

The image shows a sophisticated indoor courtyard. In the foreground, a multi-tiered stone waterfall flows into a pool. The courtyard is enclosed by a wall of large, textured stone columns and arched windows with dark frames. Lush tropical plants, including palm trees and broad-leafed foliage, are arranged around the space. The lighting is warm and ambient, highlighting the textures of the stone and the greenery. The overall atmosphere is one of elegance and natural beauty.

fascinating universe of Antoni Gaudí A Snake's Tail Full of Ants John Lane, 1996 There is evidence of a sea change in Western consciousness over the last three or four decades of the 20th century which implies a fundamental rejection of the arts of humanism the tradition of art for the elite art cut off from society from nature and from the sacred added as Eric Gill once said like a sauce to otherwise unpalatable fish cannot serve the needs of our future society John Lane both celebrates the power and challenges the defect of this 500 year old tradition invariably claimed to be the finest that has ever existed He questions whether the institution of the self directed professional artist was a great step forward in the story of self realization or whether it was on the contrary a dehumanising aberration in the history of humankind Challenging and illuminating this book looks forward to a time of revitalized aesthetic activity when creative expression is not lofty professionalized and unapproachable but closely interwoven with the activities of daily life The Rough Guide to
