Guns And Violence The English Experience:

Guns and Violence Joyce Lee Malcolm, 2009-06-01 Behind the passionate debate over gun control and armed crime lurk assumptions about the link between guns and violence Indeed the belief that more guns in private hands means higher rates of armed crime underlies most modern gun control legislation But are these assumptions valid Investigating the complex and controversial issue of the real relationship between guns and violence Joyce Lee Malcolm presents an incisive thoroughly researched historical study of England whose strict gun laws and low rates of violent crime are often cited as proof that gun control works To place the private ownership of guns in context Malcolm offers a wide ranging examination of English society from the Middle Ages to the late twentieth century analyzing changing attitudes toward crime and punishment the impact of war economic shifts and contrasting legal codes on violence She looks at the level of armed crime in England before its modern restrictive gun legislation the limitations that gun laws have imposed and whether those measures have succeeded in reducing the rate of armed crime Malcolm also offers a revealing comparison of the experience in England experience with that in the modern United States Today Americans own some 200 million guns and have seen eight consecutive years of declining violence while the English prohibited from carrying weapons and limited in their right to self defense have suffered a dramatic increase in rates of violent crime This timely and thought provoking book takes a crucial step in illuminating the actual relationship between guns and violence in modern society

Against the State Llewellyn H. Rockwell Jr., 2014-06-01 Against the State An Anarcho Capitalist Manifesto diagnoses what is wrong with the American political system and tells us what we need to fix things The cure is a radical one because as the book incontrovertibly shows the many problems that confront us today are no accident They stem from the nature of government itself Only peaceful cooperation based on the free market can rescue us from our present plight Against the State is written by Lew Rockwell the founder of the Mises Institute and LewRockwell.com and the closest friend and associate of Murray Rothbard the leading theorist of anarcho capitalism Rockwell applies Rothbard's combination of individualist anarchism and Austrian economics to contemporary America The book shows how the government is based on war both against foreign nations and against the American people themselves through massive invasions of our liberties Fueled by an out of control banking system the American State has become in essence fascist We cannot escape our predicament through limited government the government is incapable of controlling itself Only a purely private social order can save us and Rockwell succinctly sets out how an anarcho capitalist order would work

A Cultural History of Firearms in the Age of Empire Karen Jones, 2016-03-16 Firearms have been studied by imperial historians mainly as means of human destruction and material production Yet firearms have always been invested with a whole array of additional social and symbolical meanings By placing these meanings at the centre of analysis the essays presented in this volume extend the study of the gun beyond the confines of military history and the examination of its impact on specific colonial encounters By bringing cultural perspectives to bear on this most pervasive of technological artefacts the contributors explore the densely interwoven relationships between firearms and broad processes of social change In so doing they contribute to a fuller understanding of some of the most significant consequences of British and American imperial expansions Not the least original feature of the book is its global frame of reference Bringing together historians of different periods and regions A Cultural History of Firearms in the Age of Empire overcomes traditional compartmentalisations of historical knowledge and encourages the drawing of novel and illuminating comparisons across time and space
