Library Of Precisions Present State Architecture Planning:

Precisions on the Present State of Architecture and City Planning Le Corbusier, 1991 This first English translation of Precisions reproduces the original book published in French in 1930 with an introduction added by the author in 1960 It is a spontaneous and exuberant series of 10 lectures Le Corbusier gave in Buenos Aires during the fall of 1929 As he spoke Le Corbusier improvised drawings on large sheets of paper with crayons While similar drawings appear in other works here all the lectures and images appear in their original context as Le Corbusier assembled them Precisions reflects a new maturity in Le Corbusier's thinking and an extreme confidence in the development of his ideas The drawings and lectures are unique in their eloquent and concise summary of his philosophy of architecture and urban design stating the principles that informed his work from the 1920s on They contain some of his most compelling aphorisms both verbal and visual covering technique as the basis of architecture the human scale in design furniture the private house apartments and office buildings the city the League of Nations competition teaching architecture and a splendid analysis of the transformation of his own work in houses from La Roche Jeanneret to the Villa Savoye

Ancient Monuments and Modern Identities Sofia Voutsaki, Paul Cartledge, 2017-04-28 Ancient Monuments and Modern Identities sets out to examine the role of archaeology in the creation of ethnic national and social identities in 19th and 20th century Greece The essays included in this volume examine the development of interpretative and methodological principles guiding the recovery protection and interpretation of material remains and their presentation to the public The role of archaeology is examined alongside prevailing perceptions of the past and is thereby situated in its political and ideological context The book is organized chronologically and follows the changing attitudes to the past during the formation expansion and consolidation of the Modern Greek State The aim of this volume is to examine the premises of the archaeological discipline and to apply reflection and critique to contemporary archaeological theory and practice The past however is not a domain exclusive to archaeologists The contributors to this volume include prehistoric and classical archaeologists but also modern historians museum specialists architectural historians anthropologists and legal scholars who have all been invited to discuss the impact of the material traces of the past on the Modern Greek social imaginary

Sustainable Building Conservation Oriel Prizeman, 2019-07-25 This book incorporates UK and international case studies and essays to identify the overlaps in the interests of energy and building conservation The relevance and adjustments of qualitative and quantitative frames of reference are introduced alongside the various expertise of the contributors architects designers conservation consultants and academics The second part of the book showcases sustainable domestic and non domestic heritage projects translating the preceding research into information that practitioners can use in their everyday work The book will appeal to architecture students newly qualified professionals and conservation architects and will enhance readers' ambitions so that they feel equipped and inspired to work with old buildings sensitively creatively and sustainably

Modern Architecture and Climate Daniel A. Barber, 2023-04-11 How climate influenced the design strategies of modernist architects Modern Architecture and Climate explores how leading architects of the twentieth century incorporated climate mediating strategies into their designs and shows how regional approaches to climate adaptability were essential to the development of modern architecture Focusing on the period surrounding World War II before fossil fuel powered air conditioning became widely available Daniel Barber brings to light a vibrant and dynamic architectural discussion involving design materials and shading systems as means of interior climate control He looks at projects by well known architects such as Richard Neutra Le Corbusier Lcio Costa Mies van der Rohe and Skidmore Owings and Merrill and the work of climate focused architects such as MMM Roberto Olgyay and Olgyay and Cliff May Drawing on the editorial projects of James Marston Fitch Elizabeth Gordon and others he demonstrates how images and diagrams produced by architects helped conceptualize climate knowledge alongside the work of meteorologists physicists engineers and social scientists Barber describes how this novel type of environmental media catalyzed new ways of thinking about climate and architectural design Extensively illustrated with archival material Modern Architecture and Climate provides global perspectives on modern architecture and its evolving relationship with a changing climate showcasing designs from Latin America Europe the United States the Middle East and Africa This timely and important book reconciles the cultural dynamism of architecture with the material realities of ever increasing carbon emissions from the mechanical cooling systems of buildings and offers a historical foundation for today's zero carbon design Something Completely

Different Christophe Van Gerrewey, 2024-07-02 How architecture in Belgium from its very beginnings has epitomized modernity and singularity Since the foundation of the country in 1830 architecture in Belgium has been an expression of the key issues of modern Western societies In Something Completely Different Christophe Van Gerrewey uses this small European country as a case study to describe interpret and criticize more universal spatial problems and behaviors In seven wide ranging essays he looks at the activities of architects from the past two centuries to better understand political evolutions social gaps aesthetic considerations housing and planning transport and infrastructure order and chaos and culture and ecology The result is a literary text full of surprises and discoveries showing both the shortcomings and the merits of what architects do Written as a kind of anti guidebook Something Completely Different appropriates certain clichés about Belgium Baudelaire famously called Belgian monuments counterfeits of France eschews the pragmatism of most guidebooks in favor of meditative essayistic prose and finally cunningly reveals that all along the subject has not been Belgium at all but rather the nature of architecture Architecture and Movement Peter Blundell Jones, Mark

