Damien Short, Corinne Lennox

Library Of Handbook Indigenous Routledge International Handbooks:

Handbook of Indigenous Peoples' Rights Damien Short, Corinne Lennox, 2016-02-05 This handbook will be a comprehensive interdisciplinary overview of indigenous peoples rights Chapters by experts in the field will examine legal philosophical sociological and political issues addressing a wide range of themes at the heart of debates on the rights of indigenous peoples The book will address not only the major questions such as who are indigenous peoples What is distinctive about their rights How are their rights constructed and protected What is the relationship between national indigenous rights regimes and international norms but also themes such as culture identity genocide globalization and development rights institutionalization and the environment

The Routledge International Handbook of Global Therapeutic Cultures Daniel Nehring, Ole Jacob Madsen, Edgar Cabanas, China Mills, Dylan Kerrigan, 2020-08-24 The Routledge International Handbook of Global Therapeutic Cultures explores central lines of enquiry and seminal scholarship on therapeutic cultures popular psychology and the happiness industry Bringing together studies of therapeutic cultures from sociology anthropology psychology education politics law history social work cultural studies development studies and American Indian studies it adopts a consciously global focus combining studies of the psychologisation of social life from across the world Thematically organised it offers historical accounts of the growing prominence of therapeutic discourses and practices in everyday life before moving to consider the construction of self identity in the context of the diffusion of therapeutic discourses in connection with the global spread of capitalism With attention to the ways in which emotional language has brought new problematisations of the dichotomy between the normal and the pathological as well as significant transformations of key institutions such as work family education and religion it examines emergent trends in therapeutic culture and explores the manner in which the advent of new therapeutic technologies the political interest in happiness and the radical privatisation and financialisation of social life converge to remake self identities and modes of everyday experience Finally the volume features the work of scholars who have foregrounded the historical and contemporary implication of psychotherapeutic practices in processes of globalisation and colonial and postcolonial modes of social organisation Presenting agenda setting research to encourage interdisciplinary and international dialogue and foster the development of a distinctive new field of social research The Routledge International Handbook of Global Therapeutic Cultures will appeal to scholars across the social sciences with interests in the advance of therapeutic discourses and practices in an increasingly psychologised society

The SAGE Handbook of Globalization Manfred Steger, Paul Battersby, Joseph Siracusa, 2014-05-22 Global studies is a fresh and dynamic discipline area that promises to reinvigorate undergraduate and postgraduate education in the social sciences and humanities In the Australian context the interdisciplinary pedagogy that defines global studies is gaining wider acceptance as a coherent and necessary approach to the study of global change Through the Global Studies Consortium GSC this new discipline is forming around an impressive body of international scholars who define their expertise in global terms The GSC paves the way for the expansion of global studies programs internationally and for the development of teaching and research collaboration on a global scale Mark Juergensmeyer and Helmut Anheier's forthcoming Encyclopaedia of Global Studies with SAGE is evidence of this growing international collaboration while the work of Professor Manfred Steger exemplifies the flourishing academic literature on globalization RMIT University's Global Cities Institute represents a substantial institutional investment in interdisciplinary research into the social and environmental implications of globalization in which it leads the way internationally Given these developments the time is right for a book series that draws together diverse scholarship in global studies This Handbook allows for extended treatment of critical issues that are of major interest to researchers and students in this emerging field The topics covered speak to an interdisciplinary approach to the study of global issues that reaches well beyond the confines of international relations and political science to encompass sociology anthropology history media and cultural studies economics and governance environmental sustainability international law and criminal justice Specially commissioned chapters explore diverse subjects from a global vantage point and all deliberately cohere around core global concerns of narrative praxis space and place This integrated approach sets the Handbook apart from its competitors and distinguishes Global Studies as the most equipped academic discipline with which to address the scope and pace of global change in the 21st century

Routledge Handbook of Critical Indigenous Studies Brendan Hokowhitu, Aileen

Moreton-Robinson, Linda Tuhiwai-Smith, Chris Andersen, Steve Larkin, 2020-12-30 The Routledge Handbook of Critical Indigenous Studies is the first comprehensive overview of the rapidly expanding field of Indigenous scholarship The book is ambitious in scope ranging across disciplines and national boundaries with particular reference to the lived conditions of Indigenous peoples in the first world The contributors are all themselves Indigenous scholars who provide critical understandings of indigeneity in relation to ontology ways of being epistemology ways of knowing and axiology ways of doing with a view to providing insights into how Indigenous peoples and communities engage and examine the worlds in which they are immersed Sections include Indigenous Sovereignty Indigeneity in the 21st Century Indigenous Epistemologies The Field of Indigenous Studies Global Indigeneity This handbook contributes to the re centring of Indigenous knowledges providing material and ideational analyses of social political and cultural institutions and critiquing and considering how Indigenous peoples situate themselves within outside and in relation to dominant discourses dominant postcolonial cultures and prevailing Western thought This book will be of interest to scholars with an interest in Indigenous peoples across Literature History Sociology Critical Geographies Philosophy Cultural Studies Postcolonial Studies Native Studies M ori Studies Hawaiian Studies Native American Studies Indigenous Studies Race Studies Queer Studies Politics Law and Feminism

