Maps for Lost Lovers Nadeem Aslam, 2014 A new cover edition of Nadeem Aslam's 2005 critically acclaimed novel Map for Lost Lovers

Maps for Lost Lovers Nadeem Aslam, 2012-09-25 Set in a nameless British town that its Pakistani born immigrants have renamed Dasht e Tanhaii the Desert of Solitude Maps for Lost Lovers is an exploration of cultural tension and religious bigotry played out in the personal breakdown of a single family As the book begins Jugnu and Chanda whose love is both passionate and illicit have disappeared from their home Rumours about their disappearance abound but five months pass before anything certain is known Finally on a snow covered January morning Chanda's brothers are arrested for the murder of their sister and Jugnu Maps for Lost Lovers traces the year following Jugnu and Chanda's disappearance Seen principally through the eyes of Jugnu's brother Shamas the cultured poetic director of the local Community Relations Council and Commission for Racial Equality and his wife Kaukab mother of three increasingly estranged children and devout daughter of a Muslim cleric the event marks the beginning of the unravelling of all that is sacred to them It fills Shamas's own house and life with grief and in exploring the lovers disappearance and its aftermath Nadeem Aslam discloses a legacy of miscomprehension and regret not only for Shamas and Kaukab but for their children and neighbours as well An intimate portrait of a community searingly damaged by traditions this is a densely imagined beautiful and deeply troubling book written in heightened prose saturated with imagery It casts a deep gaze on themes as timeless as love nationalism and religion while meditating on how these forces drive us apart

British Asian fiction Sara Upstone, 2013-07-19 This is the first text to focus solely on the writing of British writers of South Asian descent born or raised in Britain Exploring the unique contribution of these writers it positions their work within debates surrounding black British diasporic migrant and postcolonial literature in order to foreground both the continuities and tensions embedded in their relationship to such terms engaging in particular with the ways in which this new generation has been denied the right to a distinctive theoretical framework through absorption into pre-existing frames of reference Focusing on the diversity of contemporary British Asian experience the book engages with themes including gender national and religious identity the reality of post 9/11 Britain the post-ethnic self urban belonging generational difference and youth identities as well as indicating how these writers manipulate genre and the novel form in support of their thematic concerns

Aesthetics and Ethics in Twenty-First Century British Novels Peter Childs, James Green, 2013-08-15 A fresh set of concerns face the twenty-first century British novelist In this study of the four key novelists Zadie Smith Nadeem Aslam Hari Kunzru and David Mitchell the changes in narrative approaches and critical directions of a new post-1989 fiction are explored Close readings of the writers are informed by a range of contemporary theorists critics and commentators to reveal the emphases of twenty-first century fiction Terror fear consumerism multinationalism and corporatism the terms circulating in culture and social networks are evident in Smith's faith in ethical living Aslam's consideration of multiculturalism the novels Kunzru builds around the politics of identity and in the importance Mitchell places on the interconnectedness of human life By putting the emergence of a new British literary dynamic in the context of ethical as well as global contexts this study analyzes the transformed fictional perceptions of a world no longer defined by the stand off of super powers South Asian Atlantic Literature, 1970-2010 Ruth Maxey, 2014-02-28 Tracing a literary lineage for works from different genres it identifies key trends in recent South Asian American and British Asian literature by considering the favoured formal and aesthetic modes of major writers and by relating their work to differen Islam and the West Sadia Zulfiqar, 2015-06-18 Islam like the West is not a homogenous monolith However Islam is most commonly represented in the West in terms of suicide bombing suppressed and veiled women and internal and external conflict These depictions of Islam suggest that the relationship between Islam and the West is and has always been one of hostility and hatred However this collection locates threads of connection and love between Islam and the West and argues that it is important to bring them to the forefront i Doing Family in Second-Generation British Migration Literature Corinna Assmann, 2018-09-24 Due to the large scale global transformations of the 20th century migration literature has become a vibrant genre over the last decades In these novels issues of transcultural identity and belonging naturally feature prominently This study takes a closer look at the ways in which the idea of family informs processes of identity construction It explores changing roles and meanings of the diasporic family as well as intergenerational family relations in a migration setting in order to identify the specific challenges problems and possibilities that arise in this context This book builds on insights from different fields of family research e g sociology psychology communication studies memory studies to provide a conceptual framework for the investigation of synchronic and diachronic family constellations and connections The approach developed in this study not only sheds new light on contemporary British migration literature but can also prove fruitful for analyses of families in literature more generally By highlighting the relevance and multifaceted nature of doing family this study also offers new perspectives for transcultural memory studies Rewriting the North Chloe Ashbridge, 2023-05-15 This book shows how twenty first century writing about Northern England imagines alternative democratic futures for the region and the English nation signalling the growing awareness of England as a distinct and variegated political formation In 2016 the Brexit vote intensified ongoing constitutional tensions throughout the UK which have been developing since the devolution of Scotland Wales and Northern Ireland in 1997 At the same time British devolution developed a distinctively cultural registration as a surrogate for parliamentary representation and an attempt to disrupt the status of London as Britain s cultural epicentre Rewriting the North shifts this debate in a new direction examining Northern literary preoccupation with devolution s constitutional implications Through close readings of six contemporary authors Sunjeev Sahota Sarah Hall Anthony Cartwright Adam Thorpe Fiona Mozley and Sarah Moss this book argues that literary engagement with the North emphasises regional devolution s limited constitutional charge calling instead for an urgent abandonment of the British centralised state form

