itself is the complement of The Guns of Bull Run. In The Guns of Bull Run the Civil War and its beginnings are seen through the eyes of Harry Kenton who is on the Southern side. In The Guns of Shiloh the mighty struggle takes its color from the view of Dick Mason who fights for the North and who is with Grant in his first great campaign. The Civil War Novels Joseph A. Altsheler, 2009-03. An epic tale of the war between the States. This is volume one incorporating the two novels The Guns of Bull Run and The Guns of Shiloh, the first and second novels of a series of eight adventures which follow the momentous events, campaigns and battles of the great American Civil War between the Northern and Southern states. The central characters of the story are Harry Kenton, an officer in the Confederate Army, and his cousin Dick Mason, a young officer in a similar position fighting within the Union ranks. The narrative of the whole war is charted through the action which embraces many actual players in the real conflict. Beginning with First Bull Run and climaxing at Appomattox, each novel tells the story from an alternate perspective from the ranks of the Blue and then the Grey as the saga unfolds. Altsheler wrote another Civil War novel, Before the Dawn, concerning the fall of Richmond, told from a Confederate perspective. Although this story is not strictly part of the series, Leona has offered it as part of its five volume nine novel collection of the author's Civil War adventures for collectors and readers in complementing designs and soft cover or hard cover. The Civil War Series Book 2 the Guns of Shiloh Joseph Alexander Altsheler, 2013-07-13. The four as they skirted the Southern line noticed no signs of further preparations by the Confederates. No men were throwing up earthworks or digging trenches. As well as they could surmise, the garrison like the besieging army was seeking shelter and rest, and from this fact the keen mind of Colonel Arthur Winchester divined that the defense was confused and headless. Colonel Winchester knew most of the leaders within Donelson. He knew that Pillow was not of a strong and decided nature. Nor was Floyd, who would rank first of great military capacity. Buckner had talent and he had served gallantly in the Mexican War, but he could not prevail over the others. The fame of Forrest, the Tennessee mountaineer, was already spreading, but a cavalryman could do little for the defense of a fort besieged by twenty thousand well equipped men led by a general of unexcelled resolution. All that Colonel Winchester surmised was true. Inside the fort confusion and doubt reigned. The fleeing garrison from Fort Henry had brought exaggerated reports of Grant's army. Very few of the thousands of young troops had ever been in battle before. They too suffered, though in a less degree from cold and fatigue, but many were wounded. Pillow and Floyd, who had just arrived with his troops, talked of one thing and then another. Floyd, who might have sent word to his valiant and able chief Johnston, did not take the trouble or forgot to inform him of his position. Buckner wanted to attack Grant the next morning with the full Southern strength and a comrade of his on old battlefields. Colonel George Kenton seconded him ably. The black bearded Forrest strode back and forth striking the tops of his riding boots with a small riding whip and saying ungrammatically but tersely and emphatically, "We mustn't stay here like hogs in a pen. We must git at 'em with all our men afore they can git at us." The illiterate mountaineer and stock driver had evolved exactly the same principle of war that Napoleon used. The Guns