Handbook of Research on Theoretical Perspectives on Indigenous Knowledge Systems in Developing Countries Ngulube, Patrick, 2016-09-12 There has been a growth in the use acceptance and popularity of indigenous knowledge High rates of poverty and a widening economic divide is threatening the accessibility to western scientific knowledge in the developing world where many indigenous people live Consequently indigenous knowledge has become a potential source for sustainable development in the developing world The Handbook of Research on Theoretical Perspectives on Indigenous Knowledge Systems in Developing Countries presents interdisciplinary research on knowledge management sharing and transfer among indigenous communities Providing a unique perspective on alternative knowledge systems this publication is a critical resource for sociologists anthropologists researchers and graduate level students in a variety of fields

Artefacts, Archives, and Documentation in the Relational Museum Mike Jones, 2021-07-14 Artefacts Archives and Documentation in the Relational Museum provides the first interdisciplinary study of the digital documentation of artefacts and archives in contemporary museums while also exploring the implications of polyphonic relational thinking on collections documentation Drawing on case studies from Australia the United Kingdom and the United States the book provides a critical examination of the history of collections management and documentation since the introduction of computers to museums in the 1960s demonstrating how technology has contributed to the disconnection of distributed collections knowledge Jones also highlights how separate documentation systems have developed managed by distinct increasingly professionalised staff impacting our ability to understand and use what we find in museums and their ever expanding online collections Exploring this legacy allows us to rethink current practice focusing less on individual objects and more on the rich stories and interconnected resources that lie at the heart of the contemporary plural participatory relational museum Artefacts Archives and Documentation in the Relational Museum is essential reading for those who wish to better understand the institutional silos found in museums and the changes required to make museum knowledge more accessible The book is a particularly important addition to the fields of museum studies archival science information management and the history of cultural heritage technologies Indigenous Teaching Disciplines and Perspectives for Higher Education Kgari-Masondo, Maserole Christina, 2025-03-28 Literature indicates that sociolinguists and educationists often claim multilingual practice and Africanizing and Indigenizing education will jeopardize national unity and social cohesion Such claims delay the implementation of decolonization policies and the transformation of the curriculum under false assumptions However research reveals many Indigenous students struggle with higher educational content which is often presented through languages that are unfamiliar to them This implies that there is a need to uncover resources that can assist in necessitating the implementation of Indigenous education globally and that all multilingual strategies in education must be based on quality mother tongue illustrative content as its foundation As a result further research on the subject is necessary to enhance teaching strategies that reach all Indigenous students Indigenous Teaching Disciplines and Perspectives for Higher Education illustrates the need for the implementation of a decolonized teaching and learning curriculum with integrated resources as models It explores how to improve Indigenous knowledge content and teaching methods Covering topics such as cultural identity African research methodology and Indigenous media this book is an excellent resource for teachers policymakers school administrators researchers scholars academicians and more

Self-Determined First Nations Museums and Colonial Contestation Robert Hudson, Shannon Woodcock, 2022-04-03 Self Determined First Nations Museums and Colonial Contestation explores Indigenous practices of curation object repatriation and cross cultural community engagement in a dynamic Koori museum Grounded in the fact that Gunai Kurnai people have never ceded sovereignty the text reorients dominant temporal and colonial approaches of museum studies to document and theorise Gunai Kurnai self presentation and community engagement in the Krowathunkooloong Keeping Place Researched and co authored by the Cultural Manager of the Keeping Place Gunai Kurnai Monero Ngarigo man Robert Hudson and white Historian Shannon Woodcock the book traces the temporal social and cultural considerations of the Elders who curated the permanent exhibition in the early 1990s Discussing community management of a collection growing through the ongoing repatriation of tools art and Ancestor remains the text also explores how Robert Hudson engages with visitors to the Keeping Place and local colonial history museums and theorises the power of Gunai Kurnai work with individuals and institutions in the small museum context Finally Hudson and Woodcock demonstrate that the Keeping Place articulates sophisticated Gunai Kurnai grounded methodologies of museum practice in relation to international critical Indigenous studies scholarship Self Determined First Nations Museums and Colonial Contestation provides a vital case study of an Indigenous museum space written from an inside perspective As such the book will be essential reading for scholars and students engaged in the study of museums and heritage Indigenous peoples decolonisation race anthropology culture and history

Data Curation and Information Systems Design from Australasia Julie Nichols, Bharat Mehra, 2024-01-31 The need for decolonizing mismanagement practices in galleries libraries archives and museums of First Nations peoples materials and knowledge has been widely recognised Authors from Indigenous and non Indigenous backgrounds powerfully challenge entrenched assumptions of knowledge capture and dissemination of the western academy

