Marine Conservation Science Policy And Management:

Marine Conservation G. Carleton Ray, Jerry McCormick-Ray, 2013-10-11 Providing a guide for marine conservation practice Marine Conservation takes a whole systems approach covering major advances in marine ecosystem understanding Its premise is that conservation must be informed by the natural histories of organisms together with the hierarchy of scale related linkages and ecosystem processes The authors introduce a broad range of overlapping issues and the conservation mechanisms that have been devised to achieve marine conservation goals The book provides students and conservation practitioners with a framework for thoughtful critical thinking in order to incite innovation in the 21st century Marine Conservation presents a scholarly but eminently readable case for the necessity of a systems approach to conserving the oceans combining superb introductions to the science law and policy frameworks with carefully chosen case studies This superb volume is a must for anyone interested in marine conservation from students and practitioners to lay readers and policy makers Simon Levin George M Moffett Professor of Biology Department of Ecology Evolutionary Biology Princeton University Marine Protected Areas John Humphreys, Robert Clark, 2019-10-22 Marine Protected Areas Science Policy and Management addresses a full spectrum of issues relating to Marine Protected Areas MPAs not currently available in any other single volume Chapters are contributed by a wide range of working specialists who examine conceptions and definitions of MPAs progress on the implementation of worldwide MPAs policy and legal variations across MPAs the general importance of coastal communities in implementation and the future of MPAs The book constructively elucidates conflicts issues approaches and solutions in a way that creates a balanced consideration of the nature of effective policy and management Those in theory designation implementation or management of MPAs from individuals marine sector organizations and university and research center libraries will find it an important work Provides a much needed one stop shop for information on Marine Protected Areas Presents chapters from a diverse group of contributors enabling a broad and deep perspective Includes case studies throughout providing real life examples and best practice recommendations

Marine Conservation Bob Earll, 2018-10-08 In the last 50 years marine conservation has grown from almost nothing to become a major topic of global activity involving many people and organisations Marine conservation activities have been applied to a huge diversity of species habitats ecosystems and whole seas Many marine conservation actions have focused on human impacts on the marine environment from development and pollution to the impacts of fisheries Whilst science has provided the backbone of thinking on marine conservation perhaps the biggest change over this period has been the use of an ever increasing range of techniques and disciplines to further marine conservation ends Bob Earll explores what marine conservation involves in practice by providing a synthesis of the main developments from the viewpoints of 19 leading practitioners and pioneers who have helped shape its progress and successes Their narratives highlight the diversity and richness of activity and the realities of delivering marine conservation in practice with reference to a host of projects and case studies Many of these narratives demonstrate how innovative conservationists have been often developing novel approaches to problems where little information and no frameworks exist The case studies described are based on a wide range of European and international projects This book takes an in depth look at the reality of delivering marine conservation in practice where achieving change is often a complicated process with barriers to overcome that have nothing to do with science Marine conservationists will often be working with stakeholders for whom marine conservation is not a priority This book aims to help readers describe and understand those realities and shows that successful and inspirational projects can be delivered against the odds

Marine Conservation Paleobiology Carrie L. Tyler,Chris L. Schneider,2018-04-26 This volume describes and explores the emerging discipline of conservation paleobiology and addresses challenges faced by established and young Conservation Paleobiologist s alike In addition this volume includes applied research highlighting how conservation paleobiology can be used to understand ecosystem response to perturbation in near and deep time Across 10 chapters the book aims to 1 explore the goals of conservation paleoecology as a science 2 highlight how conservation paleoecology can be used to understand ecosystems responses to crises 3 provide case studies of applications to modern ecosystems 4 develop novel applications of paleontological approaches to neontological data and 5 present a range of ecosystem response and recovery through environmental crises from high resolution impacts on organism interactions to the broadest scale of responses of the entire marine biosphere to global change The volume will be of interest to paleoecologists paleobiologists and conservation biologists

Marine Ecology Michel J. Kaiser,Simon Jennings,David Thomas,2020 There has never been a more important time to understand our marine environment Oceans influence our climate and provide a valuable source of food to billions of people They are vital to our very existence and they are under threat Clearly written and beautifully illustrated Marine Ecology Processes Systems and Impacts addresses the fundamental global processes of primary and microbial production that characterize marine systems before going on to detail the diverse systems we see around the world from coral reefs to polar regions from the shores to the deep sea The third section of the book Impacts tackles some of the most pressing environmental issues relevant to marine ecology including climate change conservation pollution disturbance the impact of fisheries and aquaculture New to this edition A new chapter on Climate Change equips you to think more deeply about climate related issues by explaining the mechanisms through which oceans respond to the altering climate A new chapter on Sea and Society delves into the economic and sociological relationship between human beings and the ocean helping you to fully understand the value of marine ecosystems to mankind and how to manage this relationship responsibly A comprehensive update of the Microbial Production chapter has re organised and refreshed the scientific material presented to give a thorough grounding in the chemical principles that inform key microbial processes in marine ecology Book jacket

