Heidegger And The Thinking Of Place Explorations In The Topology Of Being:

Heidegger and the Thinking of Place Jeff Malpas, 2012-01-27 The philosophical significance of place in Heidegger's work and as the focus of a distinctive mode of philosophical thinking The idea of place topos runs through Martin Heidegger's thinking almost from the very start It can be seen not only in his attachment to the famous hut in Todtnauberg but in his constant deployment of topological terms and images and in the situated placed character of his thought and of its major themes and motifs Heidegger's work argues Jeff Malpas exemplifies the practice of philosophical topology In Heidegger and the Thinking of Place Malpas examines the topological aspects of Heidegger's thought and offers a broader elaboration of the philosophical significance of place Doing so he provides a distinct and productive approach to Heidegger as well as a new reading of other key figures notably Kant Aristotle Gadamer and Davidson but also Benjamin Arendt and Camus Malpas expanding arguments he made in his earlier book Heidegger's Topology MIT Press 2007 discusses such topics as the role of place in philosophical thinking the topological character of the transcendental the convergence of Heideggerian topology with Davidsonian triangulation the necessity of mortality in the possibility of human life the role of materiality in the working of art the significance of nostalgia and the nature of philosophy as beginning in wonder Philosophy Malpas argues begins in wonder and begins in place and the experience of place The place of wonder of philosophy of questioning he writes is the very topos of thinking

Heidegger's Topology Jeff Malpas, 2008-08-29 This groundbreaking inquiry into the centrality of place in Martin Heidegger's thinking offers not only an illuminating reading of Heidegger's thought but a detailed investigation into the way in which the concept of place relates to core philosophical issues In Heidegger's Topology Jeff Malpas argues that an engagement with place explicit in Heidegger's later work informs Heidegger's thought as a whole What guides Heidegger's thinking Malpas writes is a conception of philosophy's starting point our finding ourselves already there situated in the world in place Heidegger's concepts of being and place he argues are inextricably bound together Malpas follows the development of Heidegger's topology through three stages the early period of the 1910s and 1920s through Being and Time centered on the meaning of being the middle period of the 1930s into the 1940s centered on the truth of being and the late period from the mid 1940s on when the place of being comes to the fore Malpas also challenges the widely repeated arguments that link Heidegger's notions of place and belonging to his entanglement with Nazism The significance of Heidegger as a thinker of place Malpas claims lies not only in Heidegger's own investigations but also in the way that spatial and topographic thinking has flowed from Heidegger's work into that of other key thinkers of the past 60 years

Topological (in) Hegel Borislav G. Dimitrov, 2018-01-23 The aim of this book is to critically examine whether it is methodologically possible to combine mathematical rigor topology with a systematic dialectical methodology in Hegel and if so to provide as result of my interpretation the outline of Hegel's Analysis Situs also with the proposed models build on the topological manifold cobordism topological data analysis persistent homology simplicial complexes and graph theory to provide an indication of how the merger of Hegel's dialectical logic and topology may be instrumental to a systematic logician and of how a systematic dialectical logic perspective may help mathematical model builders

Place, Space and Hermeneutics Bruce B. Janz, 2017-03-29 This book analyzes the hermeneutics of place raising questions about central issues such as textuality dialogue and play It discusses the central figures in the development of hermeneutics and place and surveys disciplines and areas in which a hermeneutic approach to place has been fruitful It covers the range of philosophical hermeneutic theory both within philosophy itself as well as from other disciplines In doing so the volume reflects the state of theorization on these issues and also looks forward to the implications and opportunities that exist Philosophical hermeneutics has fundamentally altered philosophy's approach to place Issues such as how we dwell in place how place is imagined created preserved and lost and how philosophy itself exists in place have become central While there is much research applying hermeneutics to place there is little which both reflects on that heritage and critically analyzes a hermeneutic approach to place This book fills that void by offering a sustained analysis of the central elements major figures and disciplinary applications of hermeneutics and place

Possibilities of Place in Continental Thought Jussi Palmusaari, Nicolas Schneider, 2024-09-05 Exploring the critical potential of place in continental philosophy Possibilities of Place in Continental Thought tests the political and ontological valences of this concept to go beyond the limits of existing geographical and phenomenological approaches Considering place as emergent relational and enveloping or in connection to passage becoming or redemption the contributions to this volume point to the possibilities inherent in philosophical uses of place By rejecting a singular and homogenous theory of place this collection collapses the dichotomies that tend to characterize the discourse on place in favour of a plural conceptualization It draws attention to the spatial and temporal dynamics within varying theoretical and historical contexts and moves the field forward in significant and vital ways Being Promised Gregory Walter, 2013-10-16 Promise along with gift is among the predominant metaphors for the Western Christian tradition to describe God's gracious actions Being Promised argues that promise is itself a kind of gift exchange and analyzes the power time and place of God's promise Gregory Walter offers a theological analysis of promise anthropological and phenomenological reflection on gift exchange and a critical appreciation of other theological appropriations of gift to support his argument Walter clarifies the phenomenon of promise as gift and shows its theological hermeneutical and ethical significance No other book theologically examines promise and gift exchange like this one does