The Routledge International Handbook of Indigenous Resilience Hilary N. Weaver, 2021-12-30 This handbook provides a comprehensive and cutting edge strengths based resource on the subject of Indigenous resilience Indigenous Peoples demonstrate considerable resilience despite the social health economic and political disparities they experience within surrounding settler societies This book considers Indigenous resilience in many forms cultural spiritual and governance traditions remain in some communities and are being revitalized in others to reclaim aspects of their cultures that have been outlawed suppressed or undermined It explores how Indigenous people advocate for social justice and work to shape settler societies in ways that create a more just fair and equitable world for all human and non human beings This book is divided into five sections From the past to the future Pillars of Indigeneity The power in Indigenous identities The natural world Reframing the narrative from problem to opportunity Comprised of 25 newly commissioned chapters from Indigenous scholars professionals and community members from traditions around the world this book will be a useful tool for anyone seeking a deeper understanding of manifestations of wellness and resilience This handbook will be of particular interest to all scholars students and practitioners of social work social care and human services more broadly as well as those working in sociology development studies and environmental sustainability A Liberation for the Earth A.M. Ranawana,2022-11-30 In the encyclical Laodato Si Pope Francis describes the earth as the new poor opening it up as a place in need of liberation The fate of the poor the marginalised and those on the wrong side of the western colonial project is inextricably tied up with the fate of the planet In A Liberation for the Earth Anupama Ranawana explores the nexus between climate race and the liberative potential of the cross Reflecting on the entanglement between colonialization and the destruction of the planet she considers how this entanglement is played out and resisted within faith based and secular ecological justice movements in Canada Sri Lanka and the United Kingdom

Anti-colonial research praxis Caroline Lenette,2025-04-22 How can anti colonial research methodologies be transformative and achieve knowledge justice This book brings together leading scholars from around the world to share methodological knowledge grounded in First Nations and majority world expertise and wisdom The authors challenge western centric and colonial approaches to knowledge production redefining the possibilities of what we can achieve through social research The First Nations and majority world perspectives highlighted here share a common aim of disrupting established beliefs about research methodologies and unquestioned norms in the academy Authors in this edited collection describe how they draw on Indigenous knowledge systems feminist frameworks and creative methodologies as forms of anti colonial research praxis Spanning development studies geography education sexual and reproductive health humanitarian studies and social work the authors reflexively discuss the specific factors shaping how they engage in research ethically The book reimagines social research through an anti colonial lens concluding with a set of provocations for anti colonial research praxis that situate this important work in the context of ongoing colonial violence and institutional constraints This book is an essential guide for researchers and scholars within and beyond the academy on how anti colonial research praxis can produce meaningful outcomes especially in violent and troubled times Cover art courtesy of Tawny Chatmon Phone & Spear Miyarrka Media,2021-10-12 A visually striking intercultural exploration of the use of mobile phones in Aboriginal communities in Australia Yuta is the Yolngu word for new Phone Spear A Yuta Anthropology is a project inspired by the gloriously cheeky and deeply meaningful audiovisual media made with and circulated by mobile phones by an extended Aboriginal family in northern Australia Building on a ten year collaboration by the community based arts collective Miyarrka Media the project is an experiment in the anthropology of co creation It is a multivoiced portrait of an Indigenous society using mobile phones inventively to affirm connections to kin and country amid the difficult and often devastating circumstances of contemporary remote Aboriginal life But this is not simply a book about Aboriginal art mobile phones and social renewal If old anthropology understood its task as revealing one world to another yuta anthropology is concerned with bringing different worlds into relationship Following Yolngu social aesthetics or what Miyarrka Media translate as the law of feeling the book is a relational technology in its own right an object that combines color pattern and story to bring once distant worlds into new sensuously mediated connections

Collaborative Research in the Datafied Society Mirko

Tobias Schäfer, Karin Es, Tracey Lauriault, 2025-10-01 The influence of austerity measures and neoliberal ideologies has sparked discussions about the relevance and value of academic institutions particularly in the humanities and social sciences Universities are redirecting academic focus towards greater societal engagement This book argues that academia has much to gain by moving beyond its institutional walls in our case by doing data work with stakeholders and civil society This collaborative work benefits citizens in our democratic open societies and advances our knowledge economies Collaborative Research in the Datafied Society offers a combination of theoretical insights practical methodologies and case studies showcasing the power of collaborative research with stakeholders across diverse communities and civil society to tackle challenges that address pressing issues stemming from data practices and social justice issues Taken together the book's chapters formulate relevant concepts for grounding societally engaged research in the theories and methodologies from different disciplines In addition the book informs university administrators and research directors how to advance academia effectively towards mutual knowledge transfer with societal sectors Focusing on current changes in academia a introducing novel methods for societally engaged research b showcasing actual examples of research initiatives and their societal impact c discussing challenges raised through these novel practices This book is a blue print for a more inclusive and societal engaged university
