Maos Great Famine The History Of Chinas Most Devastating Catastrophe 1958 196:

Mao's Great Famine Frank Dikötter, 2010-09-06 An unprecedented groundbreaking history of China's Great Famine that recasts the era of Mao Zedong and the history of the People's Republic of China

Mao's Great Famine Frank Dikötter, 2011-10-11 Between 1958 and 1962 China descended into hell Mao Zedong threw his country into a frenzy with the Great Leap Forward an attempt to catch up to and overtake Britain in less than 15 years The experiment ended in the greatest catastrophe the country had ever known destroying tens of millions of lives So opens Frank Dikötter's riveting magnificently detailed chronicle of an era in Chinese history much speculated about but never before fully documented because access to Communist Party archives has long been restricted to all but the most trusted historians A new archive law has opened up thousands of central and provincial documents that fundamentally change the way one can study the Maoist era Dikötter makes clear as nobody has before that far from being the program that would lift the country among the world's superpowers and prove the power of Communism as Mao imagined the Great Leap Forward transformed the country in the other direction It became the site not only of one of the most deadly mass killings of human history at least 45 million people were worked starved or beaten to death but also of the greatest demolition of real estate in human history as up to one third of all housing was turned into rubble The experiment was a catastrophe for the natural world as well as the land was savaged in the maniacal pursuit of steel and other industrial accomplishments In a powerful mesghing of exhaustive research in Chinese archives and narrative drive Dikötter for the first time links up what happened in the corridors of power the vicious backstabbing and bullying tactics that took place among party leaders with the everyday experiences of ordinary people giving voice to the dead and disenfranchised His magisterial account recasts the history of the People's Republic of China

An Analysis of Frank Dikötter's Mao's Great Famine John Wagner Givens, 2017-07-05 The power of Frank Dikötter's groundbreaking work on the disaster that followed China's attempted Great Leap Forward lies not in the detail of his evidence though that shows that Mao's fumbled attempt at rapid industrialization probably cost 45 million Chinese lives It stems from the exceptional reasoning skills that allowed Dikötter to turn years of researching in obscure Chinese archives into a compelling narrative of disaster and above all to link two subjects that had been treated as distinct by most of his predecessors the extent of the crisis in the countryside and the actions hence the responsibility of the senior Chinese leadership In Dikötter's view ultimate responsibility for the catastrophe lies at the door of Mao Zedong himself the Chairman conceived and ordered the policies that led to the famine and he did nothing to reverse them or limit the damage that was being wrought when evidence for their disastrous impact reached him Dikötter's ability to persuade his readers of the fundamental truth of these arguments despite his admission that his access to sources was necessarily limited and incomplete together with the clear structure of his presentation combine to produce a work that has had enormous influence on perceptions of Mao and of the Great Leap Forward itself

A Modern History of Forgotten Genocides and Mass

Atrocities Jeffrey S. Bachman, Esther Brito Ruiz, 2024-11-01 This is the first textbook of its kind to amass cases of genocide and other mass atrocities across the nineteenth twentieth and twenty first centuries that have largely been pushed to the periphery of Genocide Studies or forgotten altogether Divided into four thematic sections Genocide and Imperialism War and Genocide State Repression Military Dictatorships and Genocide and Human Caused Famine Attrition and Genocide A Modern History of Forgotten Genocides and Mass Atrocities covers five continents including case studies from Biafra Yemen Argentina Russia China and Bengal They range from the French conquest of Algeria in the mid nineteenth century to the Yazidi genocide perpetrated by the Islamic State in Iraq and Syria between 2014 and 2017 and show that at times of rising authoritarianism military conquest and weaponization of hunger lines between what is war and what is genocide are increasingly blurred By including genocides and mass atrocities that are often overlooked this volume is crucial to the ongoing debates about whether this atrocity or that one amounts to genocide By including key points events terms and critical questions throughout this is the ideal textbook for undergraduate students who study genocide mass atrocities and human rights across the globe

