Governing Refugees Kirsten McConnachie, 2014-04-24 Refugee camps are imbued in the public imagination with assumptions of anarchy danger and refugee passivity Governing Refugees Justice Order and Legal Pluralism challenges such assumptions arguing that refugee camps should be recognized as spaces where social capital can not only survive but thrive This book examines camp management and the administration of justice in refugee camps on the Thailand Burma border Emphasising the work of refugees themselves in coping with and adapting to encampment it considers themes of agency sovereignty and legal pluralism in an analysis of local governance and the production of order beyond the state Governing Refugees will appeal to anyone with relevant interests in law anthropology and criminology as well as those working in the area of refugee studies

Refugees' Roles in Resolving Displacement and Building Peace Megan Bradley, James Milner, Blair Peruniak, 2019-06-01 How are refugee crises solved This has become an urgent question as global displacement rates continue to climb and refugee situations now persist for years if not decades The resolution of displacement and the conflicts that force refugees from their homes is often explained as a top down process led and controlled by governments and international organizations This book takes a different approach Through contributions from scholars working in politics anthropology law sociology and philosophy and a wide range of case studies it explores the diverse ways in which refugees themselves interpret create and pursue solutions to their plight It investigates the empirical and normative significance of refugees engagement as agents in these processes and their implications for research policy and practice This book speaks both to academic debates and to the broader community of peacebuilding humanitarian and human rights scholars concerned with the nature and dynamics of agency in contentious political contexts and identifies insights that can inform policy and practice

Policing and the Politics of Order-Making Peter Albrecht, Helene Maria Kyed, 2014-10-30 This anthology explores the political nature of making order through policing activities in densely populated spaces across Africa Asia and Latin America Based on ethnographic research the chapters analyze this complex with respect to marginalized young men in Haiti community policing members and national politicians in Swaziland as well as other individual and collective actors engaged in policing and politics in Indonesia Swaziland Ghana South Africa Mexico Bolivia Haiti and Sierra Leone What these contexts have in common is a plurality of order making practices Not one institution monopolizes the means of violence or a de facto sovereign position to do so A number of interests are played out simultaneously entailing re negotiations over the very definition of what order is How and by whom a particular order is enforced is contested at times violently so and is therefore inherently political In the existing literature on weak states legal pluralism and policing in the Global South it is seldom made explicit that making order is a route to power and positions of political decision making It is this gap in the literature that this anthology fills as it analyses the politics at

Hammergren, 2014-04-29 This book explores the objectives pursued in donor programs the methods used to advance them and the underlying assumptions and strategies It emphasizes the unexpected and sometimes unpleasant consequences of ignoring not only political and societal constraints but also advances in our technical approaches to performance improvement the one area where the First World has a comparative advantage The geographic scope of the work is broad incorporating examples from Eastern and Central Europe Latin America Africa and the Asia Pacific region as well as from several First World nations Justice Reform and Development examines First World assistance to justice or rule of law reforms in developing and transitional societies arguing that its purported failure is vastly exaggerated largely because of unrealistic expectations as to what could be accomplished Change nonetheless is needed if the programs are to continue and would be best based on targeting specific performance problems incorporation of donor countries experience with their own reforms and greater attention to relevant research While contributing to an on going debate among practitioners and academics involved in justice programs this book will also be accessible to readers with little exposure to the topics especially advanced undergraduate and graduate students in law political science and areas studies
