Going Public Public Architecture Urbanism And Interventions:

Going Public Robert Klanten, S. Ehmann, 2012 Going Public showcases the creative revival of public space in our urban and rural landscapes. The book's compelling selection of formal and informal interventions, reclamations and architecture illustrates the current scope and interest in refashioning and repurposing our built environment for public use. The objectives of the featured examples are as diverse as the projects themselves and range from inspiring communication and community experience to devising new means of gathering in and connecting to nature. Ranging from bold to subtle and from temporary to permanent, the architecture and urban design featured in Going Public offers inspiring and surprising interpretations of our public surroundings and natural landscapes.

Arts in Place Cara Courage, 2017-02-03 This interdisciplinary book explores the role of art in placemaking in urban environments, analysing how artists and communities use arts to improve their quality of life. It explores the concept of social practice placemaking where artists and community members are seen as equal experts in the process. Drawing on examples of local level projects from the USA and Europe, the book explores the impact of these projects on the people involved, on their relationship to the place around them, and on city policy and planning practice. Case studies include Art Tunnel Smithfield Dublin, an outdoor art gallery and community space in an impoverished area of the city; The Drawing Shed London, a contemporary arts practice operating in housing estates and parks in Walthamstow; and Big Car Indianapolis, an arts organisation operating across the whole of this Midwest city. This book offers a timely contribution bridging the gap between cultural studies and placemaking. It will be of interest to scholars, students and practitioners working in geography, urban studies, architecture, planning, sociology, cultural studies and the arts.

Reinventing Eastern Europe: Imaginaries, Identities and Transformations Evinc Doğan, 2019-01-22 This edited collection brings together a wide range of topics that shed light on the social, cultural, economic, political and spatio-temporal changes influencing post-socialist cities of Eastern Europe. Different case studies are presented through papers that were presented at the Euroacademia International Conference series. Imaginaries, identities and transformations represent three blocks for understanding the ways in which visual narratives, memory and identity and processes of alterity shape the symbolic meanings articulated and inscribed upon post-socialist cities. As such, this book stimulates a debate in order to provide alternative views on the dynamics, persistence and change broadly shaping mental mappings of Eastern Europe. The volume offers an opportunity for scholars, activists and practitioners to identify, discuss and debate the multiple dimensions in which specific narratives of alterity making towards Eastern Europe preserve their salience today in refurbished and refashioned manners.