Duarte, Justin Michael Battin, 2021-01-12 Very few contemporary television programs provoke spirited responses quite like the dystopian series Black Mirror This provocative program infamous for its myriad apocalyptic portrayals of humankind's relationship with an array of electronic and digital technologies has proven quite adept at offering insightful commentary on a number of issues contemporary society is facing This timely collection draws on innovative and interdisciplinary theoretical frameworks to provide unique perspectives about how confrontations with such issues should be considered and understood through the contemporary post media condition that drives technology use Exploring the Work of Edward S. Casey Azucena Cruz-Pierre, Donald A. Landes, 2013-10-10 An authoritative study of Casey's major themes and ideas exploring and confirming his impact and contributions to contemporary philosophy Ruin Memories Bjørnar Olsen, Þóra Pétursdóttir, 2014-04-24 Since the nineteenth century mass production consumerism and cycles of material replacement have accelerated increasingly larger amounts of things are increasingly victimized rapidly and made redundant At the same time processes of destruction have immensely intensified although largely overlooked when compared to the research and social significance devoted to consumption and production The outcome is a ruin landscape of derelict factories closed shopping malls overgrown bunkers and redundant mining towns a ghostly world of decaying modern debris normally omitted from academic concerns and conventional histories The archaeology of the recent or contemporary past has grown fast during the last decade This development has been concurrent with a broader popular artistic and scholarly interest in modern ruins in general Ruin Memories explores how the ruins of modernity are conceived and assigned cultural value in contemporary academic and public discourses reassesses the cultural and historical value of modern ruins and suggests possible means for reaffirming their cultural and historic significance Crucial for this reassessment is a concern with decay and ruination and with the role things play in expressing the neglected unsuccessful and ineffable Abandonment and ruination is usually understood negatively through the tropes of loss and deprivation things are degraded and humiliated while the information knowledge and memory embedded in them become lost along the way Without even ignoring its many negative and traumatizing aspects a main question addressed in this book is whether ruination also can be seen as an act of disclosure If ruination disturbs the routinized and ready to hand to what extent can it also be seen as a recovery of memory as exposing meanings and presences that perhaps are only possible to grasp at second hand when no longer immersed in their withdrawn and useful reality Anybody interested in the archaeology of the contemporary past will find Ruin Memories an essential guide to the very latest theoretical research in this emerging field of archaeological thought Unsettling Nature Taylor Egan, 2022-03-24 The German poet and mystic Novalis once identified philosophy as a form of homesickness More than two centuries later as modernity's displacements continue to intensify we feel Novalis's homesickness more than ever Yet nowhere has a longing for home flourished more than in contemporary environmental thinking and particularly in eco phenomenology If only we can reestablish our sense of material enmeshment in nature so the logic goes we might reverse the degradation we humans have wrought and in saving the earth we can once again dwell in the nearness of our own being Unsettling Nature opens with a meditation on the trouble with such ecological homecoming narratives which bear a close resemblance to narratives of settler colonial homemaking Taylor Egan demonstrates that the Heideggerian strain of eco phenomenology along with its well trod categories of home dwelling and world produces uncanny effects in settler colonial contexts He reads instances of nature's defamiliarization not merely as psychological phenomena but also as symptoms of the repressed consciousness of coloniality The book at once critiques Heidegger's phenomenology and brings it forward through chapters on Willa Cather D H Lawrence Olive Schreiner Doris Lessing and J M Coetzee Suggesting that alienation may in fact be natural to the human condition and hence something worth embracing instead of repressing Unsettling Nature concludes with a speculative proposal to transform eco phenomenology into exo phenomenology an experiential mode that engages deeply with the alterity of others and with the self as its own Other

Mapping Home in Contemporary Narratives Aleksandra Bida, 2018-09-22 By offering an analysis of the idea of home across the individual interpersonal social and global scales Mapping Home aims to show the extent to which self concept is deeply tied to constructions of home in a globally mobile age The epistemological link between dwelling as knowing oneself and the experience of welcome as key to being able to map one's place's in the world are examined through Martin Heidegger's concept of dwelling Zygmunt Bauman's notion of liquid modernity Jacques Derrida's exploration of hostile hospitality and Kwame Anthony Appiah's sense of cosmopolitanism as border crossing conversation To further explore these ideas the book draws on multimodal literature and films that span genres including gothic horror fantasy and science fiction thoughtful comedies and politically nuanced tragedies The quality that deeply links the texts is their ability to illuminate the stabilities and mobilities through which home not only mediates but also integrates an individual's diverse experiences of belonging in different locations as well as on different geocultural scales from the intimate household to the more abstract hometown or homeland and beyond

