Casetti, 2015-03-03 Francesco Casetti believes new media technologies are producing an exciting new era in cinema aesthetics Whether we experience film in the theater on our hand held devices in galleries and museums onboard and in flight or up in the clouds in the bits we download cinema continues to alter our habits and excite our imaginations Casetti travels from the remote corners of film history and theory to the most surprising sites on the internet and in our cities to prove the ongoing relevance of cinema He does away with traditional notions of canon repetition apparatus and spectatorship in favor of new keywords including expansion relocation assemblage and performance The result is an innovative understanding of cinema's place in our lives and culture along with a critical sea change in the study of the art The more the nature of cinema transforms the more it discovers its own identity and Casetti helps readers realize the galaxy of possibilities embedded in the medium Atomic Light (shadow Optics) Akira Mizuta Lippit, 2005 With a taut poetic style Lippit produces speculative readings of secret and shadow archives and visual structures or phenomenologies of the inside charting the materiality of what both can and cannot be seen in the radioactive light of the twentieth century The Post-Screen Through Virtual Reality, Holograms and Light Projections Jenna Ng,2025-10-01 Screens are ubiquitous today Yet contemporary screen media eliminate the presence of the screen and diminish the visibility of its boundaries As the image becomes indistinguishable from the viewer s surroundings this unsettling prompts re examination of how screen boundaries demarcate Through readings of three media forms Virtual Reality holograms and light projections this book develops new theories of the surfaces on and spaces in which images are displayed Interrogating contemporary contestations of reality against illusion it argues that the disappearance of difference reflects shifted conditions of actuality and virtuality in understanding the human condition These shifts further connect to the current state of politics by way of their distorted truth values corrupted terms of information and internalizations of difference The Post Screen Through Virtual Reality Holograms and Light Projections thus thinks anew the image s borders and delineations evoking the screen boundary as an instrumentation of today s intense virtualizations which do not tell the truth In the process a new imagination for images emerges for a gluttony of the virtual for new conceptualizations of object and representation materiality and energies media and histories real and unreal for new understandings of appearances dis appearances replacement and replacement the post screen The Murdochian Mind Silvia Caprioglio Panizza,Mark Hopwood,2022-06-07 Iris Murdoch was a philosopher and novelist of extraordinary breadth and originality whose work defies simple categorisation Her philosophical writing engages with an astonishingly wide range of figures from Plato and Kant to Sartre and Heidegger and her work increasingly inspires debate in ethics aesthetics religion and literature The Murdochian Mind is an outstanding reference source to the full span of Murdoch s philosophical work comprising 37 specially commissioned chapters written by an international team of leading scholars Divided into five clear parts the volume covers the following areas A guide to Murdoch s key philosophical texts including The Sovereignty of Good and Metaphysics as a Guide to Morals Core themes and concepts in Murdoch s philosophy such as love moral vision and attention Murdoch s engagement with the history of philosophy including Plato Kant Hegel Simone Weil and Wittgenstein Interdisciplinary connections with art literature and religion including Judaism Buddhism and Christianity Murdoch and contemporary philosophical debates including feminism virtue ethics and metaethics The application of Murdoch s thought to applied ethics including animal ethics psychiatric ethics and the environment Although recent years have seen a blossoming of interest in Murdoch s philosophy The Murdochian Mind is the first volume to do justice to the incredibly rich and wide ranging nature of her work As such it will be of great interest to students of philosophy especially ethics and aesthetics as well as those in related disciplines such as literature religion and gender studies

Sensibility and Creation Roger Cardinal,2025-05-01 Sensibility and Creation 1977 comprises a dozen critical studies by different contributors on a selection of major French poets of the twentieth century These range from poets of long established reputation such as Paul Valéry, Pierre Reverdy, Saint John Perse and Paul Eluard to contemporary poets such as Yves Bonnefoy and Jacques Dupin. The guiding theme is that of the characteristic sensibility which informs the creative work of each poet the way he has of selecting and patterning the elements which make up the world he inhabits and which in a sense he is also creating. In some instances the poetry is examined for its selective textures and shapes and in others the critical focus is more closely directed to the linguistic and stylistic strategies adopted by the writer.

A Dissertation Upon the Philosophy of Light, Heat, and Fire. In Seven Parts. By James Hutton, ... James Hutton, 1794 Reinvention Of Science, The: Slaying The Dragons Of Dogma And Ignorance Bernard J T Jones, Vicent J Martinez, Virginia Trimble, 2023-11-02

Throughout the history of science different thinkers, philosophers and scientists postulated the existence of entities that in spite of their not being visible or detectable in their time or perhaps ever were nevertheless useful to explain the real world. We started this book by looking at a handful of these entities. These included phlogiston to account for fire, the luminiferous ether for propagation of radiation, the homunculus to provide for heredity and crystalline spheres to carry the wandering planets around the earth. Many of these erroneous beliefs had held up progress just as dragons drawn on the edges of a map discouraged exploration. This pattern of science evolution continued through the centuries up to the present day. The book evolved into a more extensive history of how science evolved through controversy, suppression and the desire to maintain the status quo. Our story passes from the Babylonians and Greeks through the middle ages, the renaissance and the scientific revolution to almost current events. We discuss the evolution of our world, the controversy about the extinction of dinosaurs and open questions in contemporary science such as dark matter, black holes and the origin of the Universe including how we understand the subatomic world of elementary particles. Most of the chapters deal with astronomy, cosmology and physics but there are brief ventures into geosciences, continental drift, biosciences, the homunculus, atmospheric physics, Heaviside layer, paleontology, the extinction of dinosaurs and computer science, artificial intelligence. The authors present a sequence of how mistakes and fallacies have been purged from our quest to understand nature. The way these changes have come about are skillfully set in their relevant historical contexts.

Semiotics Unbounded Susan Petrilli, Augusto Ponzio, 2005-12-15. The more human knowledge increases, the more signs grow and with this expansion, the more the boundaries of the science that studies signs also grows. In Semiotics Unbounded, Susan Petrilli and Augusto Ponzio explain the explosion of the sign network in the era of global communication and discuss the important theoretical responses offered by semiotics. Providing a much needed introductory guide to the subject, Petrilli and Ponzio explore the ever-growing frontiers of semiotics through the thought of prominent sign scholars such as Charles Peirce, Victoria Welby, Mikhail Bakhtin, Charles Morris and Thomas Sebeok. In an era of global communication, a global approach is necessary and what may seem to be the whole is only a part, a view being at once globalizing and open. Each and every sign is never self-sufficient and closed but exists always in a relation of otherness. This is true of the signs forming animals and human beings, individuals and communities and involves the implication of all living beings in the life of all others Semiotics Unbounded offers a new and original survey of the science of signs evaluating it in relation to the problems of our time not only of a scientific order but also the problems concerning everyday social life     A Dissertation upon the Philosophy of Light, Heat and Fire.
