The Environment, Our Natural Resources, and Modern Technology Thomas R. DeGregori, 2008-06-02

Always controversial, Thomas DeGregori has released another classic volume that is sure to inform, confound, and present new perspectives on today's environmental issues. This time he is taking on the environmentalists, naturalists, green consumerists, and those that hail the natural lifestyle as the healthy, politically correct thing to do. DeGregori examines the economics of green consumerism, the reality of saving the environment, how historical cultures may have influenced environmental damage, and how being ecologically correct may have a more damaging effect on our environment. Not just a regurgitation of theories, DeGregori offers real time strategies and alternatives to enhance our natural resources and our environment in harmony with today's modern technology. This is the book everyone will be talking about for years to come.

Sea Turtles Blair E. Witherington, 2006

Streamlined and equipped with flippers, sea turtles seem uniquely adapted for water yet remain firmly attached to land where the females lay their eggs each year. They sport the many colors of the rainbow, range in weight from 100 to 1,300 pounds, and figure in the mythology and folklore of cultures around the world. And still they currently risk extinction. In this book, marine biologist Blair Ernest Witherington, who has devoted decades to these ancient creatures, offers readers an in depth look into their mysterious world. Accompanied by exquisite photographs, his descriptions comprise a personal introduction to these strangely graceful marine reptiles. Detailed, lively, and up to date imagery tells the story of sea turtles, distant origins, their specialized form, and undersea challenges, senses, and life cycle, world voyages, and navigational talents, and their ecological roles. The most comprehensive overview of sea turtles to date, this book portrays each of the seven species in close up, offering information on appearance, distribution, movements, life history, reproduction, diet, unique traits, and conservation.
