

The Outsiders

Ponyboy Curtis is a Greaser, a teenager who grows his hair long and acts tough. His gang of friends, not always getting into it with another group in town, called the Socs, are pretty into an apocalyptic movie. One night Pony and his best friend, Johnny get jumped by the Socs, and things take a turn for the worst. Forced into hiding, the boys discover that there's more to them, than the labels society has given them.

Prior to Watching the Film Questions

Answer the following questions prior to watching the film.

1. How would you describe yourself to someone? List 5 character traits or traits you would not.
2. How do we categorize people in our society? (Hint: Try to think of the labels, or boxes that we place people into.)
3. What labels have you been given by other people?
4. Do those labels define who you are completely? Or is there more to you than people know or see. Explain.

make comparisons between the two types of settings through an understanding of how writing is operative within the particularities of these settings. Although the research was initially established to further understanding of the relationships between writing in academic and workplace settings, it has evolved to examining writing as it is embedded in both types of settings where social relationships, available tools, and historical, cultural, temporal, and physical location are all implicated in complex ways in the decisions people make as writers. Readers of this volume will discover that the uniqueness of each setting makes salient different aspects of writers and writing, resulting in complex and potentially unsettling implications for writing theory and the teaching of writing.
