Home, School, and Community Relations Pet Carol Gestwicki, 2006-06 This practical text is designed to meet the needs of students administrators and teachers of children of all ages who are trying to create effective partnerships with families It provides an overview of modern families and their complex roles to sensitize teachers to the diversity and needs of families they will encounter The text discusses fully both the benefits of creating productive partnerships and the barriers that teachers must work beyond Practical and effective communication strategies are described with abundant examples Emphasis is placed on current developments in the field of early childhood education legislative mandates in education and position statements from professional organizations A discussion of No Child Left Behind and updated NAEYC Code of Ethics accreditation standards for programs and for teacher education supports this emphasis Publisher Crossing Literacy Bridges Jennifer Tuten, Deborah Ann Jensen, Charlene Klassen Endrizzi, 2018-09-30 It has been well established that schools and families must work together to ensure academic and literacy success for all children Educators understand the importance of creating a learning connection between families and schools Families provide teachers with increased knowledge of students Teachers also recognize the importance of building on the learning events occurring in students homes and communities However in practice partnerships are not easily established Often teachers are not prepared to effectively reach out to families nor are families and schools prepared to effectively work together There are many constraints in forming home school partnerships and the added challenges of creating partnerships with families of children struggling with literacy development are even more difficult Often teachers and families find themselves on opposite sides facing similar challenges looking for a way to connect Families of children struggling to acquire literacy skills are often faced with many challenges other families never experience For teachers trying to reach out to these families and form partnerships is equally challenging Bridges enable connections to be made between people and ideas and allow passage from one side to another This book describes five principles to guide teachers in working with families of struggling readers With examples from the field tools to put into practice and extensive resources lists teachers will expand their understanding of family engagement This book is an important resource for pre service and in service teachers who are eager to engage more sensitively and effectively with families particularly those whose children have struggled with literacy Guiding Young Children Patricia F. Hearron, Verna Hildebrand, 2005 The seventh edition of this popular book supports the authors belief that guidance is more than getting children to do what you want them to do now it is helping them to become everything they can become for all of their tomorrows The book provides an overview followed by discussion of core concepts strategies for applying those concepts and finally the broader perspective of professionalism and human resource development Its approach focuses on the need to consider a child s developmental level as well as family and cultural context when planning environments and activities for young children Unlike others in the field it offers concrete suggestions on how to guide children while they are involved in specific activities such as playing eating napping etc For teachers and parents of young children Management of Child Development Centers Patricia F. Hearron, Verna Hildebrand, 2007 This is the core text that students of child development center administration need to help them learn to manage effectively in the twenty first century In thid text the author focuses on targeted problem solving strategies decision making and specific tools The text has been updated and expanded to emphasize strategies and solutions to the challenges facing today's child development center managers Couple Treatment Judith C. Nelsen, 1998 Most people live in couple relationships for a good part of their lives and many couples experience distress and seek help To support the professionals who treat these couples Dr Nelsen organizes material from systems and cognitive behavioural approaches as well as ego psychology and object relations theory in one solid nonjudgmental volume

Teaching Young Children Michael L. Henniger, 2002 Exceptionally lively practical and reader friendly this introduction to early childhood education book is unique because of its focus on the value of play Strong coverage of child development as well as thoughtful discussions about guiding young children working with families and celebrating diversity will help teachers facilitate all aspects of the 0 to 8 year old child's physical social emotional and intellectual growth The book also includes an overview and concise history of the field information on professional development and clear explanations of theoretical foundations for early childhood education Chapters on curriculum in the areas of mathematics science social studies language and literacy and the creative arts show teachers how to link theory to classroom practice making this comprehensive and engaging book particularly useful
