Salloum, 2017-01-26 This book presents an authoritative overview of the emerging field of person centered psychiatry This perspective articulating science and humanism arose within the World Psychiatric Association and aims to shift the focus of psychiatry from organ and disease to the whole person within their individual context It is part of a broader person centered perspective in medicine that is being advanced by the International College of Person Centered Medicine through the annual Geneva Conferences held since 2008 in collaboration with the World Medical Association the World Health Organization the International Council of Nurses the International Federation of Social Workers and the International Alliance of Patients Organizations among 30 other international health institutions In this book experts in the field cover all aspects of person centered psychiatry the conceptual keystones of which include ethical commitment a holistic approach a relationship focus cultural sensitivity individualized care establishment of common ground among clinicians patients and families for joint diagnostic understanding and shared clinical decision making people centered organization of services and person centered health education and research

Bodies In Treatment Frances Sommer Anderson, 2013-03

Bodies in Treatment is a challenging volume that brings into conceptual focus an unspoken dimension of clinical work the body and nonverbal communication that has long occupied the shadowy realm of tacit knowledge By bringing visceral sensory and imagistic modes of emotional processing to the forefront Editor Frances Sommer Anderson and the contributors to this original collection expand the domain of psychodynamic engagement Working at the leading edge of psychoanalytic theory and practice and in the forefront of the integrative psychotherapy movement Anderson has created a collaborative project that stimulates interdisciplinary dialogue on the developmental neurobiology of attachment the micro processing of interchanges between the infant and caregiver the neuroscience of emotional processing and trauma body focused talking treatments for trauma and research in cognitive science Enlightened by experiencing body based treatments for thirty years Anderson reflects on the powerful impact of these interventions recounting attempts to integrate her somatically informed discoveries into the talking frame Reaching further her contributors present richly informative accounts of how experiences in body based modalities can be creatively integrated into a psychoanalytic framework of treatment Readers are introduced to specialized modalities such as craniosacral therapy and polarity therapy as well as to the adjunctive use of yoga the effectiveness of which can be grounded neurophysiologically Somatic interventions are discussed in terms of the extent to which they can promote depth psychological change outside the psychoanalytic consulting room as well as how they can enrich the relational process in psychodynamic treatment The final sections of Bodies in Treatment explore the range of ways in which patients and therapists bodies engage sustain and contain the dynamics of treatment

Elephants on the Edge G. A. Bradshaw, 2019-06-18 At times sad and at times heartwarming Helps us to understand not only elephants but all animals including ourselves Peter Singer author of Animal Liberation Drawing on accounts from India to Africa and California to Tennessee and on research in neuroscience psychology and animal behavior G A Bradshaw explores the minds emotions and lives of elephants Wars starvation mass culls poaching and habitat loss have reduced elephant numbers from more than ten million to a few hundred thousand leaving orphans bereft of the elders who would normally mentor them As a consequence traumatized elephants have become aggressive against people other animals and even one another their behavior is comparable to that of humans who have experienced genocide other types of violence and social collapse By exploring the elephant mind and experience in the wild and in captivity Bradshaw bears witness to the breakdown of ancient elephant cultures But she reminds us all is not lost People are working to save elephants by rescuing orphaned infants and rehabilitating adult zoo and circus elephants using the same principles psychologists apply in treating humans who have survived trauma Bradshaw urges us to support these and other models of elephant recovery and to solve pressing social and environmental crises affecting all animals humans included This book opens the door into the soul of the elephant It will really make you think about our relationship with other animals Temple Grandin author of Animals in Translation

The Posttraumatic Self John P. Wilson, 2007-12-11 Filling a gap that exists in most traumatology literature The Posttraumatic Self provides an optimistic analysis of the aftermath of a traumatic event This work appreciates the potentially positive effects of trauma and links those effects to the discovery of one's identity character and purpose Wilson and his distinguished contributors explore the nature and dynamics of the posttraumatic self emphasising human resilience and prompting continued optimal functioning While taking into consideration pathological consequences such as posttraumatic stress disorder PTSD the authors study the impacts a traumatic event can have on one's inner self and they help the victims transform such an event into healthy self-transcendent lifecycles The Posttraumatic Self will help victims and healers transform the way they deal with the complexities of trauma by making important connections that will allow for healing and growth

