Earl Fenner, 1894 Justifying Historical Descriptions C. Behan McCullagh, 1984-10-25 In common with history all the social sciences crucially rely on descriptions of the past for their evidence But when if ever is it reasonable to regard such descriptions as true This book attempts to establish the conditions that warrant belief in historical descriptions It does so in a non technical way analysing numerous illustrations of the different kinds of argument about the past employed by historians and others The author concludes that no historical description can be finally proved and that we are only ever justified in believing them for certain practical purposes This central question has not been addressed in such a thorough and systematic manner before It draws on recent philosophy of history and will interest philosophers But the wealth of material and accessibility of the presentation will also make it very valuable for historians and other social scientists concerned with the logic of their disciplines

Light and Photomedia Jai McKenzie, 2020-09-02 Light and Photomedia proposes that regardless of technological change the history and future of photomedia is essentially connected to light It is a fundamental property of photomedia binding with space and time to form and inform new explicitly light based structures and experiences Jai McKenzie identifies light space time structures throughout the history of photomedia from the early image machines through analogue and digital image machines to the present day She proposes that they will continue to develop in the future and takes us to future image machines of the year 2039 With the use of the theories of Paul Virilio Jean Baudrillard and Vilem Flusser featuring artists including Henri Cartier Bresson Nam June Paik Yves Klein Eadweard Muybridge Martha Rosler Cindy Sherman and Michael Snow as well as their photographic images Light and Photomedia places the reader in a new history and future which although mostly overlooked by the canon of photomedia theory is an essential line of enquiry for contemporary thinking and dialogue in photography

The Law of Rights of Light Michael Barnes KC, 2016-04-21 The book provides the authoritative statement on the current law on rights of light in England and Wales The protection of the access of natural light to properties has been a part of our property law for centuries but in recent years has come into particular prominence This is due to a number of reasons including the existence of easements of light being regarded as an inhibition on new development and the unsatisfactory nature of parts of the law on this subject This has given rise to two reports in recent years by the Law Commission one on easements generally in 2011 and one on rights of light specifically in 2014 both containing major proposals for law reform The purpose of this legal textbook is to explain the law as clearly as possible In practice rights of light issues and disputes involve technical subjects and inevitably answers to these questions require the expertise of technical experts such as light surveyors An attempt is made in the book to explain from a non technical point of view the way in which measurements and calculations are carried out in this area It is therefore hoped that the book will be of use to lawyers as well as to landowners who may not always understand these technical subjects and to surveyors who may not always be familiar with the legal concepts and difficulties involved in the area of the law of rights of light

The Gloves Robert Anasi, 2025-09-23 Robert Anasi's The Gloves offers a gritty spirited inside look at the world of amateur boxing today The Golden Gloves tournament is center stage in amateur boxing a single elimination contest in which young hopefuls square off in steamy gyms with the boxing elite looking on Anasi took up boxing in his twenties to keep in shape attract women and sharpen his knuckles for the odd bar fight He thought of entering the Gloves but put it off Finally at age thirty two his last year of eligibility he vowed to fight although he was an old man in a sport of teenagers and a light man who had to be even lighter 125 pounds to fight others his size So begins Anasi's obsessive preparation for the Golden Gloves He finds Milton a wily and abusive trainer and joins Milton's Supreme Team a black teenager who used to deal guns in Harlem a bus driver with five kids a hard hitting woman champion who becomes his sparring partner Meanwhile he observes the changing world of amateur boxing in which investment bankers spar with ex convicts and everyone dreads a fatal blow to the head With the Supreme Team he goes to the tournament whose outcome it seems is rigged like so much in boxing life today Robert Anasi tells his story not as a journalist on assignment but as a man in the midst of one of the great adventures of his life The Gloves his first book has the feel of a contemporary classic
