survivor of the various storms that have beset the practice of the social sciences since the collapse of structuralist and social system paradigms The social action approach privileges the perspective of the acting individual but offers guidelines for connecting the subjective orientation with networks of social interaction and for treating behaviour as a social process Research within this framework takes account of the wider social context and calls for a careful combination of empirical observation and interpretation with a corresponding diversity of methodologies The appeal of the approach stems also from its flexibility wide range of applications and sensitivity to cultural and social meanings The contributions assembled in this book despite their diversity can all be placed within the framework of social action theory Some are reports of empirical inquiries others reflections on theory but each one sheds some light on the significance of media use in everyday experience and contributes to an understanding of communication in society

Translanguaging and Multimodality as Flow, Agency, and a New Sense of Advocacy in and from the Global South Raúl Alberto Mora, Zhongfeng Tian, Ruth Harman, 2024-03-28 This volume provides six distinct frameworks for integrating translanguaging and multimodality as pedagogical possibilities in today's classrooms and beyond. It brings the two constructs together in investigating the language and literacy experiences of multilingual learners across a range of sociocultural and educational contexts. The book features contributions from scholars across the Global North and Global South who embrace the importance of validating scholarly experiences from the Global South as a way to transcend geographical boundaries in creating more equitable knowledge spaces. The contributing authors share their innovative theoretical and methodological orientations to translanguaging and multimodality informed by their considerable expertise as scholars and educators. They address conceptual questions such as issues related to cultural flow, civic and professional identities, entanglement, materiality, first-order languaging and raciolinguistic ideologies. Each chapter deals with these questions through integrated and innovative analyses of empirical evidence in Chinese word instruction, teacher professional development, multimodal composition, online language tutoring, and online teaching videos in Global South societies or transnational interactions. Together, the chapters push against normative theoretical and applied boundaries to help us envision new dynamic intersections of translanguaging and multimodality for today's classrooms and societies. Provocative and disruptive, this book explores the possibilities of mixing and remixing definitions, epistemological standpoints, and methodological options, and shows the continuing growth found in translanguaging and multimodality research worldwide. It will be a key resource for practitioners, researchers, and scholars of education and pedagogy, bilingual education, language and literacy education, applied linguistics, literacy studies, and language arts. Second, it considers representations of literacies as actors having their own power and consequences. Third, it critically examines the place of new and old literacies in a marketplace in which social, economic, and political power advantage is contested The book demonstrates the use of assemblage theory drawing on semiotics geo semiotics and Actor Network Theory for analyzing literacies as assemblages It provides readers with tools of analysis with which to interrogate claims made for the value of literacy innovations and traditions alike It also discusses implications for literacy policy curriculum teacher education and research