Culture and International Law Hikmahanto Juwana,Jeffrey Thomas,Mohd Hazmi Mohd Rusli,Dhiana Puspitawati,2019-09-03 In this era of globalization International Law plays a significant role in facing rapid development of various legal issues Cultural preservation has emerged as an important legal issue that should be considered by States This book consists of academic papers presented and discussed during the 9th International Conference of the Centre of International Law Studies 9th CILS Conference held in Malang Indonesia 2 3 October 2018 The title of the book represents the major theme of the conference Culture and International Law It is argued that along with globalization cultural preservation is slowly ignored by States Various papers presented in the book cover five topics cultural heritage cultural rights culture and economic activity culture and armed conflict and a general topic The authors of the papers are outstanding academics from various countries Lithuania United States of America Australia Thailand and Indonesia The conference was organized by Universitas Indonesia in collaboration with Brawijaya University This book aims to give a useful contribution to the existing literature on International Law specifically focussing on cultural issues from the perspective of cultural heritage and rights economic as well as armed conflict

Routledge Handbook of Seascapes Gloria Pungetti, 2022-07-31 Seascapes studies have developed in response to questions arising from composite correlations such as coastal island and marine research social requirements landscape design and planning marine ecology and environment and resource management This global volume is the first comprehensive overview to provide a solid foundation on the concept of seascape with the latest research findings from leading experts across a variety of fields offering a holistic approach to seascape linking nature with culture and theory with practice Divided into six parts it includes over 30 chapters from contributors around the world Pioneering methods with illustrated case studies from the Mediterranean Scandinavia North Sea North America and Asia serve as examples for future seascape development conservation and governance An important and extremely timely resource the Routledge Handbook of Seascapes provides academics practitioners NGOs consultants and government officials with a broad overview of current research and practice for future application and advance worldwide

Citizen Science for Coastal and Marine Conservation John A. Cigliano, Heidi L. Ballard, 2017-10-31 In recent years citizen science has emerged as a powerful new concept to enable the general public students and volunteers to become involved in scientific research A prime example is in biodiversity conservation where data collection and monitoring can be greatly enhanced through citizen participation This is the first book to provide much needed guidance and case studies from marine and coastal conservation The novelty and rapid expansion of the field has created a demand for the discussion of key issues and the development of best practices The book demonstrates the utility and feasibility as well as limitations of using marine and coastal citizen science for conservation and by providing critical considerations i e which questions and systems are best suited for citizen science presents recommendations for best practices for successful marine and coastal citizen science projects A range of case studies for example on monitoring of seabird populations invasive species plastics pollution and the impacts of climate change from different parts of the world is included Also included are discussions on engaging youth indigenous communities and divers and snorkelers as citizen scientists as well as best practices on communication within citizen science building trust with stakeholders and informing marine policy as part of this exciting and empowering way of improving marine and coastal conservation International Symposium on Fisheries Sustainability: Strengthening the science-policy nexus Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2019-10-31 The objective of this Symposium is to identify pathways to strengthen the science and policy interplay in fisheries production management and trade based on solid sustainability principles for improved global outcomes on the ground Ultimately the debates and conclusions of the symposium will prepare the way for the development of a new vision for the way we perceive and use capture fisheries outlining how the sector can respond to the complex and rapidly changing challenges facing society and support the planning process of the UN Decade of Ocean Science for Sustainable Development 2021 2030

Ecosystem-Based Management for the Oceans Karen McLeod,Heather Leslie,2012-09-26 Conventional management approaches cannot meet the challenges faced by ocean and coastal ecosystems today Consequently national and international bodies have called for a shift toward more comprehensive ecosystem based marine management Synthesizing a vast amount of current knowledge Ecosystem Based Management for the Oceans is a comprehensive guide to utilizing this promising new approach At its core ecosystem based management EBM is about acknowledging connections Instead of focusing on the impacts of single activities on the delivery of individual ecosystem services EBM focuses on the array of services that we receive from marine systems the interactive and cumulative effects of multiple human activities on these coupled ecological and social systems and the importance of working towards common goals across sectors Ecosystem Based Management for the Oceans provides a conceptual framework for students and professionals who want to understand and utilize this powerful approach And it employs case studies that draw on the experiences of EBM practitioners to demonstrate how EBM principles can be applied to real world problems The book emphasizes the importance of understanding the factors that contribute to social and ecological resilience the extent to which a system can maintain its structure function and identity in the face of disturbance Utilizing the resilience framework professionals can better predict how systems will respond to a variety of disturbances as well as to a range of management alternatives Ecosystem Based Management for the Oceans presents the latest science of resilience while it provides tools for the design and implementation of responsive EBM solutions

