God Greed And Genocide The Holocaust Through The Centuries:

God, Greed, and Genocide Arthur Grenke, 2005 What are the similarities between the mass extermination of idolaters in the Old Testament the burning of witches in the Middle Ages the extermination of native Americans the mass killing of the Armenians at the hand of the Turks the Holocaust of the European Jews and the communist eradication of the enemies of the people both in the Soviet Union and Cambodia Are these to be seen as unique cases or as the result of a recognizable pattern The author provides insight into these questions basing his argument on the latest sources He maintains that the study of the dynamics that lead to mass destruction may provide a better understanding of the Holocaust as a recurrent phenomenon

Battleground: Religion Daniel L. Smith-Christopher, 2008-12-30 Is there a controversial issue in the contemporary world that does not involve religion Whether it is a debate over the beginning of life or on sexuality and family life or on the stewardship of humans over the environment almost all of the most contentious matters that impact today's society involve people's deeply held religious beliefs Battleground Religion helps clarify these complex topics by examining how various religious beliefs and practices impact current political social and cultural debates Each of the approximately 100 entries examines a hot button issue from war and peace to the culture wars and discusses in a balanced and objective way the points of view on these topics from all parts of the religious spectrum Students will come away from Battleground Religion with a better understanding of the issues that they will be encountering for years to come Each entry includes a bibliography or resources for further information

The Cambridge World History of Genocide: Volume 2, Genocide in the Indigenous, Early Modern and Imperial Worlds, from c.1535 to World War One Ned Blackhawk, Ben Kiernan, Benjamin Madley, Rebe Taylor, 2023-05-04 Volume II documents and analyses genocide and extermination throughout the early modern and modern eras It tracks their global expansion as European and Asian imperialisms and Euroamerican settler colonialism spread across the globe before the Great War forging new frontiers and impacting Indigenous communities in Europe Asia North America Africa and Australia Twenty five historians with expertise on specific regions explore examples on five continents providing comparisons of nine cases of conventional imperialism with nineteen of settler colonialism and offering a substantial basis for assessing the various factors leading to genocide This volume also considers cases where genocide did not occur permitting a global consideration of the role of imperialism and settler Indigenous relations from the sixteenth to the early twentieth centuries It ends with six pre 1918 cases from Australia China the Middle East Africa and Europe that can be seen as premonitions of the major twentieth century genocides in Europe and Asia Genocide Or Ethnocide, 1933-2007 Bartolomé Clavero, 2008

Historical Origins of International Criminal Law Morten Bergsmo, CHEAH Wui Ling, YI Ping, 2014-12-12 The historical origins of international criminal law go beyond the key trials of Nuremberg and Tokyo but remain a topic that has not received comprehensive and systematic treatment This anthology aims to address this lacuna by examining trials proceedings legal instruments and publications that may be said to be the building blocks of contemporary international criminal law It aspires to generate new knowledge broaden the common hinterland to international criminal law and further consolidate this relatively young discipline of international law The anthology and research project also seek to question our fundamental assumptions of international criminal law by going beyond the geographical cultural and temporal limits set by the traditional narratives of its history and by questioning the roots of its substance process and institutions Ultimately we hope to raise awareness and generate further discussion about the historical and intellectual origins of international criminal law and its social function The contributions to the three volumes of this study bring together experts with different professional and disciplinary expertise from diverse continents and legal traditions Volume 1 comprises contributions by prominent international lawyers and researchers including Judge LIU Daqun Professor David Cohen Geoffrey Robertson QC Professor Paulus Mevis and Professor Jan Reijntjes A Cultural History of Genocide in the Early Modern World Igor Pérez Tostado, 2023-05-04 Historical studies of genocide in the 20th century trace the roots back to the sociopolitical economic and cultural developments of the early modern period From globalization to urbanization to imperialism state formation and homogenization from religious warfare to enlightenment to racism many factors connected with genocide first emerged or vastly developed between the 15th and 18th centuries While the early modern period did not have a crime of genocide it possessed its own legal system which contemplated the rightful destruction of whole peoples and a political culture that sanctioned the use of mass violence As a result early modern genocide has been denied or blurred as a regrettable side effect of the global circulation of ideas goods and peoples and the creation of new societies cultures and languages arising from it

This collection looks at the different genocides which unfolded around the globe emphasizing its gendered dimension and its disproportionate and enduring impact on indigenous populations. Although European imperialism and homogenization play a central role, it aims more widely to cover the principal agents, victims and rationale for genocide in the early modern world. As a whole, this volume aims at fostering the debate on the early modern history of genocide not as an insulated or secondary subject but as a central issue of the era with profound implications for our own.

The Crucifixion of the Warrior God

Gregory A. Boyd, 2017-04-17. The Crucifixion of the Warrior God in an epic constructive investigation takes up the set of dramatic tensions between depictions of divinely sanctioned violence in Scripture and the message and life of peace of Jesus centering the New Testament. Over two volumes, author Gregory A. Boyd argues that we must take seriously the full range of Scripture as inspired and the centrality of the crucified and risen Christ as the supreme revelation of God.

Interreligious Learning Michael Barnes, 2012. Demonstrates how learning to engage with different religious traditions can deepen and reinvigorate one's own faith.

Emotions, Decision-Making and Mass Atrocities

Olaoluwa Olusanya, 2016-05-06. This book rehumanizes perpetrators of mass atrocities. At present, a victim-perpetrator dichotomy appears to be the dominant paradigm; perpetrators have either been mechanistically dehumanized (that is, perceived as unemotional, hard-hearted and conforming and thereby lacking the core features of human nature) or alternatively they have been animalistically dehumanized. In other words, they are seen as immoral, unintelligent, lacking self-control and likened to animals. Within sociology and criminology, the dominant view is that genocide and other mass atrocities are committed by technologically lobotomized perpetrators. Somehow, the process of rationalization is believed to have transformed these people from emotionally healthy people into hollow, soulless shells of human beings or zombies devoid of a full range of normal emotions. These people are considered bereft of any ability to reason, think or feel yet ambulant and able to respond to surrounding stimuli. However, it is difficult to imagine crime, especially those involving a group of people working together for the duration of a particular criminal activity, without emotions. For instance, there is ample evidence suggesting that both crimes of passion and premeditated crimes involve emotional arousal. Furthermore, research in fields such as evolutionary biology, psychology and sociology of work and organizations suggest that emotions are essential for human progress and survival. In addition, emotions help us make the right call in risky and uncertain situations. In other words, the majority of real-life situations. There is therefore a need to revisit existing assumptions around the role of emotions in mass atrocities.