Banned History Lynsey Calver, 2022-08-11 Banned History is all the juicy bits of History which were excluded from your lessons at school It unashamedly probes into the darker side of some of Britain's most admired leaders as well as exploring the hateful and depraved nature of humanity across the last 5000 years Banned History answers questions which are deliberately avoided by the school curriculum due to the negative light Britain may be portrayed such as the real reason why Britain didn't bomb Auschwitz and how the Transatlantic Slave Trade came into being Topical issues such as whether Churchill was a racist and how homophobia developed and spread across the world are explored in depth Concepts which are too horrific to ever feature in the school curriculum are investigated to reveal how many years it takes for incest to wipe out a family what the most effective method of torture is and what kind of person tastes best Written in a bright and breezy tone Banned History is full of fascinating facts such as who discovered dolphins and who fell in love with one why America got involved in the Vietnam war why Russia turned communist how Martin Luther King got his name how many people Europe killed with their colonisation of the Americas and when and why the British government legalised men hitting their wives Welcome to the sort of History you definitely didn't get taught at school

The Macabresque Edward Weisband, 2018 Studies of genocide and mass atrocity most often focus on their causes and consequences their aims and effects and the number of people killed But if the main goal is death why is torture necessary By understanding how and why mass violence occurs and the reasons for its variations The Macabresque aims to explain why so many seemingly normal or ordinary people participate in mass atrocity across cultures and why such egregious violence occurs repeatedly through history

Modernism in Late-Mao China Ke Song, 2023-04-28 This book investigates the architectural history of China in the Mao era 1949-1976 focusing on the rise of modernism in the last seven years of the Cultural Revolution from 1969 to 1976 It highlights the new architecture of this period exemplified by three clusters of buildings for foreign affairs namely buildings for foreign diplomacy in Beijing buildings for foreign trade in Guangzhou and China's foreign aid projects overseas The emergence of new architecture in the early 1970s is closely associated with China's political and diplomatic shift of the time from a radical emphasis on ideological struggle to a dynamic balance between leftist ideology and pragmatic concerns In this context China's relations with the West quickly improved culminating with American president Richard Nixon's visit to China in 1972 The increasing foreign affairs brought new opportunities to Chinese architects who referenced both Western modernism and Chinese architectural traditions to create a new version of Chinese modernism The book brings dimensions of form politics and knowledge to the analysis of architecture to construct an understanding of architectural design as an aesthetic political and intellectual practice Modernism in Late Mao China will be an enriching and useful reference for students and scholars who are interested in the global architectural history of the twentieth century especially Cold War modernism

The Myth of the Strong Leader Archie Brown, 2014-04-08 Using examples from strong leaders from Charles De Gaulle and Margaret Thatcher to Barack Obama a renowned politics professor dispels the notion that leaders who dominate the policy making process are more effective than those with a more collegial ruling style 17 500 first printing

International Handbook of Rural Demography László J. Kulcsár, Katherine J. Curtis, 2011-12-15 This is the third in an essential series of Springer handbooks that explore key aspects of the nexus between demography and social science With an inclusive international perspective and founded on the principles of social demography this handbook shows how the rural population which recently dropped below 50 per cent of the world total remains a vital segment of society living in proximity to much needed developmental and amenity resources The rich diversity of rural areas shapes the capacity of resident communities to address far reaching social environmental and economic challenges Some will survive become sustainable and even thrive while others will suffer rapid depopulation This handbook demonstrates how these future development trajectories will vary according to local characteristics including but not limited to population composition The growing complexity of rural society is in part a product of significant international variations in population trends making this comparative and comprehensive study of rural demography all the more relevant Collating the latest research on international rural demography the handbook will be an invaluable aid to policy makers as they try to understand how demographic dynamics depend on the economic social and environmental characteristics of rural areas It will also aid researchers assessing the unique factors at play in the rural context and endeavoring to produce meaningful results that will advance policy and scholarship Finally the handbook is an ideal text for graduate students in a spread of disciplines from sociology to international development

Railroads and the Transformation of China Elisabeth Köll, 2019-01-14 To convey modern China's history and the forces driving its economic success rail has no equal From warlordism to Cultural Revolution railroads suffered the country's ills but persisted because they were exemplary institutions Elisabeth K ll shows why they remain essential to the PRC's technocratic economic model for China's future An Economic History of Famine Resilience Jessica Dijkman, Bas van Leeuwen, 2019-09-18 Food crises have always tested societies This volume discusses societal resilience to food crises examining the responses and strategies at the societal level that effectively helped individuals and groups to cope with drops in food supply in various parts of the world over the past two millennia Societal responses can be coordinated by the state the market or civil society Here it is shown that it was often a combined effort but that there were significant variations between regions and periods The long term comparative perspective of the volume brings out these variations explains them and discusses their effects on societal resilience This book will be of interest to advanced students and researchers across economic history institutional economics social history and development studies