Relocating Consciousness Daphne Grace, 2007 This book deals directly with issues of consciousness within works of postcolonial and diasporic writers It discusses fiction autobiography and theory to re formulate a writing of consciousness addressing contemporary cultural theory related to a wide range of dynamic writers and ground breaking novels A critical analysis of literature contextualises consciousness understood here as the source of language and human creativity and explores ways in which consciousness is involved in the creative process Tackling the controversial nature of consciousness itself the book argues that consciousness must be understood in its philosophical and social contexts The idea of relocating consciousness calls for a new aesthetics and ethics of living in the diasporic world where we are all to some extent migrant The book explores notions of consciousness as alternative narrative structures to society while expanding contemporary postcolonial theory beyond the limited dimension of power based on violence to a more visionary exploration of experience based on consciousness as unity in diversity Themes explored include sacred experience as empowerment trauma terror and the impact of consciousness cosmopolitanism and globalisation and the literature of human survival Written in a lively and accessible manner the book will appeal to all readers who enjoy being on the cutting edge of contemporary world literature

this exciting area of books Symeon Brown These are the books you should read This is the canon Joan Anim Addo Deirdre Osborne and Kadija Sesay have curated a decolonized reading list that celebrates the wide and diverse experiences of people from around the world of all backgrounds and all races It disrupts the all too often white dominated required reading collections that have become the accepted norm and highlights powerful voices and cultural perspectives that demand a place on our shelves From literary giants such as Toni Morrison and Chinua Achebe to less well known but equally vital writers such as Caribbean novelist Earl Lovelace or Indigenous Australian author Tony Birch the novels recommended here are in turn haunting and lyrical innovative and inspiring edgy and poignant The power of great fiction is that readers have the opportunity to discover new worlds and encounter other beliefs and opinions This is the Canon offers a rich and multifaceted perspective on our past present and future which deserves to be read by all bibliophiles whether they are book club members or solitary readers self educators or teachers American Book Publishing Record ,2003

