Literary Darwinism Evolution Human Nature And Literature:

Reading Human Nature Joseph Carroll, 2011-03-01 As the founder and leading practitioner of literary Darwinism Joseph Carroll remains at the forefront of a major movement in literary studies Signaling key new developments in this approach Reading Human Nature contains trenchant theoretical essays innovative empirical research sweeping surveys of intellectual history and sophisticated interpretations of specific literary works including The Picture of Dorian Gray Wuthering Heights The Mayor of Casterbridge and Hamlet Evolutionists in the social sciences have succeeded in delineating basic motives but have given far too little attention to the imagination Carroll makes a compelling case that literary Darwinism is not just another school or movement in literary theory It is the moving force in a fundamental paradigm change in the humanities a revolution Psychologists and anthropologists have provided massive evidence that human motives and emotions are rooted in human biology Since motives and emotions enter into all the products of a human imagination humanists now urgently need to assimilate a modern scientific understanding of human nature Integrating evolutionary social science with literary humanism Carroll offers a more complete and adequate understanding of human nature Literary Darwinism Joseph Carroll, 2004-03-01 In Literary Darwinism Carroll presents a comprehensive survey of this new movement with a collection of his most important previously published work along with three new essays The essays and reviews give commentary on all the major contributors to the field situate the field as a whole in relation to historical trends and contemporary schools provide Darwinist readings of major literary texts such as Pride and Prejudice and Tess of the d'Urbervilles and analyze literary Darwinism in relation to the affiliated fields of evolutionary metaphysics cognitive rhetoric and ecocriticism Collecting the essays in a single volume will provide a central point of reference for scholars interested in consulting what the foremost practitioner New York Times of Darwinian literary criticism has to say about his field

A Biocultural Approach to Literary Theory and Interpretation Nancy Easterlin, 2012-05-31 Combining cognitive and evolutionary research with traditional humanist methods Nancy Easterlin demonstrates how a biocultural perspective in theory and criticism opens up new possibilities for literary interpretation Easterlin maintains that the practice of literary interpretation is still of central intellectual and social value Taking an open yet judicious approach she argues however that literary interpretation stands to gain dramatically from a fair minded and creative application of cognitive and evolutionary research This work does just that expounding a biocultural method that charts a middle course between overly reductive approaches to literature and traditionalists who see the sciences as a threat to the humanities Easterlin develops her biocultural method by comparing it to four major subfields within literary studies new historicism ecocriticism cognitive approaches and evolutionary approaches After a thorough review of each subfield she reconsiders them in light of relevant research in cognitive and evolutionary psychology and provides a textual analysis of literary works from the romantic era to the present including William Wordsworth's Simon Lee and the Lucy poems Mary Robinson's Old Barnard Samuel Taylor Coleridge's

Dejection An Ode D H Lawrence s The Fox Jean Rhys s Wide Sargasso Sea and Raymond Carver s I Could See the Smallest Things A Biocultural Approach to Literary Theory and Interpretation offers a fresh and reasoned approach to literary studies that at once preserves the central importance that interpretation plays in the humanities and embraces the exciting developments of the cognitive sciences Handbook on Evolution and Society Alexandra Maryanski,Richard

Machalek,Jonathan H. Monson,2022-03-16 This is the first study to apply the results of modern cognitive science to medieval love literature Covering the entire corpus of Occitan French and Latin love literature of twelfth and thirteenth century France it explores the universal and the culturally specific in medieval poetic attitudes towards love the cognitive structure of the love themes and the cognitive basis for the system of courtly genres It proposes a cognitive taxonomy of courtly literature based on three hyper genres the lyric as the basic mode for the expression of love with courtly narrative and didactic literature arising through a process of amplification of the courtly themes It also includes anti courtly satire which applies to courtly idealism an innate human propensity for detecting cheating Oxford Handbook of Evolutionary Psychology Robin Ian

Systemic Semiotics Piotr Sadowski,2022-09-08 Against the background of often esoteric literature in semiotics this book offers a fresh and rigorous new interpretation of how to approach the study of communication signs and meaning Grounded in a deductive theory of interacting systems Piotr Sadowski's book provides an accessible account of the hierarchy of communication Divided into two parts this book argues in the first section that a deductive semiotic theory generates communication situations of increasing complexity from contiguous communication to indirect referential forms based on indexical iconic and symbolic signs Within this system Sadowski explains how key concepts of the semiotic model such as information parainformation and metainformation can account for degrees of cognitive complexity of communication processes including the perception and interpretation of signs on literal and figurative levels After this clear step by step exposition of the theory of interacting systems Systemic Semiotics then explores various applications of this theory providing new insights into problems subsumed under communication studies cultural theory literary and film studies and psychology

Naturalized Aesthetics Richard A. Richards, 2022-06-29 This book bridges the gap between the many insights into art provided by research in evolutionary theory psychology and neuroscience and those enduring normative issues best addressed by philosophy The sciences have helped us understand how art functions our art preferences and the neurological systems underlying our engagement with art But we continue to rely on philosophy to tell us what is truly good in art how we should engage with art and the conceptual basis for this engagement Naturalized Aesthetics A Scientific Framework for the Philosophy of Art integrates a systematic and comprehensive naturalism grounded in the sciences with an ecology of art It shows how the environments in which we make and experience art our engineered art niches affect the practice and experience of art and generate normativity the goods and the shoulds in our engagement with art There are in effect two streams of normativity according to this book a niche dependent social impersonal and objective stream and a niche independent individual personal and subjective stream Recognition of these two streams allows us to make progress in long standing and unresolved philosophical disputes about how to interpret evaluate and conceive art Key Features Provides a structured and critical introduction to the scientific accounts of art based on evolutionary thinking psychology and neuroscience Develops an ecology of art based on the insight that we engage with art in engineered niches Presents a naturalistic account of normativity based on the recognition of two streams a niche dependent social impersonal and objective stream and a niche independent individual personal and subjective stream Serves as an introduction and critical analysis of the debates about the interpretation evaluation and definitions of art issue of masculinity in the Victorian epic This critical approach enables Machann to take advantage of important research in evolutionary psychology cognitive science anthropology among other scientific fields and to bring the concept of human nature into his discussions of the poems The importance of the Victorian long poem as a literary genre is reviewed in the introduction followed by transformative close readings of the poems that engage with questions of gender particularly representations of masculinity and the prevalence of male violence Machann contextualizes his reading within the poets views on social philosophical and religious issues arguing that the impulses drives and tendencies of human nature as well as the historical and cultural context influenced the writing and thus must inform the interpretation of the Victorian epic
