IEC 61850 Edition 2 and Engineering

and IED engineering capabilities as well as complete systems as a means to transfer the syntax and semantic of project specific messages between communicating IEDs possibly of different vendors in an interoperable way at least between the IED engineering tools, if not directly to an IED. For sure Edition 2 fixes errors, inconsistencies and unclarities of Edition 1. Further, there are additions to ~~partially~~ overcome problems experienced with Edition 1, due to new functionality needed for other application areas. For backwards compatibility all additions are optional.

1 Substation-substation communications configuration description

One of the big differences between IEC 61850 and other communication protocols is that from its very beginning it considered the engineering of automation systems. Edition 1 already described roles and phases of the engineering process in part 4. The SCL language of part 6 provided a vendor independent means to describe IED functions
