

The background image shows various materials for knife making. A dark wooden surface is the base. On it are several pieces of wood, including a long, light-colored handle blank and a smaller, rounded piece. There are also pieces of reddish-brown leather, some of which are shaped into sheath components. A single, dark, straight knife blade lies vertically in the center. To the left, there are some thin, curved strips of wood or leather. In the bottom foreground, a portion of a finished wooden handle with light and dark wood segments is visible. The overall scene is a still life of crafting materials.