Inside China's Legal System Chang Wang, Nathan Madson, 2013-10-31 China's legal system is vast and complex and robust scholarship on the subject is difficult to obtain Inside China's Legal System provides readers with a comprehensive look at the system including how it works in practice theoretical and historical underpinnings and how it might evolve The first section of the book explains the Communist Party's utilitarian approach to law rule by law The second section discusses Confucian and Legalist views on morality law and punishment and the influence such traditional Chinese thinking has on contemporary Chinese law The third section focuses on the roles of key players including judges prosecutors lawyers and legal academics in the Chinese legal system The fourth section offers Chinese legal case studies in civil criminal administrative and international law The book concludes with a comparison of China's fundamental governing and legal principles with those of the United States in such areas as checks and balances separation of powers and due process Uses extensive legal materials and historical documents generally unavailable to Western based academics Gives insider knowledge including first hand experience teaching law and close involvement with judges attorneys and law professors in China Analyses legal issues from historical and cultural perspectives holistically The Myth of International Order

Arjun Chowdhury, 2018 In February of 2011 Libyan citizens rebelled against Muammar Qaddafi and quickly unseated him The speed of the regime's collapse confounded many observers and the ensuing civil war showed Foreign Policy's index of failed states to be deeply flawed FP had in 2010 identified 110 states as being more likely than Libya to descend into chaos They were spectacularly wrong but this points to a larger error in conventional foreign policy wisdom failed or weak and unstable states are not anomalies but are instead in the majority More states resemble Libya than Sweden Why are most states weak and unstable Taking as his launching point Charles Tilly's famous dictum that war made the state and the state made war Arjun Chowdhury argues that the problem lies in our mistaken equation of democracy and economic power with stability But major wars are the true source of stability only the existential crisis that such wars produced could lead citizens to willingly sacrifice the resources that allowed the state to build the capacity it needed for survival Developing states in the postcolonial era never experienced the demands major interstate war placed on European states and hence citizens in those nations have been unwilling to sacrifice the resources that would build state capacity For example India and Mexico are established democracies with large economies Despite their indices of stability both countries are far from stable there is an active Maoist insurgency in almost a quarter of India s districts and Mexico is plagued by violence drug trafficking and high levels of corruption in local government Nor are either effective at collecting revenue As a consequence they do not have the tax base necessary to perform the most fundamental tasks of modern states controlling organized violence in a given territory and providing basic services to citizens By this standard the majority of states in the world about two thirds are weak states Chowdury maintains that an accurate evaluation of international security requires a normative shift the language of weakness and failure belies the fact that strong states are exceptions Chowdhury believes that dismantling this norm is crucial as it encourages developing states to pursue state building via war which is an extremely costly approach in terms of human lives and capital Moreover in our era such an approach is destined to fail because the total wars of the past are highly unlikely to occur today Just as importantly the non state alternatives on offer are not viable alternatives For better or worse we will continue to live in a state dominated world where most states are weak Counterintuitive and sweeping in its coverage The Myth of International Order demands that we fundamentally rethink foundational concepts of international politics like political stability and state failure

