

A photograph of a two-lane asphalt road winding through a dense forest. The road has double yellow lines in the center and white lines on the edges. The forest is lush with green trees, and the sky above is a mix of soft pinks, purples, and blues, suggesting a sunset or sunrise. In the distance, a mountain range is visible under the colorful sky.

Stop Going to Church John P. Nappo, 2011-10-10 EXHILARATING that's the word that comes to mind whenever we have the chance to experience the highest roller coaster or hook into the biggest fish out on the ocean. It is the feeling of the challenge, the opportunity to do something perhaps for the first time or the last time on earth. This book is designed to make you feel excited again about your walk with the Lord Jesus and your work in His kingdom on this earth. Until this point, you may have been going through the motions like being on a merry-go-round, moving but not really going anywhere. Or maybe you jumped off the ride a long time ago. Stop Going to Church will move you out into the open streams again where God can use you to do something amazing for Him before your ride is over. Every one of us wants to leave a mark on this world. Each of us wants to know that what we have built with our lives will change people long after we leave. God wants to use us to do just that. But that simply won't happen if all we do is walk where everyone has walked. Your special ministry awaits you. Step out in faith and let God do something really unique with your life. Trust Him, take the challenge, and let this book get you moving in that direction.

The Space Between (Cultural Exegesis) Eric O. Jacobsen, 2012-08-01 The entire material world can be divided between the Natural Environment and the Built Environment Over the past forty years the Natural Environment has received more attention of the two but that is beginning to change With a renewed interest in place within various academic disciplines and the practical issues of rising fuel costs and scarcity of land the Built Environment has emerged as a coherent and engaging subject for academic and popular consideration While there is a growing body of work on the Built Environment very little approaches it from a distinctly Christian perspective This major new work represents a comprehensive and grounded approach Employing tools from the field of theology and culture it demonstrates how looking at the Built Environment through a theological lens provides a unique perspective on questions of beauty justice and human flourishing
