetted the appetites of empire builders mobilized the integration of global markets and economies profoundly affected the environment and transformed large scale migration patterns Together these essays tell the story of fifty years that changed the world History and the Testimony of Language Christopher Ehret, 2011 This book is about history and the practical power of language to reveal historical change Christopher Ehret offers a methodological guide to applying language evidence in historical studies He demonstrates how these methods allow us not only to recover the histories of time periods and places poorly served by written documentation but also to enrich our understanding of well documented regions and eras A leading historian as well as historical linguist of Africa Ehret provides in depth examples from the language phyla of Africa arguing that his comprehensive treatment can be applied by linguistically trained historians and historical linguists working with any language and in any area of the world Berenike and the Ancient Maritime Spice Route Steven E. Sidebotham, 2011-02-02 The legendary overland silk road was not the only way to reach Asia for ancient travelers from the Mediterranean During the Roman Empire s heyday equally important maritime routes reached from the Egyptian Red Sea across the Indian Ocean The ancient city of Berenike located approximately 500 miles south of today s Suez Canal was a significant port among these conduits In this book Steven E Sidebotham the archaeologist who excavated Berenike uncovers the role the city played in the regional local and global economies during the eight centuries of its existence Sidebotham analyzes many of the artifacts botanical and faunal remains and hundreds of the texts he and his team found in excavations providing a profoundly intimate glimpse of the people who lived worked and died in this emporium between the classical Mediterranean world and Asia Writing imperial histories Andrew S. Thompson, 2016-05-16 This book appraises the critical contribution of the Studies in Imperialism series to the writing of imperial histories as the series passes its 100th publication The volume brings together some of the most distinguished scholars writing today to explore the major intellectual trends in Imperial history with a particular focus on the cultural readings of empire that have flourished over the last generation When the Studies in Imperialism series was founded the discipline of Imperial history was at what was probably its lowest ebb A quarter of a century on there has been a tremendous broadening of the scope of what the study of empire encompasses Essays in the volume consider ways in which the series and the wider historiography have sought to reconnect British and imperial histories to lay bare the cultural expressions and registers of colonial power and to explore the variety of experiences the home population derived from the empire

The 1857 Indian Uprising and the British Empire Jill C. Bender, 2016-02-11 Situating the 1857 Indian uprising within an imperial context Jill C Bender traces its ramifications across the four different colonial sites of Ireland New Zealand Jamaica and southern Africa Bender argues that the 1857 uprising shaped colonial Britons perceptions of their own empire revealing the possibilities of an integrated empire that could provide the resources to generate and justify British power In response to the uprising Britons throughout the Empire debated colonial responsibility methods of counter insurrection military recruiting practices and colonial governance Even after the rebellion had been suppressed the violence of 1857 continued to have a lasting effect The fears generated by the uprising transformed how the British understood their relationship with the colonized and shaped their own expectations of themselves as colonizer Placing the 1857 Indian uprising within an imperial context reminds us that British power was neither natural nor inevitable but had to be constructed

The World in the Long Twentieth Century Edward Ross Dickinson, 2018-02-06 The biological transformation of modern times The foundations of the modern global economy Reorganizing the global economy Localization and globalization The great explosion New world dis order High modernity Revolt and refusal Transformative modernity Democracy and capitalism triumphant

Britain and China, 1840-1970 Robert Bickers, Jonathan Howlett, 2015-07-16 This book presents a range of new research on British Chinese relations in the period from Britain s first imperial intervention in China up to the 1960s Topics covered include economic issues such as fi nance investment and Chinese labour in British territories questions of perceptions on both sides such as British worries about and exaggeration of the China threat including to India and British aggression towards and eventual withdrawal from China

Kinship as Critical Idiom in Oceanic Studies Katharina Fackler, Silvia Schultermandl, 2025-02-12 This book explores formations of oceanic kinship in transnational American literature and culture from the seventeenth to the twenty first centuries The chapters in this edited volume examine how kinship as a critical idiom and conceptual lens can help us rethink forms of human and nonhuman belonging in oceanic contexts The book s notion of kinship encompasses practices of mutual care which emerge from an understanding of interdependence collectivity and affiliation Taken together the essays critically engage with a variety of themes and concepts in oceanic studies postcolonial ecologies maritime labor histories slavery and indentured servitude extractive capitalism settler colonialism race and ethnicity gender sexuality the posthuman the Anthropocene and decolonial epistemologies They therefore contribute new perspectives from kinship studies to current conversations in the blue humanities and adjacent fields such as diaspora studies Black studies Indigenous studies ecocriticism and queer theory Together they probe possibilities for an oceanic ethics of care for the twenty first century This book will be relevant to students and scholars of oceanic studies literary studies cultural studies and those interested in the intersections of kinship the environmental humanities and postcolonial theory The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Atlantic Studies