Seamus Heaney as Aesthetic Thinker Eugene O'Brien, 2016-04-04 Seamus Heaney's unexpected death in August 2013 brought to completion his body of work and scholars are only now coming to understand the full scale and importance of this extraordinary career The Nobel Prize winning poet translator and playwright from the North of Ireland is considered the most important Irish poet after Yeats and at the time of his death arguably the most famous living poet For this reason much of the scholarship to date on Heaney has understandably focused on his poetry O'Brien's new work however focuses on Heaney's essays book chapters and lectures as it seeks to understand how Heaney explored the poet's role in the world. By examining Heaney's prose, O'Brien teases out a clearer understanding of Heaney's sense of the function of poetry as an act of public intellectual and ethical inquiry. In doing so, O'Brien reads Heaney as an aesthetic thinker in the European tradition, considering him alongside Heidegger, Derrida, Lacan, and Adorno. Studying Heaney within this theoretical and philosophical tradition sheds new and useful light on one of the greatest creative minds of the twentieth century.

Kenosis Creativity Architecture Randall S. Lindstrom, 2021-03-21
 Kenosis Creativity Architecture locates and explores creativity's grounding in the ancient concept of kenosis, the emptying that allows creativity to happen that makes appearance possible. It concretises that grounding through architecture, a primal expression of human creativity, critically examining for the first time kenotic instantiations evidenced in four iconic international projects: works by Kahn, Pei, Ando, and Libeskind. Then, in a final turn, the potentiality of architecture's own emptying is probed. Architect and author Randall Lindstrom draws on Western and Eastern philosophy, including that of Heidegger, Levinas, Derrida, Vattimo, Nishida, and Nishitani, as well as on the theology of Christianity, Judaism, and aspects of Buddhism, Hinduism, and Islam. Every chapter expands the argument that if responsiveness to our world is taken seriously, if proper and sustainable responses are to be realised, then a deeper understanding of creativity and so kenosis is essential. This book opens up a way of thinking about creativity and humanity's readiness to be creative. It thereby presents a crucial enquiry at the nexus of architecture, philosophy, and theology for researchers, graduate and postgraduate students, and practitioners alike.

Art, Animals, and Experience Elizabeth Sutton, 2017-04-21
 Elizabeth Sutton, using a phenomenological approach, investigates how animals in art invite viewers to contemplate human relationships to the natural world. Using Rembrandt van Rijn's etching of The Presentation in the Temple (c. 1640), Joseph Beuys's social sculpture I Like America and America Likes Me (1974), archaic rock paintings at Horseshoe Canyon, Canyonlands National Park, and examples from contemporary art, this book demonstrates how artists across time and cultures employed animals to draw attention to the sensory experience of the composition and reflect upon the shared sensory awareness of the world.

Southeast Asian Ecocriticism John Charles Ryan, 2017-11-08
 Southeast Asian Ecocriticism presents a timely exploration of the rapidly expanding field of ecocriticism through its devotion to the writers, creators, theorists, traditions, concerns, and landscapes of Southeast Asian countries. While ecocritics have begun to turn their attention to East and South Asian contexts and particularly to Chinese and Indian cultural productions, less emphasis has been placed on the diverse environmental traditions of Southeast Asia. Building on recent scholarship in Asian ecocriticism, the book gives prominence to the range of theoretical models and practical approaches employed by scholars based within and located outside of the Southeast region. Consisting of twelve chapters, Southeast Asian Ecocriticism includes contributions on the ecological prose, poetry, cinema, and music of Indonesia, Malaysia, Myanmar, the Philippines, Thailand, and Vietnam. The authors emphasize the transnational exchanges of materials, technologies, texts, motifs, and ideas between Southeast Asian countries and Australia, England, Taiwan,

Formosa and the United States From environmental hermeneutics postcolonial studies indigenous studies and ecofeminism to critical plant studies ecopoetics and ecopedagogy the edited collection embodies the dynamic breadth of interdisciplinary environmental scholarship today Southeast Asian Ecocriticism foregrounds the theories practices and prospects of ecocriticism in the region The volume opens up new directions and reveals fresh possibilities not only for ecocritical scholarship in Southeast Asia but for a comparative environmental criticism that transcends political boundaries and national canons The volume highlights the important role of literature in heightening awareness of ecological issues at local regional and global scales
