Gender, Mastery and Slavery William Foster, 2009-12-18 Gender family and sexual relations defined human slavery from its classical origins in Europe to the rise and fall of race based slavery in the Americas Gender Mastery and Slavery is one of the first books to explore the importance of men and women to slaveholding across these eras Foster argues that at the heart of the successive European institutions of slavery at home and in the New World was the volatile question of women s ability to exert mastery Facing the challenge to play the good mother in public and private free women from Rome to Muslim North Africa to the indigenous tribes of North America to the antebellum plantations of the southern United States found themselves having to economically manage slaves servants and captives At the same time they had to protect their reputations from various forms of attack and themselves from vilification on a number of fronts With the recurrent cultural wars over the maternal role within slavery touching the worlds of politics warfare religion and colonial and imperial rivalries this lively comparative survey is essential reading for anyone studying or simply interested in this key topic in global and gender history We Pursue Our Magic Marina Magloire,2023-08-29 Drawing on the collected archives of distinguished twentieth century Black woman writers such as Lucille Clifton Audre Lorde Toni Cade Bambara Lorraine Hansberry and others Marina Magloire traces a new history of Black feminist thought in relation to Afro diasporic religion Beginning in the 1930s with the pathbreaking ethnographic work of Katherine Dunham and Zora Neale Hurston in Haiti and ending with the present day popularity of Afro diasporic spiritual practices among Black women she offers an alternative genealogy of Black feminism characterized by its desire to reconnect with ancestrally centered religions like Vodou Magloire reveals the tension discomfort and doubt at the heart of each woman's efforts to connect with ancestral spiritual practices These revered writers are often regarded as unchanging monuments to Black womanhood but Magloire argues that their feminism is rooted less in self empowerment than in a fluid pursuit of community despite the inevitable conflicts wrought by racial capitalism The subjects of this book all model a nuanced Black feminist praxis grounded in the difficult work of community building between Black women across barriers of class culture and time

The Coupling Convention : Sex, Text, and Tradition in Black Women's Fiction Ann duCille Associate Professor of English and African American Studies Wesleyan University,1993-10-19 What does the tradition of marriage mean for people who have historically been deprived of its legal status Generally thought of as a convention of the white middle class the marriage plot has received little attention from critics of African American literature In this study Ann duCille uses texts such as Nella Larsen's Quicksand 1928 and Zora Neale Hurston's Their Eyes Were Watching God 1937 to demonstrate that the African American novel like its European and Anglo American counterparts has developed around the marriage plot what she calls the coupling convention Exploring the relationship between racial ideology and literary and social conventions duCille uses the coupling convention to trace the historical development of the African American women's novel She demonstrates the ways in which black women appropriated this novelistic device as a means of expressing and reclaiming their own identity More than just a study of the marriage tradition in black women's fiction however The Coupling Convention takes up and takes on many different meanings of tradition It challenges the notion of a single black literary tradition or of a single black feminist literary canon grounded in specifically black female language and experience as it explores the ways in which white and black male and female mainstream and marginalized traditions and canons have influenced and cross fertilized each other Much more than a period study The Coupling Convention spans the period from 1853 to 1948 addressing the vital questions of gender subjectivity race and the canon that inform literary study today In this original work duCille offers a new paradigm for reading black women's fiction

Representing Women Susan Sage Heinzelman,1994 This anthology explores the provocative intersection between feminist literary and legal theories Written by feminist thinkers from law and literature discourses that each produce culturally powerful representations of women these essays contest the boundaries that usually separate these disciplines and thereby alter the possibilities of those representations that have traditionally disempowered women Beginning with an exploration of the ways in which women are represented how they either tell or have their stories told in literature in the law in a courtroom this collection demonstrates the interrelatedness of the legal and the literary Whether considering the status of medieval women readers or assessing the effectiveness and extent of contemporary rape law reform the essays show that power first comes with telling one s own story and that the degree and effect of that power are determined by the cultural significance of the forum in which the story is presented But telling the story is not enough One must also be aware of how the story is contained within traditional constructs or boundaries and is thus limited in its effects as Carol Sanger s essay on mothers and legal sexual identity makes clear One must also recognize how a story might perpetuate an ideological agenda that is not in the best interests of the storyteller as Elizabeth Butler Cullingford shows in her reading of Yeats s Leda and the Swan and one must know the historical context of a story and of its telling as Anne B Goldstein s essay on lesbian narratives discloses Breaking down the boundaries between law and literature this anthology makes evident the ways in which the effect of women s stories has been constrained and expands the range of possibilities for those who represent women tell women s stories or present women s issues Representing Women makes the retelling of old stories about women compelling and the telling of new ones both necessary and possible Contributors Kathryn Abrams Linda Brodkey Rita Copeland Elizabeth Butler Cullingford Margaret Anne Doody Susan B Estrich Michelle Fine Anne B Goldstein Angela P Harris Susan Sage Heinzelman Christine L Krueger Martha Minow Carol Sanger Judy Scales Trent