Dystopia Gregory Claeys, 2016-11-24 Dystopia A Natural History is the first monograph devoted to the concept of dystopia Taking the term to encompass both a literary tradition of satirical works mostly on totalitarianism as well as real despotisms and societies in a state of disastrous collapse this volume redefines the central concepts and the chronology of the genre and offers a paradigm shifting understanding of the subject Part One assesses the theory and prehistory of dystopia By contrast to utopia conceived as promoting an ideal of friendship defined as enhanced sociability dystopia is defined by estrangement fear and the proliferation of enemy categories A natural history of dystopia thus concentrates upon the centrality of the passion or emotion of fear and hatred in modern despotisms The work of Le Bon Freud and others is used to show how dystopian groups use such emotions Utopia and dystopia are portrayed not as opposites but as extremes on a spectrum of sociability defined by a heightened form of group identity The prehistory of the process whereby enemies are demonised is explored from early conceptions of monstrosity through Christian conceptions of the devil and witchcraft and the persecution of heresy Part Two surveys the major dystopian moments in twentieth century despotisms focussing in particular upon Nazi Germany Stalinism the Chinese Cultural Revolution and Cambodia under Pol Pot The concentration here is upon the political religion hypothesis as a key explanation for the chief excesses of communism in particular Part Three examines literary dystopias It commences well before the usual starting point in the secondary literature in anti Jacobin writings of the 1790s Two chapters address the main twentieth century texts usually studied as representative of the genre Aldous Huxley s Brave New World and George Orwell s Nineteen Eighty Four The remainder of the section examines the evolution of the genre in the second half of the twentieth century down to the present The East Is Black Robeson Taj Frazier, 2015-02-15 During the Cold War several prominent African American radical activist intellectuals including W E B and Shirley Graham Du Bois journalist William Worthy Marxist feminist Vicki Garvin and freedom fighters Mabel and Robert Williams traveled and lived in China There they used a variety of media to express their solidarity with Chinese communism and to redefine the relationship between Asian struggles against imperialism and black American movements against social racial and economic injustice In The East Is Black Taj Frazier examines the ways in which these figures and the Chinese government embraced the idea of shared struggle against U S policies at home and abroad He analyzes their diverse cultural output newsletters print journalism radio broadcasts political cartoons lectures and documentaries to document how they imagined communist China s role within a broader vision of a worldwide anticapitalist coalition against racism and imperialism

India's Intelligence Culture and Strategic Surprises Dheeraj Chaya, 2022-09-29 This book examines India s foreign intelligence culture and strategic surprises in the 20th century The work looks at whether there is a distinct way in which India thinks about and does intelligence and by extension whether this affects the prospects of it being surprised Drawing on a combination of archival data secondary source information and interviews with members of the Indian security and intelligence community the book provides a comprehensive analysis of the evolution of Indian intelligence culture from the ancient period to colonial times and subsequently the post colonial era This evolutionary culture has played a significant role in explaining the India s foreign intelligence failure during the occurrences of strategic surprises such as the 1962 Sino Indian War and the 1999 Kargil War while it successfully prepared for surprise attacks like Operation Chenghiz Khan by Pakistan in 1971 The result is that the book argues that the strategic culture of a nation and its interplay with intelligence organisations and operations is important to understanding the conditions for intelligence failures and strategic surprises This book will be of much interest to students of intelligence studies strategic studies Asian politics and International Relations

Arise Africa, Roar China Yunxiang Gao, 2021-12-17 This book explores the close relationships between three of the most famous twentieth century African Americans W E B Du Bois Paul Robeson and Langston Hughes and their little known Chinese allies during World War II and the Cold War journalist musician and Christian activist Liu Liangmo and Sino Caribbean dancer choreographer Sylvia Si lan Chen Charting a new path in the study of Sino American relations Gao Yunxiang foregrounds African Americans combining the study of Black internationalism and the experiences of Chinese Americans with a transpacific narrative and an understanding of the global remaking of China's modern popular culture and politics Gao reveals earlier and more widespread interactions between Chinese and African American leftists than accounts of the familiar alliance between the Black radicals and the Maoist Chinese would have us believe The book's multilingual approach draws from massive yet rarely used archival streams in China and in Chinatowns and elsewhere in the United States These materials allow Gao to retell the well known stories of Du Bois Robeson and Hughes alongside the sagas of Liu and Chen in a work that will transform and redefine Afro Asia studies

Social Enterprise in China Benedicte Brøgger, 2021-11-08 This book explores social innovation and entrepreneurship in China Focusing on selected social enterprises and processes it addresses the question of why China not in terms of military economic or political ambitions but in the terms of social innovation and welfare policies The analyses range from detailed ethnography to discussions of broad global trends Despite vastly improved social conditions in the country there are still unresolved issues that social enterprises address The study elaborates on the complexities involved in their positioning between the state and their beneficiaries Adding to the complexity is China's dual system of circulation and the moral economy of ethnic minorities The theoretical foundation of the study is the Durkheimian concept of the social contract Its content is viewed as comprised of Maussian total social facts or guanxi a similar Chinese framing operationalised to particular socio cultural configurations The empirical cases document how social enterprises reposition elements in the various configurations in order to mobilise resources from their stakeholders The book concludes that the discursive topology is altered in the process and the social contract is renewed in culturally meaningful if paradoxical ways This book will be of interest to researchers students and academics in the fields of business and social entrepreneurship especially to those with a particular interest in the Chinese case