Meagher, 2014-12-17 The experience of movement of moving through buildings cities landscapes and in everyday life is the only involvement most individuals have with the built environment on a daily basis User experience is so often neglected in architectural study and practice Architecture and Movement tackles this complex subject for the first time providing the wide range of perspectives needed to tackle this multi disciplinary topic Organised in four parts it documents the architect's planner s or designer s approach looking at how they have sought to deploy buildings as a promenade and how they have thought or written about it concentrates on the individual s experience and particularly on the primacy of walking which engages other senses besides the visual engages with society and social rituals and how mutually we define the spaces through which we move both by laying out routes and boundaries and by celebrating thresholds analyses how we deal with promenades which are not experienced directly but via other mediums such as computer models drawings film and television The wide selection of contributors include academics and practitioners and discuss cases from across the US UK Europe and Asia By mingling such disparate voices in a carefully curated selection of chapters the book enlarges the understanding of architects architectural students designers and planners alerting them to the many and complex issues involved in the experience of movement

Analysing Architecture Simon Unwin, 2013-12-17 Now in its fourth edition Analysing Architecture has become internationally established as the best introduction to architecture Aimed primarily at those wishing to become professional architects it also offers those in disciplines related to architecture from archaeology to stage design garden design to installation art a clear and accessible insight into the workings of this rich and fascinating subject With copious illustrations from his own notebooks the author dissects examples from around the world and all periods of history to explain underlying strategies in architectural design and show how drawing may be used as a medium for analysis This new edition of Analysing Architecture is revised and expanded Notably the chapter on Basic Elements of Architecture has been enlarged to discuss the powers various architectural elements offer the architect Three new chapters have been added to the section on Themes in Spatial Organisation covering Occupying the In between Inhabited Wall and Refuge and Prospect Two new examples a Mud House from Kerala India and the Mongyotei a tea house from Kyoto Japan have been added to the Case Studies at the end of the book The Select Bibliography has been expanded and the Index revised Works of architecture are instruments for managing orchestrating modifying our relationship with the world around us They frame just about everything we do Architecture is complex subtle frustrating but ultimately extremely rewarding It can be a difficult discipline to get to grips with nothing in school quite prepares anyone for the particular demands of an architecture course But this book will help Analysing Architecture is the foundation volume of a series of books by Simon Unwin exploring the workings of architecture Other books in the series include Twenty Buildings Every Architect Should Understand and Exercises in Architecture

Precision in Architecture Mhairi McVicar, 2019-05-13 This book offers a detailed insight into the desire for and consequences of precise communications in the daily life of contemporary architectural practice through close readings of constructed architectural details by Sigurd Lewerentz Caruso St John Architects Mies van der Rohe and OMA In the professionalised context of the contemporary architectural profession precise communications drawings specifications letters faxes and emails are charged with the complex task of translating architectural intent into a neutral and quantifiable language which is expected to guarantee an exact match between the architects intentions and the constructed result Yet as any architectural practitioner will know it is doubtful whether the construction of any architectural project may ever exactly match all written and drawn predictions This book challenges claims to certainty which have been attributed to such communications from the mid nineteenth century onwards and critiques ongoing expectations of certainty in contemporary architectural production

Architectural Regionalism Vincent B. Canizaro, 2012-03-20 In this rapidly globalizing world any investigation of architecture inevitably leads to considerations of regionalism But despite its omnipresence in contemporary practice and theory architectural regionalism remains a fluid concept its historical development and current influence largely undocumented This comprehensive reader brings together over 40 key essays illustrating the full range of ideas embodied by the term Authored by important critics historians and architects such as Kenneth Frampton Lewis Mumford Sigfried Giedion and Alan Colquhoun Architectural Regionalism represents the history of regionalist thinking in architecture from the early twentieth century to today

