Houston Johnson, 2019-02-21 Taking Flight explores the emergence of commercial aviation between the world wars and in the midst of the Great Depression to show that the industry's dramatic growth resulted from a unique combination of federal policy technological innovations and public interest in air travel Historian M Houston Johnson V traces the evolution of commercial flying from the US Army's trial airmail service in the spring of 1918 to the passage of the pivotal Air Commerce Act of 1938 Johnson emphasizes the role of federal policy particularly as guided by both Herbert Hoover and Franklin Roosevelt to reveal the close working relationship between federal officials and industry leaders as well as an increasing dependence on federal assistance by airline airframe and engine manufacturers Taking Flight highlights the federal government's successful efforts to foster a nascent industry in the midst of an economic crisis without resorting to nationalization a path taken by virtually all European countries during the same era It also underscores an important point of continuity between Hoover's policies and Roosevelt's New Deal a sharp departure from many interpretations of Depression era business history and shows how both governmental and corporate actors were able to harness America's ongoing fascination with flying to further a larger economic agenda and facilitate the creation of the world's largest and most efficient commercial aviation industry This glimpse into the golden age of flight contributes not only to the history of aviation but also to the larger history of the United States during the Great Depression and the period between the world wars The Search for Social Salvation Gary Scott Smith, 2000-01-01 In their studies of social Christianity scholars of American religion have devoted critical attention to a group of theologically liberal pastors primarily in the Northeast Gary Scott Smith attempts to paint a more complete picture of the movement Smith's ambitious and thorough study amply demonstrates how social Christianity which included blacks women Southerners and Westerners worked to solve industrial political and urban problems reduce racial discrimination increase the status of women curb drunkenness and prostitution strengthen the family upgrade public schools and raise the quality of public health In his analysis of the available scholarship and case studies of individuals organizations and campaigns central to the movement Smith makes a convincing case that social Christianity was the most widespread long lasting and influential religious social reform movement in American history The Essential

Airlines and Air Mail F. Robert van der Linden,2014-07-11 Conventional wisdom credits only entrepreneurs with the vision to create America s commercial airline industry and contends that it was not until Roosevelt s Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 that federal airline regulation began In Airlines and Air Mail F Robert van der Linden persuasively argues that Progressive republican policies of Herbert Hoover actually fostered the growth of American commercial aviation Air mail contracts provided a critical indirect subsidy and a solid financial foundation for this nascent industry Postmaster General Walter F Brown used these contracts as a carrot and a stick to ensure that the industry developed in the public interest while guaranteeing the survival of the pioneering companies Bureaucrats entrepreneurs and politicians of all stripes are thoughtfully portrayed in this thorough chronicle of one of America s most resounding successes the commercial aviation industry GMAT CAT Preparation Guide Jerry Bobrow,William A.
