Niagara Index, 1878      Death, Dying and Bereavement Cecilia Lai Wan Chan, Amy Yin Man Chow, 2006-01-01 Fear marks the boundary between the known and the unknown Some Chinese people believe that talking about death will increase the likelihood of occurrence Also by talking about death evil spirits will be attracted to haunt people In facing death individual response is inevitably moulded by the values attitudes and beliefs of one's culture Despite the large Chinese emigrant population in major cities in the world available material in English on death dying and bereavement among Chinese people is scarce As Hong Kong is a place where East meets West most professionals working in the field of death

dying and bereavement adapt knowledge from the West to their practice with the Chinese population The intention of this volume is to consolidate and disseminate valuable practical wisdom with professionals in the local and international communities who serve Chinese patients and their family members Both Editors are from the Department of Social Work and Social Administration University of Hong Kong Professor Cecilia Lai Wan Chan has done extensive research in psychosocial oncology behavioral health grief loss and bereavement Amy Yin Man Chow an Honorary Clinical Associate in the department is a registered social worker specialized in bereavement counselling

The Family Friend, 1855 A Guide to Family Devotion Alexander Fletcher, 1800 The Sacred Art of Dying Kenneth Kramer, 1988 Examines how each of the major religions looks at death by including stories teachings and rituals that present a comparative religious meaning of death and afterlife Written in textbook style with journal exercises at the end of each chapter

Troubling Topics, Sacred Texts Roberta Sterman Sabbath, 2021-10-04 Abrahamic scriptures serve as cultural pharmakon prescribing what can act as both poison and remedy This collection shows that their sometimes veiled but eternally powerful polemics can both destroy and build exclude and include and serve as the ultimate justification for cruelty or compassion Here scholars not only excavate these works for their formative and continuing cultural impact on communities identities and belief systems they select some of the most troubling topics that global communities continue to navigate Their analysis of both texts and their reception help explain how these texts promote norms and build collective identities Rejecting the notion of the sacred realm as separate from the mundane realm and beyond critical challenge this collection argues both implicitly and sometimes transparently for the presence of the sacred within everyday life and open to challenge The very rituals prayers and traditions that are deemed sacred interweave into our cultural systems in infinite ways Together these authors explore the dynamic nature of everyday life and the often brutal power of these texts over everyday meaning

Death, Loss, Memory and Mourning in the Long Nineteenth Century, 1780-1914 Geoffrey Scarre, Ricky Whitefield, 2025-11-06 This four volume interdisciplinary collection explores loss memory and mourning in the long nineteenth century Primary sources explore death and mourning from literary spiritual historical and intellectual perspectives Accompanied by extensive editorial commentary this collection will be of great interest to students and scholars of the History of Emotions