Subnature David Gissen, 2012-03-20 We are conditioned over time to regard environmental forces such as dust mud gas smoke debris weeds and insects as inimical to architecture Much of today's discussion about sustainable and green design revolves around efforts to clean or filter out these primitive elements While mostly the direct result of human habitation these subnatural forces are nothing new In fact our ability to manage these forces has long defined the limits of civilized life From its origins architecture has been engaged in both fighting and embracing these so called destructive forces In Subnature David Gissen author of our critically acclaimed Big and Green examines experimental work by today's leading designers scholars philosophers and biologists that rejects the idea that humans can somehow recreate a purely natural world free of the untidy elements that actually constitute nature Each chapter provides an examination of a particular form of subnature and its actualization in contemporary design practice The exhilarating and at times unsettling work featured in Subnature suggests an alternative view of natural processes and ecosystems and their relationships to human society and architecture R Sie n s Mosquito Bottleneck house in Trinidad uses a skin that actually attracts mosquitoes and moves them through the building while keeping them separate from the occupants In his building designs the architect Philippe Rahm draws the dank air from the earth and the gasses and moisture from our breath to define new forms of spatial experience In his Underground House Mollier House and Omnisport Hall Rahm forces us to consider the odor of soil and the emissions from our body as the natural context of a future architecture Cero 9's design for the Magic Mountain captures excess heat emitted from a power generator in Ames Iowa to fuel a rose garden that embellishes the industrial site and creates a natural mountain rising above the city's skyline Subnature looks beyond LEED ratings green roofs and solar panels toward a progressive architecture based on a radical new conception of nature

Le Corbusier, 1887-1965 Jean-Louis Cohen, 2004 Le Corbusier came of age at the time when cars and planes were becoming a common means of transportation thus he was one of the first professional architects to ply his trade on several continents at once This book brings together his finest work

Bibles and Baedekers Michael Grimshaw, 2014-12-05 Contemporary tourism and travel have become a form of religion a new opiate of the masses However could Church and theology be religious forms of tourism and travel Bibles and Baedekers offers a theology of tourism and exile for a modern and postmodern world It examines the ways in which location identity and movement have made use of religious texts and metaphor and questions the relative absence of secular texts and ideas in theology The theology of the tourist and traveller is one of new experiences the acquisition of identity through movement Bibles and Baedekers uniquely applies this to the postmodern Christian embodying the fulfilment of Bonhoeffer's religionless Christianity dislocated from both a secular and religious world

Drawing Imagining Building Paul Emmons, 2019-04-01 Drawing Imagining Building focuses on the history of hand drawing practices to capture some of the most crucial and overlooked parts of the process Using 80 black and white images to illustrate the examples it examines architectural drawing practices to elucidate the ways drawing advances the architect's imagination Emmons considers drawing practices in the Renaissance and up to the first half of the twentieth century Combining systematic analysis across time with historical explication presents the development of hand drawing while also grounding early modern practices in their historical milieu Each of the illustrated chapters considers formative aspects of architectural drawing practice such as upright elevations flowing lines and occult lines and drawing scales to identify their roots in an embodied approach to show how hand drawing contributes to the architect's productive imagination By documenting some of the ways of thinking through practices of architectural handdrawing it describes how practices can enrich the ethical imagination of the architect This book would be beneficial for academics practitioners and students of architecture particularly those who are interested in the history and significance of hand drawing and technical drawing

The Grid and the Park Adrián Gorelik, 2022-02-07 Since its publication in Spanish in 1998 The Grid and the Park not only revitalized studies on the history of Buenos Aires but also laid the foundation for a specific type of cultural work on the city an urban perspective for cultural history as its author would describe it that has had a sustained impact in Latin America Public space embodied in the grid of city blocks and the park system here appears as a particularly productive category because it encompasses dimensions of the material city politics and culture which are usually studied separately From Domingo Faustino Sarmiento's figurations of Palermo Park in the mid nineteenth century to Jorge Luis Borges's discovery of the suburb in the 1920s from the modernization of the traditional center carried out by Mayor Torcuato de Alvear in the 1880s to the questioning of that centrality by the emergence of the suburban barrio the book weaves the changing ideas on public space with urban culture to produce a new history of the metropolitan expansion of Buenos Aires one of the most extensive and dynamic urban centers of the early twentieth century