Projects Cristina F. our globalized world of experience and images the desire for uniqueness tends to achieve the opposite increasingly designers of open spaces resort to the same devices and thereby distance themselves from the urban context The author analyzes ten outstanding contemporary designs of public spaces in Europe in terms of their function in the urban context and what materials are used for their implementation In interviews with the designers she retraces the changes of the concepts during the design stage of the projects underpinning her findings with numerous sketches In addition her research focuses on how the projects were received in the community Learning from designers of outstanding public spaces in Europe Numerous unpublished design sketches A clear guide to urban design Also available in a French edition Transforming Urban Nightlife and the Development of Smart Public Spaces Abusaada, Hisham, Elshater, Abeer, Rodwell, Dennis, 2021-05-14 Public places are places where all citizens irrespective of their race age religion or class level social or economic cannot be excluded It serves to improve the lifestyle experience of its inhabitants as well as promote social connections All citizens are responsible for it and are interested in it and the intervention for change must be the responsibility of all without exception As such bottom up urban planning is essential for urban environments and for transforming nightlife in public places in order to create more meaningful experiences and instill a greater sense of identity and community Transforming Urban Nightlife and the Development of Smart Public Spaces analyzes the patterns of transformations of nightlife in public life The book investigates urban nightlife transformations and the challenge of enhancing the sense of belonging in sensitive areas such as local communities and historical sites The chapters present new insights to control the chaotic intervention related to the elements of traditional or digital technology whether from citizens themselves or local authorities The objective also is to document urban nightlife transformations that enhance the sense of belonging in historical sites Important topics covered include urban gamification digital urban art urban socio ecosystems and reimagining space in the urban nightlife This book is ideal for urban planners developers social scientists technologists civil engineers architects policymakers government officials practitioners researchers academicians and students who are interested in urban nightlife and nightscape and the smart technologies used for transformation Architecture and the Public World Kenneth Frampton, 2024-01-25 This book brings together Kenneth Frampton's essays from the 1960s to today which epitomize his reflections on the historical theoretical entanglements of architecture with place the public realm cultural identity urban landscape and environment and the political question of the predicament of architecture in the new Millennium The essays explore Frampton's contention that architecture's imperative is to assume a significant responsibility for the edification and stewardship of the Arendtian public world One of the most theoretically sophisticated and politically committed architectural thinkers Frampton's work breaks emphatically with the limits and norms of much contemporary practice and restores a sense of richness and social consequence of architecture's unfinished project while offering abiding lessons not only for architecture but for social cultural and design criticism alike Decolonising Design in Africa Yaw Ofosu-Asare, 2024-09-30 Decolonising Design in Africa offers a groundbreaking exploration of design education in Africa through a decolonial lens. By examining the colonial legacies that have shaped design education in Africa, it foregrounds the problematic ways that current pedagogical approaches primarily reflect western values and priorities. This book advocates for integrating Indigenous knowledge, cultural practices and philosophies into contemporary African design education. It spans a wide geographical and temporal range from historical analyses of colonial influences to envisioning decolonised African design futures. It delves into diverse aspects including spirituality in design, cultural symbolism, sustainable practices and the ethical dimensions of decolonising design. Pioneering in its interdisciplinary approach, the book weaves together theoretical discussions, methodological innovations like storytelling and practical strategies for curriculum reform. It presents inspiring case studies of designers and educators who are actively decolonising their practices. Decolonising Design in Africa is a vital resource for design educators, students, practitioners and policymakers not just in Africa but worldwide. It makes a compelling case for reimagining design education in a more inclusive, contextually relevant and socially conscious way. The book's ultimate aim is to cultivate a new generation of designers equipped to address the complex challenges of a decolonising world.

Public Art in Canada Annie G  rin, James S. McLean, 2009-01-01. The rigorous essays and original works of art collected in this volume present a compelling demonstration of the strategies, aesthetic and otherwise, used by artists to elicit intellectual, sensual or emotional responses that can only be obtained through artistic practices in public places.

Cities of Opportunities Jason Pomeroy, 2020-01-31. Culture refers to not only the arts but also other manifestations of human intellectual achievement regarded collectively. It similarly refers to the customs, institutions and achievements of a social group, a people or a nation. Innovation refers to the action or process of change, alteration or revolution, a new method, idea, creation or product that may bring about change. It is easy to assume that innovation may be juxtaposed to the preservation of culture and time-tested rituals. Yet as human settlements grew and as streets and squares evolved through the diverse exchanges of people trading, celebrating, rallying and socially interacting, it should come as little surprise that cities and its places would become and continue to be centres of culture and innovation that can be inextricably linked. Culture and innovation in cities can potentially take on different complexions if viewed through the lens of academics and practitioners drawn from different geographies, disciplines or fields of expertise when addressing particular urban challenges. It is through this complexity of views that this book seeks to provide a broad perspective on culture and innovation in the context of global cities today and a rich cornucopia of insights from thought leaders within their respective fields to shape the cities of tomorrow.

Constructing a Place of Critical Architecture in China Guanghui Ding, 2016-03-09 For the past 30 years The Chinese journal Time Architecture Shidai Jianzhu has focused on publishing innovative and exploratory work by emerging architects based in private design firms who were committed to new material theoretical and pedagogical practices In doing so this book argues that the journal has engaged in the presentation and production of a particular form of critical architecture described as an intermediate criticality as a response to the particular constraints of the Chinese cultural and political context The journal s publications displayed a dual critique a resistant attitude to the dominant modes of commercial building practice characterised by rapid and large scale urban expansion and an alternative publishing practice focusing on emerging independent architectural practitioners through the active integration of theoretical debates architectural projects and