Securitizing Marine Protected Areas Elizabeth M. De Santo,2024-07-10 This book presents a novel examination of Marine Protected Areas within a security context bridging science policy and geopolitics and addressing the often under emphasized aspect of environmental justice The book argues that Marine Protected Areas MPAs are not only a critical tool for protecting marine biodiversity in a changing climate but they also play an important role at the intersection of geopolitics and environmental justice and they provide a case study of environmental governance at the science policy interface The book takes an interdisciplinary and critical approach and builds on the author's two decades of experience working in this field Geopolitically it explores the ways in which MPAs provide footprints for influence and access to resources far from home for nations with overseas territories MPAs also raise important issues connected to equity environmental justice and social justice including access to resources and participation in environmental decision making processes key aspects for achieving long term conservation goals The book also demonstrates how MPAs are a critical lens for understanding how policy makers cope with scientific uncertainty and the necessity of well designed and precautionary science advisory processes While the ecological contribution of MPAs is paramount social issues and geopolitical considerations are often less obvious in the discourse underpinning MPAs and the resulting tensions can undermine long term conservation objectives By applying the three lenses of geopolitics environmental justice and science this book provides key insights to help the international community moving past the 2030 biodiversity targets and beyond towards a future of meaningful equitable and effective conservation approaches This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of biodiversity conservation marine studies political geography environmental governance and science policy studies It will also be of interest to marine conservation governance professionals and policymakers

Ecology of Marine Fish Henrique Cabral, Mario LePage, Jeremy Lobry, Olivier Le Pape, 2024-11-28 Ecology of Marine Fish offers updated reviews of the current knowledge on the ecology of marine fish This book is an all inclusive reference on the diversity of marine fish their behaviors their role in marine food webs as well as the human and environmental impacts on marine fish such as pollutants and climate change It takes a historical approach to discussing spatial and temporal patterns of fish populations and introduces the changing patterns of the present Each chapter provides an in depth review of the science behind marine fish populations and the methodological tools to study them This book is an excellent resource for anyone in the fisheries sector including scientists and researchers fisheries managers marine resource managers marine biologists fish farmers marine ecologists policy makers leaders and regulators operations researchers as well as students and faculty studying marine fish ecology Provides the latest scientific research and developments in the field Presents a wide scope of different methodological approaches useful for field studies Includes information on the role of marine fish in food webs and the impacts of climate change

Challenges in Estuarine and Coastal Science John Humphreys, Sally Little, 2022-03-07 Estuarine and coastal waters are acknowledged centres for anthropogenic impacts Superimposed on the complex natural interactions between land rivers and sea are the myriad consequences of human activity a spectrum ranging from locally polluting effluents to some of the severest consequences of global climate change For practitioners academics and students in the field of coastal science and policy this timely book examines and exemplifies current and future challenges from upper estuaries to open coasts and adjacent seas from tropical to temperate latitudes from Europe to Australia This authoritative volume marks the 50th anniversary of the Estuarine and

Coastal Sciences Association Drawing on the expertise of more than 60 specialist contributors individual chapters address coastal erosion and deposition open shores to estuaries and deltas marine plastics coastal squeeze and habitat loss tidal freshwaters saline incursion and estuarine squeeze restoration management using remote data collection carbon storage species distribution and non natives shorebirds Modelling environmental change physical processes such as sediments and modelling sea level rise and estuarine tidal dynamics estuaries as fish nurseries policy versus reality in coastal conservation developments in estuarine coastal and marine management In addition to providing an overview of current scientific understanding the material gathered here offers a clear eyed perspective on what needs to be done to protect these fragile and vital ecosystems

Marine Policy Mark Zacharias, 2014-03-14 This textbook provides the reader with a foundation in policy development and analysis and describes how policy including legal mechanisms is applied to marine environments around the world It offers a systematic treatment of all aspects of marine policy including environmental protection fisheries transportation energy mining and climate change It starts with a biophysical overview of the structure and function of the marine environment with a particular emphasis on the challenges and opportunities of managing the marine environment An overview of the creation and function of international law is then provided with a focus on international marine law It explores the geographic and jurisdictional dimensions of marine policy as well the current and anticipated challenges facing marine systems including climate change related impacts and resource over exploitation The book should appeal to senior undergraduate and graduate students and form a core part of the curriculum for marine affairs science and policy courses It will also provide supplementary reading for students taking a course in the law of the oceans but is not aimed at legal specialists

Offshore Energy and Marine Spatial Planning Katherine L. Yates, Corey J. A. Bradshaw, 2018-03-29 The generation of offshore energy is a rapidly growing sector competing for space in an already busy seascape This book brings together the ecological economic and social implications of the spatial conflict this growth entails Covering all energy generation types wind wave tidal oil and gas it explores the direct and indirect impacts the growth of offshore energy generation has on both the marine environment and the existing uses of marine space Chapters explore main issues associated with offshore energy such as the displacement of existing activities and the negative impacts it can have on marine species and ecosystems Chapters also discuss how the growth of offshore energy generation presents new opportunities for collaboration and co location with other sectors for example the co location of wild capture fisheries and wind farms The book integrates these issues and opportunities and demonstrates the importance of holistic marine spatial planning for optimising the location of offshore energy generation sites It highlights the importance of stakeholder engagement in these planning processes and the role of integrated governance with illustrative case studies from the United States United Kingdom northern Europe and the Mediterranean It also discusses trade off analysis and decision theory and provides a range of tools and best practices to inform future planning processes
