What makes a good democracy "participatory"? Approximately what percentage of Americans participate in some political activities? How does this compare with others?

Approximately 60% of Americans participate in some political activities. This is higher than most other democracies.

What are some reasons for this comparatively high participation? (Consider the political system itself, "civicness", effort to recruit for this?)

Reasons include: (1) political system is more open and responsive to citizens' views; (2) high level of "civicness" among Americans; (3) effort to recruit for this.