Twenty-Five+ Buildings Every Architect Should Understand Simon Unwin, 2023-11-03 The underlying theme of Twenty Five Buildings Every Architect Should Understand is the relationship of architecture to the human being how it frames our lives and orchestrates our experience how it can help us make sense of the world and contribute to our sense of identity and place Exploring these dimensions through a wide range of case studies that illustrate the rich diversity of twentieth and twenty first century architecture this book is essential reading for every architect With the addition of numerous shorter analyses this new edition covers an even greater range of architectural ideas providing students and architects with further inspiration for exploration in their own design work Architects live by ideas But where do they come from And how do they shape buildings There is no one right way to do

architecture This book illustrates many Its aim is to explore the rich diversity of architectural creativity by analysing a wide range of examples to extract the ideas behind them Twenty Five Buildings Every Architect Should Understand is a companion to Simon Unwin s Analysing Architecture the Universal Language of Place Making most recent edition 2021 and part of the trilogy which also includes his Exercises in Architecture Learning to Think as an Architect second edition 2022 Together the three books offer an introduction to the workings of architecture providing for the three aspects of learning theory examples and practice Twenty Five Buildings focusses on analysing examples using the methodology offered by Analysing Architecture which operates primarily through the medium of drawing An underlying theme of Twenty Five Buildings Every Architect Should Understand is the relationship of architecture to the human being how it frames our lives and orchestrates our experiences how it can help us give form to the world and contributes to our senses of identity and place Exploring these dimensions through case studies that illustrate the rich diversity of twentieth and twenty first century architecture this book is essential reading and hopefully an inspiration for every architect In this new edition supplementary analysis and discussion has been added to each of the twenty five case studies drawing attention to their influences from and on other architects A number of extra shorter analyses have been included too following the practice of presenting extra small dishes interspersed among main courses in high end restaurants These additional short analyses account for the sign after Twenty Five in the title of this edition and double the number of buildings analysed to around fifty

Constructing Place Sarah Menin, 2004-02-24 This book is a cutting edge study exploring the field of the conception and the tectonic making of place as it impinges on and thus changes the site in which it is set

Machine à Amuser Wim Van Den Bergh, 2024-04-09 A richly illustrated history of a single building the celebrated and yet enigmatic penthouse of the wealthy playboy Charles de Beistegui designed by Le Corbusier and Pierre Jeanneret in late 1920s Paris What does it take to build not only a house but a machine for amusement In Machine Amuser Wim van den Bergh chronicles the genesis of the famous penthouse of French born Mexican millionaire bachelor Charles de Beistegui The penthouse was planned and constructed by Le Corbusier Pierre Jeanneret and built on a rooftop site on the Champs lys es between 1929 1932 Retracing the evolution of this icon of modern architecture from the initial competition between Gabriel Guevrekian Andr Lurc at and Le Corbusier Pierre Jeanneret up to the executed version van den Bergh tells the story of a client s ambition to build a house devoted to entertaining on one of the most well heeled streets of Paris Machine Amuser also examines the cultural milieu of artists and patrons that surrounded Beistegui and which ultimately determined the apartment s conception and use including its rococo and surrealist inspired interior decor Drawing on a panoply of archival material van den Bergh narrates the tensions that arose between client and architects as each vied for creative control of the project As the book shows while Le Corbusier with his cousin Pierre Jeanneret remained the official architects of the penthouse its famed interior was ultimately designed by the client Charles de Beistegui An account of a single building beloved by architects and architectural historians Machine

Amuser tells a story that has never been told before Van den Bergh redresses this lacuna in rich detail revealing the history of the Beistegui penthouse the evolution of the project and its eventual erasure from the roofscapes of Paris Journal of the Society of Architectural Historians Society of Architectural Historians,1999 Includes special issues Untimely Moderns Eeva-Liisa Pelkonen,2023-01-01 A novel exploration of the idea of nonlinear time and its place at the heart of modern art and architecture Through much of the twentieth century a diverse group of thinkers engaged in an interdisciplinary conversation about the meaning of time and history for modern art and architecture The group included architects Louis Kahn Everett Victor Meeks James Gamble Rogers Paul Rudolph and Eero Saarinen artists Anni and Josef Albers philosopher Paul Weiss and art historians Henri Focillon George Kubler Sibyl Moholy Nagy and Vincent Scully These figures were unified by their resistance to the idea that to be considered modern art and architecture had to be of its time as well as by the pivotal role that Yale University held as a backdrop to their thinking These thinkers sponsored a new kind of approach one that Eeva Liisa Pelkonen terms untimely emphasizing a departure from a sequential course of events Ideas about temporal duration new tradition the presence of the past and the shape of time were among the concepts they explored With an interdisciplinary focus Pelkonen reveals previously unexplored connections among key figures of American intellectual and artistic culture at midcentury whose works and words would shape modern architecture

Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of captivating stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a masterful and gripping novel that will keep you wondering until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
