Living Language Chinese 2009 Day To Day Calendar:

Language Life in Japan Patrick Heinrich, Christian Galan, 2010-09-13 This book analyses how linguistic diversity in Japan and indeed recognition of this phenomenon presents a wide range of sociolinguistic challenges and opportunities in fundamental institutions such as schools in cultural patterns and in social behaviours and attitudes Religion in Japanese Daily Life David C. Lewis, 2017-09-22 Are Japanese people religious and if so in what ways David Lewis addresses this question from the perspective of ordinary Japanese people in the context of their life cycles and explores why they engage in religious activities He not only discusses how Japanese people engage in different religious practices as they encounter new events in their lives but also analyses the attitudes and motivations behind their behaviour Activities such as fortune telling religious rites in the workplace ancestral rites and visits to shrines and temples are actually engaged in by many people who view themselves as non religious but express their motivations in terms other than the conventional religious ones This book outlines the religious options available and assesses why people choose particular religious activities at various times in their lives or in specific circumstances The author challenges some widespread assumptions about religion in urban and industrial contexts and also shows how some of the underlying motivations behind Japanese behaviour are expressed both in religious and non religious forms Strategic Event Creation Liz Sharples, Philip Crowther, Daryl

May, Chiara Orefice, 2014-09-30 The first text to move away from an older paradigm of simply making events work and managing inputs to show how to manage a sector that now needs to be outcome obsessed stakeholder centric strategically focused and driven by strategically aware reflective professionals The Temporality of Building Yun Gao, Nicholas Temple, Jing Xiao, 2025-03-31 This book examines the role that time plays in the life of buildings adopting a comparative study of this influence between European and Chinese traditions Whilst issues of time in architecture have attracted increasing interest by academics in the West challenging the dominant modernist precepts of space there is little understanding of the subject in China and how these compare to historical and contemporary perspectives in Europe A guiding premise of the investigation is that notions of building time require insight into how cultural habits commingle with natural rhythms or what David Leatherbarrow calls concurrency Rather than examining specific buildings the first three chapters apply three key themes language ritual and heritage as cultural lenses to reveal differences and similarities between the two traditions Through these lenses buildings interiors and their exterior spaces churches cathedrals temples palaces gardens and courtyard houses are explored to demonstrate how building time involves particular situations settings and their correlating relationships to past traditions In the final chapter we consider notions of time in the context of contemporary buildings in Europe and China drawing on the earlier historical investigations and addressing globalising influences This book would be of interest to architects architectural theorists historians philosophers sociologists and anthropologists Computer Science and Education Wenxing Hong, Yang Weng, 2023-06-16 This three volume set constitutes selected papers presented during the 17th International Conference on Computer Science and Education ICCSE 2022 held in Ningbo China in August 2022 The 168 full papers and 43 short papers presented were thoroughly reviewed and selected from the 510 submissions They focus on a wide range of computer science topics especially AI data science and engineering and technology based education by addressing frontier technical and business issues essential to the applications of data science in both higher education and advancing e Society

Music as Intangible Cultural Heritage Keith Howard,2016-04-29 Focussing on music traditions these essays explore the policy ideology and practice of preservation and promotion of East Asian intangible cultural heritage For the first time Japan Korea China and Taiwan states that were amongst the first to establish legislation and systems for indigenous traditions are considered together Calls to preserve the intangible heritage have recently become louder not least with increasing UNESCO attention The imperative to preserve is throughout the region cast as a way to counter the perceived loss of cultural diversity caused by globalization modernization urbanization and the spread of the mass media Four chapters one each on China Korea Taiwan and Japan incorporate a foundational overview of preservation policy and practice of musical intangible cultural heritage at the state level These chapters are complemented by a set of chapters that explore how the practice of policy has impacted on specific musics from Confucian ritual through Kam big song to the Okinawan sanshin Each chapter is based on rich ethnographic data collected through extended fieldwork The team of international contributors give both insider and outsider perspectives as they both account for and critique policy ideology and practice in East Asian music as intangible cultural heritage
