Announcement Iowa State College, 1912 Learning to Teach Geography in the Secondary School Mary Biddulph, David Lambert, David Balderstone, 2015-05-20

Learning to Teach Geography in the Secondary School has become the widely recommended textbook for student and new teachers of geography. It helps you acquire a deeper understanding of the role, purpose, and potential of geography within the secondary curriculum and provides the practical skills needed to design, teach, and evaluate stimulating and challenging lessons. It is grounded in the notion of social justice and the idea that all students are entitled to a high-quality geography education. The very practical dimension provides you with support structures through which you can begin to develop your own philosophy of teaching and debate key questions about the nature and purpose of the subject in school. Fully revised and updated in light of extensive changes to the curriculum as well as to initial teacher education, the new edition considers the current debates around what we mean by geographical knowledge and what's involved in studying at Masters level. Key chapters explore the fundamentals of teaching and learning geography: Why we teach and what to teach; Understanding and planning the curriculum; Effective pedagogy; Assessment; Developing and using resources; Fieldwork and outdoor learning; Values in school geography; Professional development. Intended as a core textbook and written with university and school-based initial teacher education in mind, Learning to Teach Geography in the Secondary School is essential reading for all those who aspire to become effective, reflective teachers. Praise for previous editions of Learning to Teach Geography in the Secondary School: This is a practical and visionary book as well as being superbly optimistic. It has as much to offer the experienced teacher as the novice and could be used to reinvigorate geography departments everywhere. Practical activities and ideas are set within a carefully worked-out authoritative conceptual framework. The Times Educational Supplement. This is a modern, powerful, relevant, and comprehensive work, a standard reference for many beginning teachers on geography initial teacher training courses. Educational Review.

Learning to Teach English in the Secondary School Jon Davison, Jane Dowson, 2003

Focused on the key skills needed to teach English at the secondary school level, this text covers a range of issues that include use of new technology, reading, writing, speaking, listening, drama, and the teaching of grammar.

Literacy in the Secondary School Maureen Lewis, David Wray, 2014-02-25

First Published in 2000, Literacy is on the agenda in a big way in the United Kingdom. The principal target of the National

Literacy Strategy from 1997 till the middle of 1999 was the practice of teaching literacy in primary classrooms From 1999 however the target has broadened and now clearly encompasses secondary school teaching as well Very few secondary teachers even of English have received any substantial training in literacy work and if they are to respond in the best way possible to current initiatives they need help help of a very practical nature which enables them to introduce more effective attention to literacy into their subject teaching The aim of this book is to provide an account of the good practice encountered by the authors and offer some valuable practical support to secondary schools and teachers 777
