Engaging Black Men in College Through

Leadership Learning Cameron C. Beatty, Jesse R. Ford, 2023-05-01 This book encourages leadership educators and practitioners to understand the importance of black male leadership on college campuses in today's world. As the push to make higher education more culturally relevant and inclusive, the need for these educators to critically engage in their work to create intentional and developmental experiences for their black male leaders is needed now more than ever. The contexts outlined in this book illustrate the need to see Black men's leadership as a critical dynamic and ever-evolving component on college campuses that requires intentionality to best develop, serve, and holistically engage Black men in leadership learning. This book is intended to be a practical and scholarly resource to aid in the awareness of Black men in college. Black men's leadership identities and experiences and the growing need to assist this population's success in college and beyond. Engaging Black Men In College Through Leadership Learning centers on leadership and Black identity as it tackles the intersecting identities of maleness, Blackness, and leadership identity as it encourages educators to consider the importance of the college environment in shaping the next generation of Black men collegiate leaders. In addition, this scholarship provides insight into Black men's leadership experiences in various contexts including fraternity life, first-year experiences, and student organizations while capturing the collective experiences of Black men as leadership learners at different types of institutions including HBCUs, Community Colleges, PWIs, and a host of other institution types. This resource is for leadership educators and practitioners to develop Black men as leaders on today's college campuses where our global society continues to navigate challenges. This book also situates more nuanced topics such as mental health, trans identity, graduate education, and the experiences of former foster care youth, which provides insight into the experiences of Black men as leaders on college campuses. These contexts illustrate the need to see Black men's leadership as a critical dynamic and ever-evolving component on college campuses that requires intentionality to best develop, serve, and holistically engage Black men in leadership learning. We encourage readers of this text to consider how Black men's experiences with leadership are woven into the fabric of your college campus and how you can be an advocate for more critical and sustainable ways to engage Black men in college through leadership learning.

school district administrators specifically superintendents contend with so many difficult and almost impossible competing commitments Building on the definitions of revolution revolutionary evolution and evolutionary the notion of R Evolutionary Leadership emerged while discussing the need for school district leaders to push back against the status quo while improving teacher and leadership practices improving student learning outcomes engaging with the community and ensuring decision making processes that include check and balance systems that are just fair and equitable for all The chapters in this book introduce superintendents or research on superintendents in which these tenants were practiced both in their ability to enact radical change by overthrowing the status quo as well as evolutionary in their deliberate approach to viewing change as a process they can control over time These leaders were willing to confront and defy practices and policies that were counter to student well being and achievement while concurrently knowing how to reach their desired results The chapters chosen for inclusion in this volume are those that offered a glimpse of these revolutionary tenants in practice We ask that you consider this emerging concept as you explore the chapters of our book You will find the R evolutionary Leaders you meet in the chapters know how to evolve not just to stay alive but to ensure the organization school remains relevant and vital to society These leaders use their positional power social capital and expertise to advocate for policies and practices that are in the best interest of the school community and they innovate in ways that challenge the status quo You will also find practices that are R Evolutionary and provide ways for leaders to innovate collaborate and simply take care of themselves and those around them Our description does not seek to support or define or delineate the characteristics of a R Evolutionary Leader or how one might enact R Evolutionary Leadership but serves as a way to re think the way we view the vastly complex work of school district administrators specifically the superintendent R Evolutionary leadership may change our ways of thinking about the significant advocacy role a superintendent can play in influencing both practice and policy to enact the change necessary to move forward issues of justice equity and quality in PK 12 schools and further to improve educational and social outcomes for those served