Cosmopolitanism in Contemporary British Fiction F. McCulloch,2012-07-06 This book is a concise and engaging analysis of contemporary literature viewed through the critical lens of cosmopolitan theory It covers a wide spectrum of issues including globalisation cosmopolitanism nationhood identity philosophical nomadism posthumanism climate change devolution and love Metaphors of Confinement Monika Fludernik,2019-08-13 Metaphors of Confinement The Prison in Fact Fiction and Fantasy offers a historical survey of imaginings of the prison as expressed in carceral metaphors in a range of texts about imprisonment from Antiquity to the present as well as non penal situations described as confining or restrictive These imaginings coalesce into a carceral imaginary that determines the way we think about prisons just as social debates about punishment and criminals feed into the way carceral imaginary develops over time Examining not only English language prose fiction but also poetry and drama from the Middle Ages to postcolonial particularly African literature the book juxtaposes literary and non literary contexts and contrasts fictional and nonfictional representations of imprisonment and discussions about the prison as institution and experiential reality It comments on present day trends of punitivity and foregrounds the ethical dimensions of penal punishment The main argument concerns the continuity of carceral metaphors through the centuries despite historical developments that included major shifts in policy such as the invention of the penitentiary The study looks at selected carceral metaphors often from two complementary perspectives such as the home as prison or the prison as home or the factory as prison and the prison as factory The case studies present particularly relevant genres and texts that employ these metaphors often from a historical perspective that analyses development through different periods Mediating Faiths Guy Redden,2016-04-29 Religion is living culture It continues to play a role in shaping political ideologies institutional practices communities of interest ways of life and social identities Mediating Faiths brings together scholars working across a range of fields including cultural studies media sociology anthropology cultural theory and religious studies in order to facilitate greater understanding of recent transformations Contributors illustrate how religion continues to be responsive to the very latest social and cultural developments in the environments in which it exists They raise fundamental questions concerning new media and religious expression religious youth cultures the links between spirituality personal development and consumer culture and contemporary intersections of religion identity and politics Together the chapters demonstrate how belief in the superempirical is negotiated relative to secular concerns in the twenty first century

The Face of the Other in Anglo-American Literature Marija Knežević, 2011-09-22 If we have established that our approach to the phenomena that are other to us is always a matter of semiosis and that even in an attempt to naturalize phenomenology like the one made by Maurice Merleau Ponty who points to the corporeity of consciousness as much as an intentionality of the body it appears that our most negligible movements present our cultural being or habituality of Iris Young Throwing Like a Girl 1990 2005 However many thinkers have claimed for example the novelist D H Lawrence or philosopher Luce Irigaray that we know by touch and intuition The papers collected in this book examine our approach to these issues in an essentially post theory world particularly enquiring if twentieth century theory has left us clear directions of where we are supposed to be looking for new ways of understanding and representing the phenomenological The way the Other exists in the consciousness that as Hegel said always pursues its death becomes especially interesting in the context of the development of Anglo American studies in the post postmodern world which sees the West as a changeable cultural and geographical concept that incorporates a multiplicity of others Yet at the same time a number of contemporary Anglo American writers insists on the prolonged effects of colonialism in the modern world in which outbursts of violence and hatred aimed at the Other prove that the modern world still cannot approach the Other without bigotry

Making Sense of Contemporary British Muslim Novels Claire Chambers, 2019-04-23 This book is the sequel to Britain Through Muslim Eyes and examines contemporary novelistic representations of and by Muslims in Britain It builds on studies of the five senses and sensuous geographies of postcolonial Britain and charts the development since 1988 of a fascinating and important body of fiction by Muslim identified authors It is a selective literary history exploring case study novelistic representations of and by Muslims in Britain to allow in depth critical analysis through the lens of sensory criticism It argues that for authors of Muslim heritage in Britain writing the senses is often a double edged act of protest Some of the key authors excoriate a suppression or cover up of non heteronormativity and women s rights that sometimes occurs in Muslim communities Yet their protest is especially directed at secular culture s ocularcentrism and at successive British governments efforts to surveil control and suppress Muslim bodies

Narratives of Disparity Rida Inam

,2018 Islam and the West are often identified as two distinct civilizations with conflicting characteristics Assuming that a clash between Islam and the West is not inevitable this study demonstrates that the divide is fabricated on both sides by Narratives of Disparity NoDs which are often built on historical narratives The interplay of history and fiction in NoDs is exhibited on four novels published in Britain after 9 11 covering the most frequently used tropes the postcolonial experience counterterrorism eurocentrism traditionalism honour killings and sexual autonomy
