

Literary Criticism vs Literary Theory

- Literary criticism is the practice of interpreting and writing about literature as the latter, in turn, strives to make sense of the world.
- There are many different approaches we can take to critical analysis.

- Literary theory is the study of the principles which inform how critics make sense of literary works.
- Literary theories provide a framework for the discussion or criticism of a text.

For example, a feminist literary critic might take the feminist theories of Helene Cixous, and seek to reach a critical understanding of a novel such as Jane Austen's Pride & Prejudice.