The Horrors of Trauma in Cinema Michael Elm, Kobi Kabalek, Julia B. Köhne, 2014-10-02 This volume explores the multifaceted depiction and staging of historical and social traumata as the result of extreme violence within national contexts It focuses on Israeli Palestinian German and US American film and reaches out to cinematic traditions from other countries like France Great Britain and the former USSR International and interdisciplinary scholars analyze both mainstream and avant-garde movies and documentaries premiering from the 1960s to the present From transnational and cross-genre perspectives they query the modes of representation regarding narration dramaturgy aesthetics mise en scène iconology lighting cinematography editing and sound held by film as a medium to visualize shattering experiences of violence and their traumatic encoding in individuals collectives bodies and psyches This anthology uniquely traces horror aesthetics and trajectories as a way to reenact echo and question the perpetual loops of trauma in film cultures The contributors examine the discursive transfer between historical traumata necessarily transmitted in a medialized and conceptualized form the changing landscape of clinical trauma theory the filmic depiction and language of trauma and the official memory politics and hegemonic national identity constructions

Trauma-sensitivity and Peacebuilding Lydia Wanja Gitau, 2017-08-18 This book identifies a gap in peacebuilding theory and practice in terms of sensitivity to trauma and its impact on the survivors of war and other mass violence The research focuses on the traumatic experiences and perceptions of peace of South Sudanese refugees in Kakuma Refugee Camp in Northwestern Kenya It further explores the possibilities for peacebuilding identified in these perceptions A lack of sensitivity to the trauma experienced by the survivors of conflict and mass violence leads to interventions that are at best removed from and at worst detrimental to the welfare of the survivors Interventions that take into consideration the complex and multifaceted ways in which the survivors experience and respond to the traumatic events encourage capacities for resilience in the survivors engage the creative arts in peacebuilding and emphasise the centrality of community and relationships are seen to assist the survivors in recovery from trauma and to facilitate peacebuilding Diverse anecdotes and real life stories from the research participants The journey as a recurring motif throughout the book weaved in a clear easy to read style of writing

Wounded By Reality Ghislaine Boulanger,2011-02-25 The culmination of three decades of studying and treating survivors of adult onset trauma Wounded by Reality is the first systematic attempt to differentiate adult onset trauma from childhood trauma with which it is frequently confused When catastrophic events overtake adult lives they often scar the psyche in ways that psychodynamically oriented clinicians struggle to understand For Ghislaine Boulanger the enormous challenge of working with these patients is unsurprising Survivors of major catastrophe whether a natural disaster a life threatening assault a serious accident or an act of terrorism experience a near fatal disruption of fundamental aspects of self experience The sense of agency of affectivity of bodily integrity the capacity for self reflection the sense of time and the ability to relate to others all are called into question

Trauma, Culture, and Metaphor John P. Wilson,Jacob D. Lindy,2013-08-15 In Trauma Culture and Metaphor John Wilson and Jacob Lindy explore the language of both individual and collective trauma in an era dominated by globalization and interconnectedness Through lucid careful discussion this important book builds a bridge between the etymology of trauma related terms commonly used in Western cultures and those of other cultures such as the Burundi Rwandan ihahamuka It also provides the clinician with a framework for working with trauma survivors using a cross cultural vocabulary one often based in metaphor to fully address the experienced trauma and to begin work on reconnection and self reinvention

Postmodern Perspectives on Contemporary Counseling Issues Mark Scholl,James Hansen,2018-04-05 In Postmodern Perspectives on Contemporary Counseling Issues the effective treatment of issues such as trauma addiction eating disorders unemployment and couples counseling are illustrated with numerous case examples Rich descriptions of the implementation of postmodern approaches and techniques make this text ideal for counselors psychotherapists and other helping professionals
