A Fraught Embrace Ann Swidler, Susan Cotts Watkins, 2017-03-07 The complex relationships between altruists beneficiaries and brokers in the global effort to fight AIDS in Africa In the wake of the AIDS pandemic legions of organizations and compassionate individuals descended on Africa from faraway places to offer their help and save lives A Fraught Embrace shows how the dreams of these altruists became entangled with complex institutional and human relationships Ann Swidler and Susan Cotts Watkins vividly describe the often mismatched expectations and fantasies of those who seek to help of the villagers who desperately seek help and of the brokers on whom both Western altruists and impoverished villagers must rely Based on years of fieldwork in the heavily AIDS affected country of Malawi this powerful book digs into the sprawling AIDS enterprise and unravels the paradoxes of AIDS policy and practice All who want to do good from idealistic volunteers to world weary development professionals depend on brokers as guides fixers and cultural translators These irreplaceable but frequently unseen local middlemen are the human connection between altruists dreams and the realities of global philanthropy The mutual misunderstandings among donors brokers and villagers each with their own desires and moral imaginations create all the drama of a romance longing exhilaration disappointment heartache and sometimes an enduring connection Personal stories public scandals and intersecting sometimes clashing fantasies bring the lofty intentions of AIDS altruism firmly down to earth Swidler and Watkins ultimately argue that altruists could accomplish more good not by seeking to transform African lives but by helping Africans achieve their own goals A Fraught Embrace unveils the tangled relations of those involved in the collective struggle to contain an epidemic

Housing in the Aftermath of the Fast Track Land Reform Programme in Zimbabwe Lovemore Chipungu, Hangwelani Hope Magidimisha, 2020-12-10 This book delves into the Fast Track Land Reform Programme FTLRP in Zimbabwe to provide insight into how it facilitated the delivery of housing for low income urban households It highlights the politics of land reforms and the power of community engagement in housing development in urban areas Prior to the FTLRP the Zimbabwean governments had never embraced popular modes of housing production as key factors in urban development In the area of low income housing informal housing schemes have always been treated with apathy and indifference This left the conventional mode of housing production to be the only legitimate means to house low income households despite its shortcomings However the onset of the FTLRP in 2000 resulted in homeless urban households grasping the opportunity to invade farms for housing development Through the lenses of Marxism and Neoliberalism this book analyses housing schemes that emerged and the overall impact of the FTLRP on housing and land delivery in Harare This analysis is based on empirical evidence obtained from key informants and household surveys conducted in Harare The authors argue that the FTLRP provided a platform for innovativeness by households supported by the unpronounced national urban vision and prowess of the political leadership Hence the success of these housing schemes can be measured by acquisition of land which guarantees households access to the city However some of these housing schemes pose challenges key among them being lack of infrastructure The book concludes by presenting a new model for effective delivery of land and housing for the urban poor This is envisaged as a useful policy tool for urban planners housing experts land economists urban and regional geographers as well as sociologists political scientists and social workers engaged in public administration of land and housing
