

An aerial photograph of a group of people on a dark, polished floor. The floor is marked with large, white, three-dimensional letters that spell out 'make space'. The letters are arranged in a way that suggests they are being moved or interacted with. Several people are visible: one person is kneeling next to the 'k' in 'make', another is standing near the 's' in 'space', and others are scattered around the letters. There are also some orange blocks and blue markers on the floor.
