Palestinians and Israelis in the Theatre Dan Urian, 2006-02 The Jewish Israeli theatre is a complex and developed system in which the dispute with the Palestinians constitutes just one of the important components in its repertoire while the Palestinian theatre both within and outside of Israel is being consolidated This work brings together these two approaches by relating to the Palestinian theme as it appears in the Jewish Israeli theatre and by attempting to characterize the Palestinian theatre in general Encyclopedia of the Palestinians Philip Mattar, 2005 Presents the history of modern Palestine and biographies of important Palestinians Choice, 2009 The Publishers Weekly, 1972 Egyptian Writers Between History and Fiction Samia Mehrez, 1994 Taking as the basis of her study the premise that the boundaries of history and literature are difficult to define and that the two disciplines represent related types of narrative discourse Samia Mehrez examines the work of three leading contemporary Egyptian writers the Nobel laureate Naguib Mahfouz Sonallah Ibrahim and Gamal al Ghitani Mehrez delves into the relationship between history and narrative literature and shows that both attempt to transform reality and life into historical structures of meaning By analyzing the works of these authors in terms of the relationship between authority and the production of narrative literature she reveals a context in which literature becomes a kind of alternative history a discourse that comments not only on the history of a place but also on the creation of a narrative on history As the author says in the Introduction The three writers whose careers and works are discussed in these chapters represent some of the most crucial contributions to the larger signifying entity that has engaged the Arab reader in many transformative ways The authors and their works provide an indispensable history of the literary field itself mapping through their own development as artistic producers the history of the context which they inhabit and in which they produce reality very different from the monocultural image that Zionism aspired to create Drawing on a wide body of social and literary theory Mendelson Maoz compares and contrasts the literatures of the four communities she profiles In her discussion of the literature of the Palestinian citizens of Israel she presents the question of language and translation and she provides three case studies of particular authors and their reception Her study of Mizrahi literature adopts a chronological approach starting in the 1950s and proceeding toward contemporary Mizrahi writing while discussing questions of authenticity and self determination The discussion of Israeli literature written by immigrants from the former Soviet Union focuses both on authors who write Israeli literature in Russian and of Russian immigrants writing in Hebrew The final section of the book provides a valuable new discussion of the work of Ethiopian Israeli writers a group whose contributions have seldom been previously acknowledged The picture that emerges from this groundbreaking book replaces the traditional homogeneous historical narrative of Israeli literature with a diversity of voices a multiplicity of origins and a wide range of different perspectives In doing so it will provoke researchers in a wide range of cultural fields to look at the rich traditions that underlie it in new and fresh ways Z Magazine ,2009 Reconstructing Gender in Middle East Fatma Muge
