• This may seem obvious, BUT, always read directions carefully before using new products or starting recipes—many kitchen “disasters” can be avoided simply by following instructions.

• Waxed paper is endlessly useful—use it to catch grated cheese, place under seasoned flour for breading or spacers for blackening, tear into strips to slip under a cake being iced, cover dishes in the microwave, and more!

• As soon as you’ve emptied a pot of its contents, fill it with water—it will be much easier to clean later on.

• Out of copper cleaner? Copper-bottomed pots and other copper utensils can be cleaned just as effectively by using toothpaste and coarse salt on a damp cloth.

• Before you throw out that burned pot, sprinkle powdered cleanser or baking soda liberally over the burned portion, then add just enough water to thoroughly moisten the powder or soda; cover the pot with plastic wrap and let stand for several hours (preferably overnight); usually, the burned portion will lift out with minimal scraping.

• For “gold medal” metal, collect a large assortment of Asian-style wooden and/or bamboo cooking paddles and spoons—none wear and tear on good stainless-steel and copper pots.

• Wire (mesh) strainers last longer if you force food through them with a wooden or bamboo spoon, not a metal one.

• Out of cake pans? If you thoroughly grease and flour a metal gelatin mold before pouring in the batter, it will work just as well—plus, you’ll have a nice design at the top of the cake if the mold has a design at the bottom!

• If you find you’ve added too much salt to any liquid you’re cooking, add some slices of raw potato and cook until parboiled (potato will become translucent)—the amount of potato you use depends on how much excess salt you used; use a slotted spoon or small strainer to remove and discard the potato, and make sure you don’t cook it too long or it will be hard to remove from the cooking liquid.

Every well-equipped and safe kitchen has a fire extinguisher and a fire extinguisher is one of the most important pieces of kitchen equipment. You may think you don’t need one, but you may change your mind when you see the damage that a small fire can cause. A fire extinguisher is a small device that can be used to put out a fire before it gets out of control. It is a small device that can be used to put out a fire before it gets out of control. Read the directions for use carefully so that you’re familiar with what and when to do to stop a fire. If you need to use the extinguisher, make sure you’re standing up, holding it, and pulling the handle. If you’re standing up, holding it, and pulling the handle, you’ll be able to use it safely.

• To store salt, baking soda or cornstarch, use wide-mouthed lidded canning jars—you’ll avoid clumping, as these ingredients are bound to stay dryer and fresher, for longer, in these jars; the wide mouths of each jar also make it easier to dip measuring spoons inside.

• If you substitute oil for solid fat in baking, use LESS than the amount of shortening called for— $\frac{1}{2}$ C of solid shortening uses a $\frac{1}{4}$ C of oil.

• To save/store extra tomato paste, put it into a sheet of plastic wrap in dollops (tablespoon-sized mounds), leaving a few inches between each one; after folding the plastic wrap over each dollop, spin it tightly and make sure the ends are twisted; you now have individual portions ready to put in the freezer.

• Never use disinfectants to clean the refrigerator—foods will pick up taste and odor—instead, wipe the inside of the refrigerator with vinegar, which helps prevent mildew (acid in vinegar kills mildew).

• For a fresh-smelling refrigerator, just keep any of these items inside it:

- An open box of baking soda
- An open container filled with charcoal or dried coffee grounds
- A cotton ball soaked in vanilla extract

• Freezers and refrigerators run more efficiently when they’re 75% (3/4) or more full—fill plastic jug/bottle(s) with water and put them in the freezer or refrigerator; clean newspaper stacks work well to fill empty fridge space, too.

• To remove odors from plastic storage containers, after thoroughly washing the container, put a piece of blotter-and-white newspaper in it, followed sections like the classic DON’T work! and then cover with the lid; open the lid in a few days—the smell should be gone!

• Hate the awful smell when you cook veggies like cabbage or broccoli? Try putting several slices of stale bread in the water—chop it with a strainer after the veggies are cooked.

• To slice an onion without crying, refrigerate or freeze it before using.

• To remove the smell of onion from your hands or cutting board, rub them/it with dry mustard, then rinse off—the smell should disappear.

Always remove the lid from the cooking pot potter—many from potter avoid a sudden burst of steam in your face.

Also, always turn all pot and pan handles AWAY from you and toward the back of the stove so you won’t accidentally bump into them while cooking.

NEVER use a hot glass dish on a very cold surface or in cold water—or vice versa; doing either can cause even heat-resistant glass to crack.

Kitchenware & Utensils

SKEWER SAFETY

- To prevent wooden skewer ends from igniting, wrap the ends of each wooden skewer in foil.
- Metal skewers won’t ignite, but be sure to handle with care—use an oven mitt, pot holder or thick towel.

KNIFE KNOW-HOW

- Get a grip! On knives, that is...
 - To make knives easier and safer to hold, wrap wide rubber bands around the handles.
 - To store knives and other sharp kitchen implements safely: Place wine corks on the points/ends of knives and other sharp implements; this also is a handy way to protect knives and implements while transporting them.

STOP STAIN STRESS

- Coat surface with cooking spray—perfect for preventing tomato stains in the blender and elsewhere.
- Before puréeing the tomatoes in the blender, coat the bottom of the blender lid with cooking spray; the tomatoes won’t leave stains on the lid and clean-up will be easier; works with other high-stain items, too.

CLEAN & SIMPLE

- To cut down on grime, clean that can opener!
 - Buy an inexpensive toothbrush and use it to clean off any clinging food; too gross to clean the blades of juicers, food processors, cheese graters, and similar kitchen appliances and implements.

Did you know? Copper cookware is a great way to keep your kitchen clean. Copper is a natural antibacterial agent, which means it can help to keep your kitchen free of bacteria. Copper is also a great way to keep your kitchen looking nice. Copper is a beautiful metal that can be used in a variety of ways. Copper is a great way to keep your kitchen clean and looking nice.

Clean other metal surfaces, too

- Whenever you wash metal implements, ALWAYS use hot soapy water, and then rinse and dry thoroughly.
- ALWAYS wash the tops of cans with hot soapy water BEFORE you open them.
- Can surfaces can harbor bacteria; plus, most stores spray their shelves with insecticide.

Another germ factory - SPONGES!

- Sponges breed bacteria because they do not get the opportunity to dry out in-between uses. So, disinfect, wash sponge thoroughly, then microwave the still-wet sponge—when the sponge begins to steam, the bacteria in the sponge will be dead; wash the sponge thoroughly before using again.
- For a fresh-smelling garbage disposal, cut a lemon in quarters; run lemon quarter through the disposal, as needed, and keep passing quarters in the refrigerator until you need to clean disposal again.
- For more effective dishwashing, add a few tablespoons of vinegar, along with the dishwashing detergent, when washing dishes; the vinegar cuts the grime and leaves dishes sparkling.
- To clean up spills in the oven, sprinkle salt over the spills immediately—when the oven has cooled, brush away the salt-soaked spills with a damp sponge.
- An easy way to clean the strainer when using it to strain homemade stock is to pour the stock onto paper towels (or paper coffee filters) that have been placed at the bottom of the strainer; once the liquid comes through, throw away the solids and the towels (or filters).
