Smith, Enid Wistrich, 2016-04-22 Combining historical and policy study with empirical research from a qualitative study of regional elites this book offers an original and timely insight into the progress of devolution of governance in England With particular interest in how governments have tried and continue to engage English people in sub national democratic processes while dealing with the realities of governance it uses in depth interviews with key figures from three English regions to get the inside view of how these processes are seen by the regional and local political administrative business and voluntary sector elites who have to make policies work in practice Tracing the development of decentralisation policies through regional policies up to and including the general election in 2010 and the radical shift away from regionalism to localism by the new Coalition Government thereafter the authors look in detail at some of the key policies of the incumbent Coalition Government such as City Regions and Localism and their implementation Finally they consider the implications of the existing situation and speculate on possible issues for the future Beyond Instrumentalised Politics Garrett Thomson, Scherto Gill, 2024-05-06 Political thinking tends to outline reforms to existing political institutions In contrast Beyond Instrumentalised Politics argues for the need for systemic transformation It articulates the evaluative principles for good
